Churchill Expected In U.S. For Truman Talks

By John M. Hightower

Washington, Nov. 10, —(AP)— British Prime Minister Churchill is now expected to visit Washington for talks with President Truman early in January about the time congress reconvenes.

Both British and American diplomats believe that if he comes at that time Britain's well-remembered war leader, newly returned to power, will be invited to address a joint session of congress and will accept.

The groundwork for the top level U. S.-British talks is already being laid. This is being done in conversations among American and British officials in London and Paris, including Secretary of State Dean Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, both of whom are attending the U. N. assembly meeting in the French capital.

The line that Churchill will take is becoming apparent from these exchanges as reflected in views of informed diplomats here and in Mr. Churchill's own public statements. His latest, last night, set off a new wave of wonder in Washington, as to whether he may prove

99 REPLIES TO QUESTIONNAIRES

Declared 'Encouraging' For North-South Air Lane Hopes

As of noon Saturday a total of 99 replies had been received at the Chamber of Commerce office in response to the questionnaire, mailed earlier in the week to business and professional people of the Twin Cities, seeking data in support of an application for north-south air service through Monroe. The response to date, according to G. L. Morgan, chairman of the chamber's aviation committee, represents only a return of 12 and one-half per cent of the questionnaires sent out.

The air route to be applied for is from Memphis to New Orleans, via Greenville, Monroe, Natchez and Baton Rouge. Those returning the first 99 questionnaires indicated a total of 3,741 trips made to the cities on the proposed route, and indicated further that, were commercial air transportation available, 3,003 of those trips would be made by air. As was expected, the greatest number of trips were to New Orleans, with Baton Rouge second, Natchez third, Memphis fourth and Greenville last.

"These early returns are most encouraging," Morgan said, "and indicate some interesting possibilities. Assume, for instance, that we receive replies from everyone to whom questionnaires were sent, and that they follow the pattern already set by the early replies. We could then expect nearly 30,000 trips to the five cities mentioned, with about 24,000 of these trips potential airline hauls when the air service becomes available.

"Of course, these surveys are never answered by everyone queried," Morgan continued, "and the replies never factor out in such a neat mathematical pattern. But we are highly pleased with the first returns, and are hoping that the others receiving questionnaires will complete and mail them to the chamber office as early as pos-

'Dead' Woman Is Reported Better

San Francisco, Nov. 10.—(AP)— A 60-year - old widow, pronounced dead Thursday, uttered moaning sounds today—her first sign of possibly returning to consciousness.

Mrs. Theresa Butler, whose "return from death" has drawn wide attention, was reported improved at a hospital from the effect of a lethal dose of sleeping tablets apparently taken in a suicide attempt.

The danger of pneumonia persisted but she had come a long way since Thursday when her body, cold and without detectable pulse, was started to a morgue. Movement of her jaw at the morgue entrance signalled the start of revival attempts.

Dr. Richard Gentry said today that her respiration, pulse and temperature were close to what could be expected in a woman of her age in a coma.

B. B. HENDRIX ACCIDENT VICTIM

Former Monroyan Drowns While Duck Hunting; Burial In Monroe

B. B. Hendrix, 44, a former resident of the Twin Cities but for four years residing in Haughton, La., and employed by the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., was drowned near Shreveport early Saturday when his duck hunting boat capsized.

The body will be sent to Monroe for the funeral but no arrangements had been made Saturday afternoon.

He leaves his father, S. L. Hendrix, resident of Ward 9; his wife, the former Miss Lavinia Inabnet of West Monroe; a son Bobby Hendrix, with the U. S. Marines in Pensacola, Fla.; a brother, C. A. Hendrix, West Monroe and five sisters: Mrs. H. B. Parrish, Mrs. Minnie Berry, Mrs. Foster Pepper, and Mrs. E. H. Parrish, all of West Monroe, and a sister, Mrs. B. F. Devane, Miami, Fla. W. B. Inabnet of Monroe is a brother-in-law.

DIXIE GOVERNORS MEETING IN ARK.

McMath Tosses 'Party Loyalty' Issue Into Hot Springs Meet

Hot Springs, Ark., Nov. 10. —(AP)— Arkansas' young Democratic Governor Sid McMath has tossed the issue of "party loyalty" into the southern governors conference today with a move putting Dixie's anti-Truman leaders on an embarrassing spot.

This political maneuver was engineered by the 39-year-old governor who is one of the few outspoken Truman supporters among the southern governors opening their annual meeting here tomorrow.

The conference has been billed as a meeting in which the president's southern political foes, including Gov. James Byrnes of South Carolina, may seek to line up opposition against Mr. Truman if he runs for the presidency again next year.

But McMath has arranged for the main conference address Monday night to be delivered by a staunch party - line Democrat — House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas.

Rayburn is reported to be preparing an address which will call for the south's leaders to fall in behind the party's presidential nominee — whether he is President Truman or someone else.

Persons close to McMath say Rayburn will lay the loyalty issue on the line as one of a series of Democratic moves to block any anti-Truman revolt which would split

Poll Shows GOP Leaders Favor Taft To Gen. Ike

By Jack Bell

Washington, Nov. 10.—(AP)—An Associated Press poll of Republican national committee members, state party chairmen and G.O.P. governors showed today:

1. Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio leads General Dwight D. Eisenhower, 42 to 25, among party officials willing to express their preference for the Republican presidential nomination.

2. Of those who professed to know or were willing to guess, 54 believe Eisenhower is available for the nomination against 24 who do not.

3. The bulk of the party officials remain uncommitted to any nomination candidate and still are undecided about Eisenhower's future political plans.

Following Eisenhower's inconclusive public statements on political matters on his visit here last week, the Associated Press polled state chairmen and governors, as representative officials who probably will have most to say about the makeup on state delegations to next year's nominating convention.

Of the 169 party officials in this category, 147 were reached and asked this question:

"In connection with General Eisenhower's statement on his recent visit, do you (1) believe him available for the Republican pres-

Fresh Red Attack Pushes Allies From Two Positions

By Sam Summerlin

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sunday, Nov. 11. —(AP)— Elements of a Chinese Red battalion (approximately 800 to 1,000 men) pushed the Allies out of two advance positions on the central front southwest of Kumsong early Saturday as Korean ground action sharpened after a lull.

Others doughboys southeast of Kumsong held their ground, beating off attacks by elements of another Chinese battalion. The fight for three Allied positions lasted six hours, from midnight to 6 a. m.

Allied raiding parties, also operating in early morning darkness, "stormed" Red positions on the western front, an eighth army communique said. The Chinese, however, fiercely resisted with small arms and mortars, causing the Allies to pull back. Artillery then smashed down on the Red positions.

The Korean Red communique, broadcast by the Pyongyang radio, asserted that the U. S. first "armored" division (probably meaning first cavalry) and part of the U. S. third division tried to punch through Communist lines in the Yonchon sector of the western front.

The Red radio said the attack was supported by "many aircraft, tanks and artillery," but the Allied forces suffered "immense losses."

On the eastern front, the U. S. marines celebrated the corps' 176th birthday by blasting a North Korean - held height with bombs, napalm and shells.

The Red stronghold near the much - contested "punchbowl" was dotted with fires after 83 marine planes and nearly every piece of marine artillery gave it the works. Marine ground troops did not attempt to take the hill. An artillery spotter plane trailed a "Happy Birthday" banner over the enemy position.

When the show was over, all hands feasted on cakes flown in by helicopter. Censorship relaxed the ban on unit identification to permit the marines to be named for their birthday celebration.

Also on the eastern front, a Red raiding party was stopped when it

Southern Airways is about to file an application for a new airline from Memphis, Tenn. to New Orleans with stops in Greenville, Monroe, Natchez and Baton Rouge. Cities along the line are asked to show how much travel originates in these midway points and the Monroe Chamber of Commerce is anxious to make a good showing for the Twin Cities.

Questionnaires have been mailed out by the Chamber to members and they are asked to fill out and return which will help in showing definite data as to how much business can be expected here.

This line would meet a well defined need for it would accommodate those who have constant business in Baton Rouge and New Orleans and would prove a great sav-

Boy Drowns In Mud Hole

Cleveland, Miss., Nov. 10. —(AP)— A toy floating in a muddy hole lured 3-year-old Michael Mitchen to his death today. He fell in headfirst and mired up to his waist in the soft, clinging mud.

The body was found by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mitchen, who started searching for him when he failed to answer his mother's call. The hole was dug to transplant a tree.

Mrs. Mitchen said a child's alphabet block was in the hole and apparently Michael was reaching for it when he tumbled over the edge.

French Push Rebels Back In Indo-China

Hanoi, Indo-China, Nov. 10.—(AP)— French forces lashed out from their Hanoi perimeter today and announced they had driven the Communist-led Vietminh from nearly 400 square miles of territory and 60 to 80 villages in the surprise one-day offensive.

A parachute drop soon after dawn resulted in the capture by noon of Choben, 30 miles southwest of Hanoi and the principal town in the rice-growing target area.

Bombers which dropped napalm bombs, three French regimental combat teams and two battalions of Vietnamese soldiers pushed the attack. Many of the troops, following the bombers and parachute troopers, waded waist-deep across rice fields.

In a few dry spots, tanks were employed.

Although Ho Chi Minh's Vietminh had been reported concentrating forces in the area, only "local resistance" was encountered. Most of the Vietminh defense forces, originally estimated at three battalions, apparently fled when planes began dropping bombs on villages where they were believed hiding. Casualties were reported light.

Choben is in the Choben Valley, which skirts the French perimeter

POLICE CHARGE NEGRO

A Negro was being held in the Monroe jail last night in default of a $500 bond after he collided with the Monroe Police Department patrol wagon at the intersection of Eighth and Layton streets. The accident occured at approximately 2 p. m. yesterday.

Hardie Winters, 28, 105 S. Eighth street, was booked on state charges of damaging property belonging to the City of Monroe and reckless driving.

Arab Countries Told They Will Have To Become Members of Command Before Allies Will Help Them Fight Off Aggression

By Carter L. Davidson

Paris, Nov. 10. —(AP)— The western Big Three and Turkey laid down the blueprint for a middle east defense command today and told the countries of that area they will have to join to get help in defending themselves against an aggressor.

A dissenting response came from Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary general of the Arab league, which loosely binds the region's Arab nations. He said in a statement:

"I have never believed that the defense of this area can be forced on its people and be practically possible without their voluntary cooperation and good will, and this can only be realized when the decisions of the Arab league are taken into serious consideration and the national aspirations of the peoples of this area are met and adequately safeguarded."

So far, Egypt and most of the other nations have, for various reasons, turned up their noses at the whole scheme to insulate that strategic region of 70 million per-

15 IRON CURTAIN AGENTS EXPELLED

State Dept. Says It Has Been Vigilant To Prevent Activities

Washington, Nov. 10. —(AP)— The state department said today that it has ousted 15 Iron Curtain diplomats from the United States in the past three years and has been "vigilant to prevent improper activities" on the part of such diplomats in this country.

This declaration was made in a statement replying to criticism by the senate's internal security subcommittee in the case of a Czechoslovak military and air attache here.

The subcommittee said the officer, Col. Oto Biheler, had gathered military information in the United States for more than two years and had made frequent trips in and out of the country even though American intelligence agents had warned of his activities.

The committee said the colonel was recalled to Czechoslovakia last February but that a visa he held would still permit him to return to this country until next February.

On this point, the state department declared "the last visa issued to him (as military and air attache here) is no longer valid as he no longer holds the position stated in the visa." State department officials said he would not be permitted to return here.

The department denied it ever

City Schools To Close For Entire Week

Monroe City Schools will close Friday, November 16, and will not reopen until Monday, November 26, J. M. Boyet, superintendent of the Monroe City Schools, announced.

School will be dismissed Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Nov. 19, 20, and 21, for the Louisiana Education Association convention to be held in Shreveport, and on Nov 22 and 23 for Thanksgiving.

Both white and colored schools will be closed since the colored teachers convention will be held at the same time.

The school board voted to close the schools during the convention period since about 50 per cent of the city teachers indicated their desire to go to the convention.

There were not enough substitutes to take care of absentees for the period, Boyet stated.

In making the announcement, Boyet said that schools will close for the year on May 30. Other holidays to be observed are Christmas, December 22 to Januray 1, both dates inclusive, and Good Friday, he said.

LA. BAPTISTS TO STATE SESSIONS

Convention To Be Held In New Orleans Starting Monday

Kelly, La. Man Killed In Crash

Columbia, La., Nov. 10. —(Special)— A 42-year-old Kelley, La., man was killed instantly as his automobile crashed into a deep ditch just inside the corporate limites of Kelley about 5 p. m. today. He was believed to have lost control of the car when the left wheels apparently locked as he rounded a curve entering his home town.

L. A. Gough, who was traveling alone at the time, was thrown approximately fifteen feet by the impact of the car crashing into the ditch. Caldwell parish coroner, Dr. E. L. Kelly, said he was killed instantly although he was taken to a Columbia hospital.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete tonight pending the arrival of relatives. It will be under the direction of Riser's Funeral Home of Columbia.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Newsom Gough, two children, Shirley Jean and Tom, Kelley; mother, Mrs. Mary Gough, Olla; one brother, Godfrey Gough, Olla; three sisters, Mrs. Gracie Taylor and Miss Lessie Belle Gough, Olla, and Mrs. V. C. Branon, Houston, Texas.

Fire Costly To Kodak

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 10. —(AP)— Hundreds of tons of photographic paper went up in smoke today on the top floor of a fire-resistant building in Kodak Park, headquarters of the Eastman Kodak Company.

About 75 firemen were overcome by the thick smoke. None was injured seriously.

Company officials said the loss in paper alone amounted to about $250,000. It was believed that damage to the block-long building would boost the total to more than $500,000.

Canadian Praised For Surgery Is Probed

By Stan Carter

Tokyo, Sunday, Nov. 11. —(AP)— A lieutenant credited with brilliant feats of surgery aboard the destroyer Cayuga in Korean waters is being returned to Canada for an investigation of whether he really is a doctor.

The Canadian Navy, which he joined in Ottawa last March, lists him as surgeon-Lieut. Joseph Cyr, of Edmundston, New Brunswick.

But New Brunswick authorities said there is record of only one Dr. Joseph Cyr — and he's practicing in Grand Falls, N. B.

New Brunswick authorities asked for an investigation of the surgeon lieutenant's identity and qualifications when newspapers printed accounts of his operations on wounded South Korean soldiers.

Using an operating table in the captain's cabin aboard the Canadian warship, the tall, heavily-built man successfully collapsed the lung of one patient, amputated limbs and removed a bullet one-fourth of an inch away from the heart of another patient.

He was suspended when his identity was challenged.

Looking tired after a 30 - hour train ride from the southern Japanese port of Sasebo, the surgeon lieutenant arrived in Tokyo Saturday, escorted by two officers. They were to leave by Canadian Pacific Airlines for Canada later today.

There are no formal charges against him. He was permitted to tour Tokyo at will Saturday in company with an officer.

He declined to make any com-

Local Celebration Of Armistice Day Slated

By Yvonne Brett

Citizens of Monroe, West Monroe, and north Louisiana will stop Monday, November 12 to observe Armistice Day.

Armistice Day is the anniversary of the cessation of hostilities in World War I and the signing of an armistice between the victorious Allies and Germany.

Ceremonies will be performed at the National Cemetery in Arlington at the grave of the unknown soldier.

This ceremony is a symbol, a mystery and a tribute. He, that lies in this grave, has died for peace and stands for the unselfishness of all.

What were his dreams, his ambitions? Likely he shared those common to the millions: a life of peace and honest struggle, with such small success as comes to most who try; and at the end of the place on the hillside among his fathers.

Today to do honor at his last resting place come the great soldiers of the age, famous statesmen from other continents, the president, the high judges and the legislators of his own country, and many men who, like himself, fought for the flag. And the tomb which Fate reserved for his is, instead of the narrow cell on the village hillside, one as lasting as that of Rameses and as inspiring as Napoleon's.

All the impressive ritual of today would be mockery if we did not believe that, out in an infinity which astronomers cannot

Slate Memorial Services Today For Miss Rogers

Memorial services for Miss Ethel Rose Rogers, former Louisiana State University student, will be held by the Wesley Foundation of the University Methodist Church, Baton Rouge, Sunday at 7 p.m.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James D. Rogers of Coluumbia, have expressed a desire that her friends in this area be notified of the ceremony.

Miss Rogers, whose accidental death occurred November 2 in her dormitory room on the campus, was a graduate student in the school of music. She was a candidate for the master's degree next June, having received the bachelor's degree the preceding spring.

Before enrolling at the university as a piano major, Miss Rogers studied at Northeast State, then a junior college, from which she graduated with honors in the spring of 1949.

Returning to the local college the following summer for special work, she was presented in recital. She was a piano student of Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton and an organ student of James F. Monroe, both of the Northeast State faculty.

RAY PURCELL, SR. JURY CANDIDATE

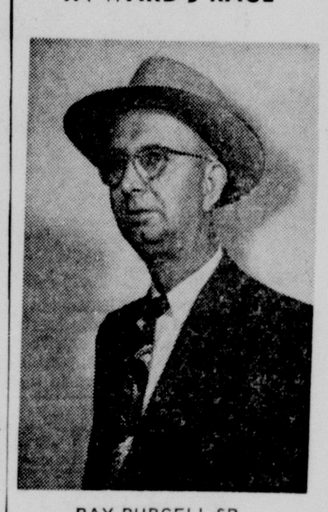

Ward 5 Resident Cites Qualifications; Would Work For Good Of All

Ray Purcell, Sr., employed by the Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, is candidate for one of the three offices as member of Ward 5, police jury of Ouachita parish. He is well and favorably known, but f - the benefit of any voters who may not know him well he submits the following information.

He moved to West Monroe in 1931 and has resided at the same for the last 25 years. He is married and father of two children who are married and reside in Ward 5.

He states that his sole purpose in seeking this office is to endeavor thereby to help make this ward a place in which one may justly be proud to reside. He feels that while progress has been made that there is still room for more improvement.

IN WARD 5 RACE

RAY PURCELL SR.

If elected, Mr. Purcell promises to endeavor to secure the following betterments:

1. For improving many bad roads through gravelling and paving.

2. He asserts he is opposed to increase of taxes of any kind that may come under jurisdiction of the police jury.

3. He assures, if elected, to do his utmost to see that each section of Ward 5 shares impartially in all improvements.

4. It will be his aim as police jury member to see that Ward 5 receives its share of all parish funds available for improvements.

As a member of the police jury, he assures that he will work with the other two members in fullest degree of cooperation.

As to his qualifications, he feels assured that he has an ample amount of common sense; knows justice when he sees it; and has the will to serve the people of his ward, honestly, truthfully and reliably.

His many friends offer this slogan: "We will all go a long way if you will vote for Ray Purcell, Sr. on election day." And finally, Mr. Purchell assures that he is running as an independent candidate.

The modern Olympic Games were first held in Athens, Greece in 1896. They are generally thought to have stemmed from Greek athletic games held during annual festivals around 700 years before Christ.

Our Police Protection

The Monroe police department, as far as manpower is concerned, has hit a low which is, to put it mildly, alarming.

Last Thursday night, for instance, there were five patrolmen and two detectives on duty—seven men to answer every type of call which was received at headquarters and to investigate any trouble which they might have stumbled across in their night's work. That's a woefully weak force to police a city the size of Monroe.

With the holiday season coming on, there will be an upsurge of crime, minor or major. The present force will not be able to cope with the problem which annually arises at this time of the year. Frankly we've been extremely fortunate that a major threat to the security of the community hasn't already arisen. The present condition poses an invitation to crooks to ply their trade with a minimum of interference.

The fault does not lie with the police department nor with the mayor, who is the nominal head of the department. When the budget for the coming year was adopted last summer, Mayor Coon requested an increase in funds so that the department could be operated in an efficient manner. Despite the fact that the city has grown beyond the small-town conception of services to the public, the request for a reasonable amount of money to operate the department was voted down, two to one. The proposed budget for police protection was cut while at the same time other less essential departments—such as the municipal bus system, which is an annual money loser to the tune of thousands of dollars—received substantial increases.

Mayor Coon has said that he is willing to hire additional patrolmen on a temporary basis, but it is difficult to employ capable men without a promise of a degree of permanent security. The mayor is willing to exceed his budget to a certain extent and make it up from some other fund, and about his only alternative under present conditions is to employ older men on a temporary basis. That is an unsatisfactory stopgap but perhaps it's better then nothing.

The only solution is to create more permanent jobs in the police department. That is a problem which we believe is the responsibility of the entire commission council, and it should be attacked at once.

Armistice Day

Armistice Day this year finds American soldiers fighting in Korea — though the war there is described as a "police action" on behalf of the United Nations. Armistice Day this year also finds American troops in Germany and Austria, and U. S. occupying forces are being strengthened in Europe.

This is part of the picture we see as we look beyond our borders on this anniversary of the armistice that brought an end to World War I. What we see at home — and it is only necessary to look about us to realize that our economy has become a war economy — emphasizes the fact that the nation is not at peace.

Thirty-three years ago, when the guns ceased firing, it was thought that the world could look forward to an enduring peace. The nations had been through a long horror. Surely good would come out of this ordeal, it was felt, now that right had triumphed at last. And indeed the air was full of hope and full of purpose to make the peace permanent.

Since then there has been another world conflagration. America made enough mistakes after World War II to put the nation, this Armistice Day, on the brink of another global struggle.

Can anyone predict what the future holds? Whether it is to be war or peace? Answers to these questions must await the months and years that lie ahead.

At Long Last—Maybe

For many years, now, we've been deploring the fact that Monroe hasn't been given proper consideration in the establishment of a north-south air route. All our deploring—and that of the Chamber of Commerce and other civic groups—have been unsuccessful. There have been times when we believed that we "couldn't miss" but something always bobbed up to shatter our hopes.

Now apparently we're getting another chance. Southern Airlines is interested in providing a Memphis-New Orleans flight and the Chamber of Commerce is conducting a survey to determine the passenger potential of such a route. Questionnaires have been mailed to business firms locally to obtain this information. So far the results have been encouraging although only a small number of concerns have returned their questionnaires.

It is imperative that this information be obtained at once so that further conferences with Southern may be arranged with the view toward speedy action.

The proposed flight would include stops at Memphis, Greenville, Monroe, Natchez, Baton Rouge and New Orleans. It is just what we have been seeking for the past several years.

We can find no basis for other lines to oppose Southern's application. Southern apparently is all ready to start operations as soon as preliminary details are completed. It's a project which should attract the support of the entire community and we sincerely hope the Chamber of Commerce gets the cooperation it seeks to obtain this important addition to our transportation facilities.

Poll Season Opens

The season of political polls is starting early. From now until November of next year there will be an endless number of surveys designed to forecast the results of the presidential election.

First to be announced was one conducted by the Country Gentleman magazine with the results printed in the current edition. Field correspondents in 23 states made a spot check, with the result that 71 per cent of rural residents polled said they would not vote for President Truman if he is a candidate for reelection. The usual 7 per cent were undecided.

The farm vote was generally regarded as playing a decisive role in President Truman's victory in 1948. Certainly his chances would be dealth a fatal blow if 71 per cent of the farm vote went against him next year. A large percentage of those polled said they were certain he would run again.

Senator Taft and General Eisenhower were mentioned most often as choices for the Republican nomination in the poll, followed by General MacArthur, Dewey, Warren and Stassen.

Meanwhile Secretary of Agriculture Brannan is making overtures to the farm vote, and will offer a program which he says will insure greater returns for both agriculture and livestock industries, indicating there is concern in administration circles over the situation.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

DUMP TAX COLLECTORS

One of the great economic misfortunes of Europe has been the multiplying of customs barriers which prevent goods from moving from where they are made to where they are needed. They used to have such stations in China to collect the likin, a tax which has played a great part in China's ruin.

Now, we are getting such barriers in many parts of the United States. Often they are disguised as protections against germs or something, but wherever they exist, their purpose is to keep goods of one state from moving into another. They are interstate tariff bureaus.

The great economic strength of the United States heretofore was a result of free communications, of the free movement of American goods from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from Maine to Texas.

Recently, in Massachusetts, a citizen, Raymond S. Redfield, once president of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce, was actually charged with the crime of purchasing eight cartons of cigarettes, two gallons of wine and a quart of gin in Thompsonville, which is just over the Massachusetts line in Connecticut. Also, his car was seized. The court threw the case out, but it can happen again.

According to Redfield, he was in a town called Longmeadow on business the general marketing city for resihome, he went to Thompsonville and made the purchases. The state of Massachusetts had spies on hand who demanded to see the Connecticut purchases.

Springfield in Massachusetts is the general marketing cit yfor residents of that area, which includes towns in Connecticut, and it is now possible that that state will enter upon a war of reprisal all along the border, seizing goods purchased in Massachusetts. It is said that Massachusetts is doing this sart of thing on its borders, which affects Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire, New York and Vermont. It could turn New England into a balkanized region.

New Hampshire caught Massachusetts agents who were spying on Massachusetts citizens and ordered them out of the state.

This is not a question of states rights; it is a question as to whether we live in the United States of America. Suppose a citizen is on a trip from, let us say, New York to Yellowstone, to see America first. Let us say that he stocks up with food, drink, cigarettes and camping equipment. Will he have to pay a customs duty every time he crosses a estate line? Or suppose he buys Indian blankets and toy totem poles in Yellowstone, will he have to pay customs duties every time he crosses a state line? Maybe the A. A. A. will issue an interstate tariff schedule to help its touring members.

Our lives are becoming increasingly and unpleasantly complicated as arious agencies of the federal state and municipal governments require more money. Americans are becoming involved in bookkeeping processes which are a nuisance and, so far as housewives are concerned, become burdensome because they are neither trained nor equipped to handle these chores. Small businesses are unable to carry the personnel necessary to do all the paper work involved in filling out forms and covering the myriads of taxes. They add to their expenses by hiring accountants and lawyers to do it for them.

When states erect barriers against their own citizens and other Americans, they are pursuing a harmful course, one, curiously, which was among the principal causes of the French revolution. The Octroi was such an internal revenue tax which broke the backs of the French people.

An American ought to be free to buy and sell anywhere in the United States. It is true that the automobile makes it possible for a citizen in one state to make purchases in another, and there is nothing wrong about that. The great shops in New York would die of starvation if citizens of New Jersey and Connecticut to say nothing of Pennsylvania and even Massachusetts, were forbidden to purchase here. I do not know the Chicago market as well, but I should imagine that the shops there get a goodly business from Indiana and Wisconsin.

The time is fast coming when an American citizen will wonder whether he is a free man in a free country or is a hounded creature run by a block of tax-grabbing politicians who find a law to use against their superiors. We once had a tea party in Boston over taxes. We might, with good reason, have a few of them in many parts of the country, dumping the tax-collectors instead of the tea.

BIBLE THOUGHTS:

Surely your turning of things upside down shall be estemmed as the potter's clay; for shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not? or shall the thing framed say of him that framed it, He had no understanding?—Isaish 29:16.

He who calls in the aid of any equal understanding, doubles his own; and he who profits of a superior understanding, raises his powers to a level with the height of the superior understanding he units with.—Burke.

SOCIALIZED MEDICINE

One of the several planned economy measures proposed by the administration which the 82nd congress balked at putting into effect was compulsory federal health insurance — or socialized medicine.

Since this "dead duck" will undoubtedly be revived from time to time in the days ahead, it would be well to examine the experience of Great Britain during three years of socialized medicine.

One of the great promises of the Socialists in the 1946 election in Great Britain during three years of all the people. The British, just like many of us in this country, had not been satisfied with their health conditions, but in accepting this promise and in electing the Socialists to office, they adopted a cure that was much worse than the disease.

To quote the actual words of a well-known doctor of Wolverhampton, England, who recently gave up practice, "Medicine is going backwards. To make an adequate living you have to have so many patients that you can't look after them properly. What has worried me most is not being able to prescribe for my patients what I think is good for them. Instead, we are supplied with a list of what we are permitted to prescribe and I find myself thinking not what is good for a patient but whether the particular prescription is on the list. That is bad medicine."

The impersonal state simply cannot either usurp or delegate the personal functions of the doctor, in his personal relationships with his patients, without provoking social calamity.

After three years of socialized medicine in Great Britain, there are still not enough doctors, or nurses, or hospitals, or clinics to render efficient service. The doctors are grossly underpaid and overworked. This "free" service is costing the British taxpayers $1,120 million, compared with their estimate for the first year of $487 million. It is officially admitted there are over 500,000 patients waiting for entrance to the hospitals.

Under government control, the profession of medicine is inexorably losing its independence, its integrity, and its indispensable privacy in the relationship between doctor and patient. The profession is cluttered up with orders, rules and regulations. It is administratively overwhelmed in an avalanche of forms, questionnaires, certificates and card-index filing systems which reduce the doctor to impotence and the patient to despair. The profession is no longer master in its own house.

There have been indications for some time now that the taxpayers of Great Britain are beginning to realize that through socialized medicine they are facing a financial crisis, that they are paying far too much for too little, that socialized medicine is not the answer. Undoubtedly, most all the doctors and a great many of the patients, are alike bewildered and viciously frustrated. Perhaps they will yet wake up to the righteous implications of Spencer's classic generalization which reminded his fellow countrymen that "the ultimate result of sheilding folk from folly is to fill the world with fools."

I do not believe that the British people, or the people in this country, are fools; I do not believe they can be misled by rascals and so-called "do-gooders" indefinitely. The real point at issue is not free medicine, which is a palpable lie, but freedom in medicine, which is an eternal and fundamental truth.

Whether the British under Conservative party rule will be able to rid themselves of socialized medicine remains to be seen, but certainly we have no reason to accept any such situation in this country. The lesson that should be very clear to us from the experience of the British under three years of socialized medicine is that our salvation, in medicine as well as elsewhere, lies in our own hands and not in the hands of a bureaucratic government. It should not be necessary to point out to us any further than by Britain's experience that socialized medicine is simply another milestone on the Socialist road to slavery.

IN HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, November 10. - I'm sure that most Hollywoodites would agree with me that the most colorful man in show-business today is not an actor, but a studio executive. His name is Howard Hughes.

For nearly three years, he's been the absolute czar of RKO, yet veteran, highly - placed employees of that studio assure me that he has yet to step foot on the lot. There are not half a dozen men in his employ who know the exact address of his present residence. Not even the studio's associate producers or department heads can get a direct phone call through to him; they have to leave messages for him and, if he judges the matter important enough, he will call back at his convenience, which, more often than not, will be sometime between midnignt and six a. m. Apparently, he transacts most of his business while other men are - or would like to be - asleep.

Don't jump to the conclusion, however, that Hughes pays little attention to the affairs of RKO. Quite the contrary! Despite his enormous holdings in other industries, he insists on seeing every day's "rushes." The film is taken to him, and returned to the studio, by one of his few intimates; he never comes to RKO to see it. He maintains close personal supervision over every script, has the final okay on all casting, personally checks all production budgets. He even demands that a complete list of all the reviewers who attend a showing of any RKO picture must be sent to him, though no one, to date, has been able to figure out why he wants the names.

The more one hears about Hughes, the more it seems that he is consistent in only one thing —his complete lack of consistency. One of the wealthiest men in the world, he drives an aged, cheap car that would be scorned by the average $65 - a - week clerk. Famous for his adoration of beautiful women, he still has managed to avoid marriage. Insistence on trivial economies in the production of a picture, he will waste hundreds of thousands in experimenting with new endings.

Truly, he's an amazing man, and I can think of no story that his studio could produce which would be more interesting than that of his own fantastic career.

One of the last scenes filmed for Stanley Kramer's "My Six Convicts" was a memorable one for veteran stage and screen actor Millard Mitchell. In it, despite his twenty-three years of acting experience, he did his first kissing chores. "Well," asked the lady in the case, Actress Grace Lenard, after the bussing had been performed to the director's satisfaction, "How does it seem to be a 'great lover?'" Mitchell pondered the question gravely, then replied: "I feel just like an old maid must when she finally gets married in the twilight of her career!"

Robert Mitchum, in Colorado for location work on "The Korean Story," took advantage of a day off to visit the historic old mining town of Cripple Creek. There he met an old-timer named John Smithlin, and this old timer, like all the others, had a story that he considered perfect picture-making material. His was in the form of a diary. Rather than offend the oldster, Mitchum took the story and agreed to look it over. After reading it, there was no question of sparing the author's feelings. To his complete amazement, Mitchum found it to be, in his opinion, one of the finest movie yarns he's ever read. He immediately paid Smithlin a round sum for a ninety-day option and sent the story on to RKO's big boss, Howard Hughes. All of which merely proves, I suppose, that good stories are found in very unexpected ways and places.

It's amusing how a certain type of role will stick, like the proverbial burr, to the actor or actress who plays it. Consider, for instance, the number of pictures in which you've seen June Allyson, actually the mother of two children, play girls in their early teens. She thought for a moment that she'd escaped from pigtails when she was assigned her present part in "The Girl In White," and so she had, until the picture's producer decided to use an introductory sequence, showing her as a sixteen - year - old school girl. "Again!" exclaimed Miss Allyson reproachfully, reminding the producer that she's just finished impersonating a fourteen - year - old in "Too Young To Kiss."

"What are you complaining about?" grinned Producer Armand Deutsch. "You've aged two years in less than three months!"

Declines In Meat Prices Are Shown

Seasonal increases in livestock marketings promise good buys in meat some already being in evidence, the American Meat Institute reported today.

"Pork prices have been steadily declining at wholesale," said the institute, "and have dropped sharpvy since midsummer. In the basic Chicago market loins were down 17 per cent, skinned hams 15 per cent, picnics 19 per cent, cured bacon 29 per cent. The pork, incidentally, is of excellent quality and declines are expected to continue from now on through the winter as a near - record pig crop comes to market.

"This seasonal increase in the availability of pork, plus a seasonal increase in receipts of cattle, is expected to influence the price of beef also. Some grades of beef —especially those providing lean cuts suitable for braising — already have registered declines placing them several cents a pound below wholesale ceiling prices in many cities.

"Increasing numbers of fed cattle, producing better grades of beef also are starting to come to market."

ON THE WRONG TRACK

Bismarck, N. D.—(AP)— August Lang of Bismarck heard a train whistle as his car approached a crossing. He looked to his left and saw a switch engine bearing down on him. Lang quickly turned his car to avoid being hit.

He found himself driving down the tracks in front of the engine.

Lang finally forced the car over onto another set of tracks. He then jumped into a ditch and was unhurt. The damage was four tires ruined and a steering mechanism thrown out of whack.

HANDY LOCATION

Wooster, O. —(AP)— Mrs. Robert Ebert lives opposite the Wooster Coflege folf course, a handy location for her hobby.

She collects lost golf balls, now has 1,449 of them. She found most of them in the off-course rough. One day she found 14.

She says she plays a little golf herself but always keeps her eye on the ball. Chances are if she lost one she'd find it herself.

Man Playing With Words

Times Square: Time is a relentless and ruthless sculptor. Its imperceptible touch carves wrinkles, shapes the contours of mountains and even changes the street of a city . . . Times Square was once the queen of the Big Town. Gay as laughter. Glittering like stars . . . Today it has the qualities of a hag. What had been a monument to the highest forms of entertainment is now a faded landmark. The array of penny arcades, cheap movie mosques and orange juice stands are the fossils of a resplendent era. Its sole glory is confined to the memories of those who recall its bygone charm and excitement . . . There is still a swirl of activity and lights gleam in the night—but the sounds are discordant and neons only illuminate a shabby scene. It is like the day after a parade—when confetti has become rubbish.

The Skyscrapers: The lanky towers have achieved world-wide renown. Fabulous giants inspiring legendary tales around the world . . . Observation roofs present an impressive jagged tapestry. Yet it is only a compelling sight for visitors. The horizons of those working there are bounded by office walls. The business tempo has a breakneck pace. Elevators zoom like firghtened birds. Revolving doors execute their dizzy journeys. There is an incessant hubbub . . . The zig-zag of lights after dusk sketches a shimmering graph . . When moonlight ignites the darkened buildings — they glow in the night like gigantic halos.

Central Park: This is an island of repose bounded by a stone-and-steel sea . . . Children frolic on the lawns. Promenaders find joy in strolling through the lanes. An artist captures an instant of perfection by sketching a bird balanced on a branch. The jewelry of sunlight is reflected in the lake. Singing winds hum their love songs to the trees . . . Night fills the park with a sense of mystery and danger. Dancing shadows engage in a grotesque ballet . . . All of these things are welcome contrasts to a metropolis dedicated to materialistic achievements. The primeval forces are still mightier than man - made wonders. There is more ingenuity in the growing of a single blade of grass — than the erection of a skyscraper.

St. Patrick's Cathedral: Its architectural majesty is highlighted by spires resembling hands in prayer. Fragments of fiery sunlight glow in staned glass windows. The reverent hush makes the uproar of surrounding streets seem like echoes of distant lands . . . The planet is shaken by the flame and thunder of destructive elements. Yet humans can still discover a world of peace in the solace of prayer. . . . A place of worship becomes an invincible spiritual fortress — stronger than any weapon. For here is the reminder that nations will never attain peace—until individuals find it within their souls.

Harlem: There is no hiding place that seems so impenetrable as poverty. It holds a million bitter secrets — compounded of personal tragedies locked in heavy hearts . . . Out of the hearts of such people is woven a tattered fabric which deprives them of humanity's essential warmth. The threads of a grim daily existence weave a shabby cloak of life with more shadows than highlights . . . You can discern the obvious clues of misery in every dismal tenement. You can observe the melancholy evidence along every teeming street . . . Only those who have lost faith in mankind will fail to be appalled. Here is a burning scar across a great city that cries for help. It is a plea for simple decency. And you can hear it with your conscience.

Fifth Avenue: Streets tend to develop certain characteristics. This thorofare's outstanding quality is an aristocratic, colorful dignity. . . Its commercial assets are displayed with artistic fidelity. Superior products from every nation are being marketed — the results of myriad skills and imaginations. . . . This is the kingdom of the business world. Here are castles of the modern commercial realm. And you can see its crown jewels in almost every shopwindow.

Wall Street: A nation is as strong as its monetary foundation. The economy of each country inscribes vital chapters in the biography of civilization. . . . Within the few blocks comprising Wall street's shadowy canyons are cardiographs of the world's financial heartbeats. The slightest tremor in the news is picked up by sensitive tickers. The activities of farms and industries, the words of presidents and actions of dictators, wars and revolutions — the ebb and flow of history are recorded in commercial form. . . . Individual hopes and ambitions are translated in dollars and cents. The plot of the world's financial story is written in numerals. Yet the cold statistics are reflections of events made of flesh, blood and agony.

The Subway: This engineering wonder also represents a tribute to the essential vigor of humans. Not even caged animals are the victims of such discomforts. People are mauled, shoved and crowded into moving dungeons. . . . The air is stale and dusty. The tempo is turbulent. A million angry sounds aim to infuriate nervous systems. It is an insult to human dignity. . . . But the average subwayfarer deserves admiration as well as pity. For he absorbs this daily punishment with grim tranquility. While standing hip-to-hip he concentrates on reading a newspaper —or carries on a shouted conversation above the mechanical clatter. . . . However, you can detect evidence of the ordeal by studying

In Washington With

BASCOM TIMMONS

General Dwight D. Eisenhower is facing the same kind of a military quandary in Europe which hampered General Douglas MacArthur in Korea, and contributed in no small part to President Truman's decision to recall him—the question whether the United States military forces in Europe, which are now the bulwark of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, known as NATO, shall be under the orders of a United Nations committee on collective security.

That problem was one of the reasons for Eisenhower's visit here this week. What instruction he took back to Paris with him—if any—is not known, but it is deemed more than likely that the state department couldn't give a straight out answer.

In MacArthur's case, despite the overwhelming preponderance of U. S. troops under his command, he had to submit major policy decisions to the United Nations through the joint chiefs of staff in Washington, which meant in most instances that by the time U. N. had acted, the opportunity for military action in Korea was gone. The decision of the Chinese Communists to jump into the war against MacArthur's then victorious forces may have been prompted by the knowledge that the U. N. army could not advance further against it without a decision from a group sitting in New York City, awed by the trumped up threat that Russia would join the war.

The U. N. group is known as the "collective measures committee" and, like many other of the myriad divisions of the United Nations has received little attention. Russia does not have a representative on the 14 member committee, but the report which it has made does not contain much satisfaction for General Eisenhower, who finds that its recommendations are ever more rigid than those applied to General MacArthur's forces in Korea.

Most intolerable to Ike, or to any other American commander, is the proposal that if the European commander failed to act within the scope of what it describes as United Nations policies, he could be removed by United Nations authority. U. N. does not have that authority over the Korean commander, though President Truman was undoubtedly acting under some United Nations pressure, particularly from Britain, in his removal of MacArthur.

It must be recalled that such reports go to the United Nations security counsel on which Soviet Russia and its satellites are represented. The U. N. meeting in Paris will review it and since it already has the backing of the "collective measures committee," Secretary of State Dean Acheson will find himself in an embarrassing situation, since any plan of action approved by the U. N. council is binding on the United States.

Military spokesmen, who have been highly apprehensive ever since the significance of the report became apparent, have speculated that its approval could lead to General Eisenhower's immediate resignation, a possibility which may have prompted his hurried trip here for consultation.

At this time, with congress not in session, the proposal that the United States which has provided arms and men and millions of dollars in military aid for Europe, should take the final step of placing all of this under the remote control of the United Nations, has other branches of government in confusion. Any affirmative action taken at this time could have a terrific kickback when congress reconvenes and leave the whole North Atlantic Pact defense setup dangling in the air.

It raises sharply the question of how far the United States is willing to go in relinquishing its sovereignty under the United Nations program to preserve peace.

More about stars and bars—A flag vendor along the route of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburg when they arrived had an armful of American, British and Confederate flags.

A man who asked him reported that he was selling three Confederates for each American and British.

You can't tell—When Frank McKinney of Indianapolis, new chairman of the Democratic National Committee talked to the press he emphasized that he did not seek the job, it sought him.

"When it was first mentioned to me, I thought somebody was playing a big joke on me," he said.

"You may find out that somebody was," remarked a straight-faced reporter.

Miss Grace Attacks Long In Morgan City Address

By The Associated Press

Miss Lucille May Grace, candidate for governor, said Gov. Earl K. Long was ready to compromise the tidelands issue "in order to work with and appease the bureaucrats in Washington."

Speaking at Morgan City yesterday (Saturday), Miss Grace said Long was "ready to compromise the tidelands on a basis of 37½ per cent of ⅛ royalty."

Of the governor's nephew, Sen. Russell Long, Miss Grace said his "efforts have been so weak that he failed completely to get a bill out of the senate committee."

Miss Grace added "if the Socialists in Washington get by with this (the Tidelands 'grab') "we can say goodbye to our democratic form of government."

In an address at Franklin, Miss Grace reiterated previous charges that current highway 90 work is the "cheapest kind of patchwork and piddling. . .a few squirts of black top here and there."

She would re-organize the highway department and "see that it is placed on a pay - as - you -go basis."

Lt. Gov. William Dodd, also a candidate for governor, said Louisiana came very near losing its old-age pension when Govern Long, Dodd said, transferred $10,000,000 from the welfare department to the highway department.

Dodd made the statement in a stump speech at Amite yesterday on the final day of a four-day tour of southeast Louisiana.

"The federal government requires the state to put up welfare money three months in advance before they match the amount" Dodd asserted. "When the governor transferred $10,000,000 from the welfare department to the highway department we came dangerously close to losing our old-age pensions."

At Alexandria, "James McLemore Day" was celebrated yesterday by proclamation of the mayor. McLemore, Alexandria cattleman, reviewed his platform in his gubernatorial campaign.

He said the Alexandria rally was "only one of the finest examples of the steps Louisiana citizens are taking in breaking the grip of political machines in the state."

Voting machines for every precinct in the state were advocated by Judge Robert F. Kennon. The Minden candidate for governor, speaking at Lake Arthur, said the installation of voting machines would lessen the probability of irregularities at the polls.

Kennon said the ballot-box method of tabulating election returns as "old-fashioned" and he compared the system with that of a business-man who keeps his sales receipt in a barrel and wades through them at the end of the month.

Rep. Hale Boggs (D. -La.) and one of his chief supporters, Senator Long, spoke at Elton.

Boggs said "Louisiana needs a governor who will lead the way. It is the governor's responsibility. He gets the credit and receives the blame. There are all kinds of things that need doing in Louisiana and a lot of changes that need to be made."

Without naming his opponent specifically, Boggs launched an attack on Judge Carlos Spaht, Baton Rouge, who has the support of Governor Long.

He said "this man (Spaht) tells you he is for continuing everything the present administration has done, and again he tells you he is for civil service, when his chief sponsor (Governor Long) is the person responsible for killing civil service."

Senator Long told the Elton audience that "I take my reputation on the Hale Boggs ticket."

State Sen. Dudley J. LeBlanc, said "I don't care what my opponents say, I am the leading candidate for governor." He spoke at Opelousas.

"They (his opponenets) are attacking me and will use every means at their command to hurt my political cause because they know I am the man to beat."

STEERING GROUP REJECTS RED BID

Russian Move To Seat Red China At U. N. Is Outvoted

Paris, Nov. 10.—(AP)—A 14-nation steering committee today snubbed Russia's renewed bid to seat Red China in the United Nations. Over heated Russian objections, the committee approved an American-backed plan to bar debate on the subject in the current general assembly.

It was the first time the steering committee had approved a gag on a major issue. Many delegates felt it useless to discuss the seating of Red China further while Communist Chinese troops are shooting U. N. soldiers in Korea and stalling in truce talks.

Delegates of eleven nations—the United States, Britian, France, Nationalist China, Norway, Thailand, Chile, Mexico, Dominican Republic, Iraq and Canada—voted for the ban. The Soviet Union and Poland voted against it. Yugoslavia, the 14th member, abstained.

The decision will go next week to the 60-nation general assembly, where it is expected to be ratified after another blast from the Russians.

The committee also recommended:

1. Assembly consideration for Yugoslavia's complaint of "hostile acts" by Russia against Premier Marshal Tito's government. The vote was 12 to 2 (Russia and Poland). It came after a furious assault by the Soviet bloc delegates on the "Tito clique."

2. A full airing of the western big three proposal for arms limitation and reduction, which formed a key part of President Truman's peace plan broadcast last Wednesday night. There was no debate.

3. Also a full debate on the Soviet peace package calling for a world - wide disarmament conference, for a cease-fire in Korea now and withdrawal of all foreign troops in three months, and for a big five peace pact.

The Soviet item was passed on to the assembly without a vote after U. S. elegate Warren R. Austin demanded the right to reply in the political committee to what he said were mistakes in Vishinsky's speech on the U. N. plan for atomic energy control. Vishinsky said the Americans do not want to prohibit atomic bombs. Austin said the Americans favor the U. N. plan and it specifically calls for prohibition of the bombs after controls are set up.

The committee fight on Chinese representation was brief but intense. Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand, chairman of the assembly economic committee, proposed that the assembly reject the request of the Soviet Union for the inclusion in the assembly's work sheer of an item called "The Representation of China in the United Nations."

Monroe Police Holding Three Negroes In Jail

Three Negro men were being held in the city jail on two charges each of theft of batteries from the Joe Pendleton Service Station, 1608 DeSiard street. Bond for each was set at $200.

City detectives who arrested the trio yesterday morning said that they had taken batteries from a truck which was at the service station sometime late Friday night or early Saturday morning. They were arrested at 1200 DeSiard street.

The three Negroes being held were Henry Greer, 26, Grammont street; Jimmie Jones, 26, 900½ Pine street and Henry Ervin, 24, 1904 Flynn street.

4-H CLUB YOUTH IS GIVEN AWARD

Leslie Bickham Declared State's Outstanding 4-H Stock Grower

Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Leslie Bickham of St. Francisville was presented the radio station WWL award here today as Louisiana's outstanding 4-H club livestock grower of 1951.

The presentation highlighted today's closing session of the All-State livestock show, held at Louisiana State University in connection with the annual Dixie jubilee horse show.

The award, which has been given by the New Orleans radio station for more than a decade, was handed the 17-year-old youngster by George Shannon, WWL's farm services director.

The prize: A pure - bred heifer bull from the herd of John Shackleford of Jones, La.

Bickham, aside from competing with stock growers his own age, has defeated many adult exhibitors at fairs throughout the state. His stock displayed here included a Chester white boar adjudged grand champion in its class.

The horse show, meanwhile, picked up pace tonight. Finals are scheduled tomorrow night, with the best of 372 animals from a score of states displaying their wares for ribbons.

The livestock exhibit was brought to a close with judging in sheep and Aberdeen - Angus and Red Polled cattle. The cattle will be kept on exhibition until late Sunday.

First place livestock winners included:

Aberdeen-Angus.

Champion bull—Prince Envious of Inglewood, owned by Inglewood plantation, Alexandria; Reserve, Prince Marydale, Marydale farms, St. Francisville.

Champion female—Jo-Wil - Ma's Pride, Marydale; Reserve, Marydale Elba, Marydale.

Red Polled.

Champion bull — Shady Oaks' Andy Shady Oaks stock farm, Jonesboro.

Champion female—Shady Oaks' Beauty, Shady Oaks.

Sheep.

Champion and Reserve Rams and Champion Ewe—entries of L. and F. stock farm, St. Francisville. Reserve Ewe, by R. H. Daniels of St. Francisville.

Winners in eight equestrian contests, meanwhile, were announced.

Miss Elaine Douglass of New Orleans captured the blue ribbon in the senior horsemanship event for youngsters 13 through 17 years of age. The junior event for boys and girls under 12 went to Shannon Ricks of Hot Springs, Ark.

First place winners in six other classes included:

Senior walking mares — Miss America, owned by Mrs. M. G. Ohrel of Bellevue, Colo.

Senior five-gaited stallions and geldings — Star of Rosehaven, owned by C. E. Duffield of Tyler, Tex.

Senior walking geldings—Talk Of The Town, owned by L. A. Chemmell and E. P. Riley of Gainesville, Ga.

Roadmaster mares, single to bike — Blythe Spirit, owned by Blythewood farms of Harrodsburg, Ky.

1 BIGGER POLICE PAYROLL

Singapore —(AP)— Singapore's police bill for 1952 will rise by almost $3,500,000.

High salaries and allowances for the rank and file, the formation of a special constabulary of 1,659 officers and men, a stronger Volunteer Special Constabulary and the appointment of 94 inspectors are the cause.

The first marine corps recruiting station was a smoke-filled waterfront rendezvous known as Tun Tavern on South Water street in Philadelphia.

Former Marshall At O. G. Is Dead

Oak Grove, La., Nov. 10.—(Special)—John W. Bradley, 74, a lifelong resident of West Carroll parish and a former city marshall of Oak Grove, died at 9:45 a.m. today at his home here.

Mr. Bradley has been a resident of Oak Grove for the past 45 years and was a member of the Oak Grove Methodist Church.

Funeral services will be held for Mr. Bradley in the Oak Grove Methodist Church, with the Rev. R. L. Clayton officiating. Interment will follow under the direction of the Walters Funeral Home, of Oak Grove. Exact time for the services have not yet been set, pending arrival of relatives.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, John Wayne and Walton Bradley, of Oak Grove, and Tom Bradley, of New Orleans; four daughters, Betty Bradley, of Oak Grove; Mrs. Katherine Zerlin, of New Orleans; Mrs. B. M. Hutto, of Charleston, S. C.; and Mrs. Henry Messenger, of Bastrop; two sisters, Mrs. Birdie Conn, of Ruston; and Mrs. Katie Grimes, of Pocatello, Idaho; and one brother, Walter Bradley, of Oak Grove.

Another Crack At Mitchum Desired

Colorado Springs, Colo., Nov. 10.—(AP)—A soldier reportedly kicked in the head by Movie Actor Robert Mitchum during a bar-room brawl said today "I'd be interested in a return match."

Pvt. Bernard B. Reynolds, who hails from Fairfield, Conn., told reporters he prefers to fight with his fists and has fought in 61 professional bouts.

Mitchum, who is making a movie in the Colorado Springs area, admitted battling with the soldier in a tavern in the Alamo Hotel Wednesday night but said he did not kick Reynolds.

The soldier has been in the Camp Carson hospital for observation but officers said he has no fractures. Reynolds talked with newspapermen today for the first time since the fight, meeting them in the office of Capt. Ben Taylor, base public information officer.

Mitchum was not present, nor was any official of the R-K-O picture outfit.

More Meteorites Are Seen In N. M.

Albuquerque, Nov. 10.—(AP)— Still another fireball cut a flaming trail across southwestern skies early today.

Scientific observers, hunting fragments of an unusual series of apparent meteorites, reported the object was seen over northern New Mexico.

It was the eighth such phenomenon viewed over this region within the past 13 days.

Witnesses told Dr. Lincoln La Paz at the University of New Mexico that the bluish green ball of fire appeared to travel northwest before dropping to earth.

La Paz, head of the Institute of Meteoritics, said on the basis of an incomplete check that the object may have fallen in southwestern Colorado near Durango.

La Paz has described the series of meteoritic displays as "the most remarkable concentration reported in historic times." The normal rate is one every three or four months, he said.

glazed expressions of many weary faces — and the emptiness in their eyes.

Greenwich Village: The narrow, winding serpent of streets is flanked by numerous relics of the gaslight period. . . . Some of the magical names in art and literature once made their home here. And it is still inhabited by talented hopefuls who might emulate such predecessors. But for every possible genius there are a dozen bums. The bizarre humans who have the fanatic intensity of lunatics and the morals of jungle habitues. They mistake depravity for passion and believe artistry demands a form of idiocy. They live in a world surrounded by mirrors — where they see only their strange illusions. . . . After midnight they are crammed into cheap bars — clutching despair with alcoholic paralysis. They are rootless people who constantly discuss life — and have never learned to live.

Broadway at Dawn: When night and day meet on the horizon, the Grandest Canyon has a soft brightness. It seems as if streets were lit by candlelight. . . . The Main Stem's glittering billboards and excitement are the sources of its fame. Strangely, it becomes most fascinating when mazdas are dimmed and blinded marquees sleep in the almost zephyr - like atmosphere. The midnight carnival has ended and the festival of peace reigns supreme. . . . The steady throb of traffic disturbs the serenity. But it's so quiet you can hear footsteps of passersby. What is blissful serenity for some, is gnawing loneliness for others. While lovers find contentment, torch-carriers are gripped by misery. Where poets find inspiration, failures discover depression. . . . Broadway is a playground and fairyland. It is also a blind alley and graveyard for hopes. It is Heaven and Hell.

"HIGH" DUCKS

POLL SHOWS

idential nomination; (2) if so, do you favor his nomination; (3) if not, whom do you favor?

Answers to the first question showed a wide area of indecision and doubt among the party officials about the general's plans. Sixty-nine either said they can't guess his intentions or declined to comment at all.

The 54 who said they believe Eisenhower will be a candidate — some of them attached conditions — included 14 national committeemen, 12 committeewomen, 15 state chairmen and 13 governors.

Of the 24 who were pretty sure Eisenhower won't run, six are national committeemen, seven are committeewomen, nine are state chairmen and two are governors. Participating in the poll were 44 committeemen, 37 committeewomen, 41 state chairmen and the 25 Republican governors.

Taft's lead over Eisenhower was established firmly among national committee members and state chairmen. Eisenhower was the top-heavy choice among governors willing to express an opinion.

Committee members gave Taft 28 votes, state chairmen 12 and two governors came out for him.

Eisenhower got the votes of 10 committee members, six state chairmen and nine governors.

The general's strength with the governors was the same as that registered in a poll of the September conference of the state executives, but Taft appeared to have lost some standing with them for he got only two votes instead of the four he registered in the earlier canvass.

Taft was a 12 to 6 favorite over Eisenhower among G.O.P. state chairmen willing to express their preference.

Forty - three national committeemen and committeewomen didn't want to take any stand at this time on a presidential candidate. Twenty-three state chairmen also were undecided as were 14 governors.

Gov. Earl Warren of California and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota showed in the polling. Warren got three votes and Stassen two. Others mentioned in the favorite son or secondary choice categories included Senators Milliken of Colorado, Dirksen of Illinois, Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

It was impossible to break the poll down on a state by state basis, because many of the party officials would express their views only on promise that their names would not be used.

Taft's votes came from 27 states, nine in the south, eight in the midwest, four in New England, two in the far west and four in the east.

Eisenhower got votes from 17 states, including three in the south, five in the midwest, one in the far west, six in the east, and two in New England. The general and the Ohio senator shared strength in eight states.

There was a wide range of viewpoint and comment on the possibility that Eisenhower might become a candidate and upon his suitability if he does.

But his shipmates were expansive in their praise of his work.

"I don't think anybody ever had any doubts about him," said one Canadian navy officer. "The ship's company thought he was wonderful."

Another shipmate commented: "His bedside manner was wonderful."

An officer who was aboard the Cayuga when she supported an operation by South Korean marines and guerrillas behind enemy lines said the casualties were heavy, but that the lieutenant operated "with professional and beautiful skill."

Other crewmen said he performed operations at a hospital in southern Japan and turned his payment over to charity.

He is built like a fullback. The navy lists his age as 28. Some of his shipmates guess that he is an American who — for reasons known only to himself—joined the Canadian navy under an assumed name.

"He speaks with what I would call a Boston accent," said a fellow officer. "But he said no, he was a coaster and that it was a New Brunswick accent."

The Canadian navy has classified as secret the results of a preliminary investigation held aboard the Cayuga.

CHURCHILL

to be a pretty tough customer to deal with.

Allowing leeway for the development of policies as events build up, responsible authorities here expect Churchill to try to pound home three ideas when he comes for his "meeting of minds" with Mr. Truman. Those basic policy lines are:

1. There must be a closer partnership between the United States and Britain. This should be expressed not so much in the creation of new international machinery, such as revival of the old wartime combined chiefs of staff, as in the constant communication of ideas between policy makers and frequent personal sessions between them. That would mean frequent Churchill-Truman talks and even more frequent Acheson-Eden sessions. Also under the heading of partnership, Churchill is understood to include the problem of Britain's economic shortages and the apparent certainty that his government will have to seek substantial financial help from the United States.

Senator McKellar (D.-Tenn.), chairman of the senate appropriations committee, said today he hopes Churchill won't seek additional U. S. aid. "Our own people have an excessive load of taxation to bear," he told a reporter.

2. Britain should have a much greater voice in the development of foreign policy involving both governments than Churchill felt it had under the Labor government.

Some officials look for the dynamic and resourceful prime minister to try to dominate certain areas of foreign policy. They add they do not believe he will have very much success in matters involving questions of great American interest or concern, particularly in such areas as the far east.

3. Some way must be found to improve relations between the west and Russia. Churchill has repeatedly advocated a top level meeting or "supreme effort" to ease world tensions. President Truman has always cold shouldered suggestions of recent years that he should meet with Stalin and his advisers do not expect he will change his views at Churchill's urging.

DIXIE GOVERNORS

the south as it was three years ago.

The conference chairman is governor Fielding Wright of Mississippi who ran in 1948 as a vice presidential candidate on the states' rights (Dixiecrat) ticket. Wright is among the southern group bitterly opposed to Mr. Truman's renomination.

But McMath was able to bring the loyalty issue before the conference because he is host to the visiting governors — and thus in a position to select the principal speaker.

The governors will assemble tomorrow for an informal reception and buffet supper and then get down to business Monday with a discussion of regional educational problems.

The conference will close Tuesday after a round table discussion on the operation of state institutions.

Politics and the south's stand in next year's presidential election are expected to be the main topics of conversation between business meetings. Particular interest is centered on Governor Byrnes around whom the anti-Truman southerners have been rallying in their talk of a revolt against a Truman nomination.

One southern governor said: "we are looking for Byrnes and Senator Harry Byrd (of Virginia) to call the signals on any future moves that we make against Mr. Truman."

Byrnes has said he will attend the conference for business purposes only — and that he does not expect it to be a "political conventon."

This resort city was prepared to welcome and entertain the visiting dignitaries — but not with any recreation in the gambling field.

The order has gone out that all gambling is to be shut down during the conference.

Wide - open gambling went out in Hot Springs in 1946 when a reform ticket took over control of the city. Local residents say gambling has been an off - and - on proposition since then.

But the word is that at least for the next few days, the lid will be on all gambling and Hot Springs will present its best Sunday School face to the governors.

3 Soldiers Hurt In Car Accident

Hartsville, S. C., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Three soldiers en route from Camp Mackall, N. C., to Fort Jackson, S. C., were injured near here today when their automobile collided with a produce truck on U. S. highway 14-A.

Robert Stovall, 20, of Columbia, Miss., was reported in a serious condition at Byerly Hospital here tonight, suffering from head injuries received in the accident.

The other soldiers, Nicholas Stephens and Joseph Janton, both about 20, were taken to the Fort Jackson hospital.

Stovall's father is the president of a Columbus, Miss., bank and the Greenville - Columbus railroad. The address of the other soldiers were not learned immediately.

The girls are learning how to handle hammers and saws and the boys how to make cookies and baste turkeys.

Armistice Day in the Twin Cities will be observed by churches and federal state, and city of Monroe employes will observe the holiday. Local stores and banks will not close for the day.

No official ceremonies by the local Veterans of Foreign Wars or the American Legion will be held.

Saturday the Hudson-Leahy VFW Post 3993 and auxillary and the Burnett-Downs Post 201 of the American Legion held their annual Armistice Day parade through downtown West Monroe.

The parade, with Roy W. Cash, acting as parade marshall, was led by a unit of the National Guard, followed by the Northeast Louisiana State college R. O. T. C. unit and the Cub Scouts, Brownies and Girl Scouts. Approximately 15 floats, sponsored by West Monroe business firms and organizations, lined the streets. Gold Star mothers rode in the parade in automobiles furnished by Monroe car dealers.

Miss Bernie Gene Cobb, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cobb, reigned as queen of the parade. Maids in her court were Miss ator and Mrs. John McCormick, Linda McCormick, daughter of Sen- and Irene Laird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Laird.

A float entered by the West Monroe Kiwanis club won first prize. Second prize went to the Millsaps P.- T. A. and third to Mitchell P.- T. A.

ing of time for many active business men.

Once more Good Fellows are to take up their work in raising voluntary funds to scatter some brightness in many a home that is none too well supplied with necessities of life.

It has been for several decades one of the most important functions of the News-Star — World at holiday time to carry out this annual program of community helpfulness, and the public is always ready to cooperate to the fullest degree for deep down in the heart of everyone is a desire to share with less fortunate at the Christmas season.

We hope that the fund will be la ge this year; a rapidly growing community and the existence of higher prices for everything that is bought makes the need probably greater this year than in past years.

The News-Star—World is always greatly indebted to B. B. Martin, chief of Good Fellows, for the unselfish bestowal of his valuable time in this work. He will again be on to the job for this is an appeal that is close to his heart.

How many have ridden in those new city buses? There are five now in operation here to replace some of the older vehicles, and they embody the last word in facilities to convey the public, states Frank X. Cline, commissioner of finance and utilities.

They were built by the Southern Bus company and will displace several buses that were as old as 12 years.

A well known leader in one of the local churches, tells of his early experiences. Out Haynesville way, his native heath, he was in his teens quite active in church and Sunday school work. One night he was to give a talk at a small church and he mounted the platform and gave the speaker's stand the once over. It was a rather precarious piece of furnishings, tilting dangerously when one bore any weight on it, but he was hopeful it would last through the occasion.

He began with "Behold I will come quickly," and as he spoke he felt the speaker's stand getting nervous. He looked at the front row and immediate before him sat a woman who seemed to have along with her perhaps as much as 300 pounds of avordupois.

Then he started again, with "Behold I come quickly" he shouted. The stand vibrated in unison with the declaration. The speaker paused. Then he tried it again and with the same warning. Instantly the stand collapsed and speaker and all landed in the lap of the heavy-set woman on the front row.

The speaker apologized profusely, but the woman was not at all upset. "You certainly gave me warning enough in advance!" she smilingly commented.

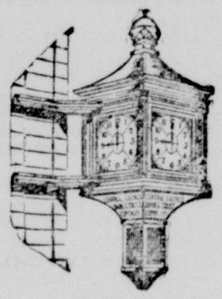

Judge William Harper, who presides over the Monroe city court, having served sufficiently long to be entitled to retirment, was asked by Jes' Ramblin' if he would avail himself of a "public pension," to which, the judge replied: "Am entirely too young to give any thought to retirement; my many years' experience now equip me to do a better job as judge. I like my work very much and enjoy serving the people. . .My best years are ahead of me."

All evildoers please beware!

Every now and then along our way our hearts are warmed when we hear of acts of kindliness and brotherhood. We heard of one Saturday which makes us feel that this old world isn't so wholly bad after all.

A certain salaried man employed by a certain company (no names for this is not to be too personal) was asked to run as candidate for police jury in Ouachita parish. It needed quite an expense for advertising in the local papers. His fellow workers, admiring this man for his ability and integrity and knowing that it might cost considerable money to get his qualifications before the public, took up a purse and fellow workers raised a nice sized sum to pay for the required expenditures.

This is real helpfulness and we feel assured that those who gave and the man who received will be really appreciative of the thoughtfulness that prompted the donation.

FRENCH PUSH

and has served as a communications route between Vietminh bases in north and central Indo-China.

Gen. Jean de Lattre de Tassigny, the French commander, told correspondents the lightning offensive, his first from the Hanoi perimeter in 13 months, had now given him a "window" on the valley from which he could attack at will.

Another objective of the offensive and the destruction by fire of scores of villages apparently was to win from the Vietminh one of their last remaining rice-growing areas. Rice rations in Vietminh areas already are reported very low.

Despite De Lattre's ability to launch the attack, French leaders remain fearful of direct intervention by Communist China.

The French were reported to have asked Malcolm MacDonald, British high commissioner for southeast Asia, for quick British air and naval help in event of such an attack. MacDonald flew back to Singapore today after a two-day visit in Indo-China.

The French also would like Singapore to be the headquarters of a unified southeast Asia command, which could furnish American and British troops and arms in event of an emergency.

DEFENSE OF

sons and more than a million square miles against the threat of Communist aggression.

Only Turkey, who joined the United States, Britain and France today in a statement that they would set up a middle east command (M.E.C.), is actively engaged among the middle east countries in linking her security problems with those of the western world.

The issue of whether the Arab states will join is bitter, Egypt, for one, has said flatly she will not. Egypt insists the Arab world's own regional alliance, the Arab league, is adequate to prevent a Communist aggressor from overrunming the middle east.

Some other Arab nations, notably Iraq, Jordan and Lebanon seem more agreeable to the idea that the middle east defenses should be under the wing of the bigger, stronger Atlantic community.

Israel still is trying to walk the tightrope of neutrality because millions of Jews live on both sides of the cold war front. Israel has made it clear that she would rather not join either side in a defense alliance against the other for fear of bringing down anti-Jewish reaction on the heads of Jews living abroad.

Despite this stand - offishness on the part of the states territorially involved, the big three and Turkey declared that both a command headquarters and a defense liaison organization will be formed.

"Defense of the middle east," said the joint statement, "is vital to the free world and its defense against outside aggression can be secured only by cooperation of all interested states."

The statement said the M. E. C.'s "continuing objective" would be to improve the defenses so the middle east nations themselves could take over more and more of the "peacetime role" of defending themselves.

The command will be set up to "assist and support" only those states willing to join in. The same condition was placed on the shipment of arms and equipment to "states in the area willing to join in its defense."

There was no hint in the statement as to when the command might be put into operation, or where it would be located. It was believed, however, that its first seat would be either in Turkey or on the British-governed island of Cyprus.

A special meeting of members of the Arab league in Paris tonight to try to work out a common policy toward the new middle east command was called off without explanation.

It was learned that Iraq's elder statesman and premier, Nuri Al Said Pasha, was attempting to persuade his colleagues to join the command.

Considerable sentiment already prevails among some Arab leaders to go along with the command system.

But the Syrian cabinet of Premier Hassan El Hakeem resigned yesterday because an internal dispute over the defense pact.

El Hakeem later announced he felt Syria would benefit by joining. Huge crowds of Syrians, however, demonstrated against the pact in Damascus.

ROMBERG DIES OF CEREBRAL STROKE

New York, Nov. 10. —(AP)— Composer Sigmund Romberg, 64, whose operattas and songs are loved by millions, died last night of a cerebral hemorrhage at his (Ritz Tower) hotel suite here.

Romberg wrote scuh "all-time" musical play favorites as "The Student Prince," "Desert Song," "Maytime," "Blossomtime' and "New Moon." During the past 40 years he turned out 78 operettas and more than 2,000 songs.

Apparently in good health, Romberg arrived in New York Nov. 3 from his home in Beverly Hills, Calif. He usually spent his winters in the east before embarking on concert tours in the spring.

His body was found on the bathroom floor by his wife, Lillian Harris Romberg, whom he married in 1925. Before he collapsed, she said, her husband had not complained of feeling ill.

Romberg always called his music "middle brow—music too low-brow for a symphony conductor and too highbrow for a jazz conductor."

His music has a mass appeal, being replete with melodic love songs and romantic themes.

Bulletin

Nashville, Ga., Nov. 10. —(AP)— A head-on automobile collision killed eight persons and seriously injured another tonight, the Nashville police department reported. Details were sketchy.

Police said the dead included four marines from Parris Island, S. C., and two small girls.

received any substantiated information that Biheler was spying inside the United States, but indicated it had received reports of questionable activities on his part outside this country—as a result of which plans he had for trips to Canada and Mexico about a year ago were "frustrated."

There was no detail on just how the plans were foiled. The attache, also accredited to Mexico, could go to either country if it would let him in, but needed U. S. permission to come back.

Biheler wound up his service as military attache for the Communist Czech government in February, 1951. At that time, the state department said, it had "received no information from any source other than the unsubstantiated opinion of one individual, that Biheler was engaged in espionage activities within the United States."

"As to the allegation that Biheler had stolen vital American secrets while he was here (the senate committee had so charged), the department received no information from any source indicating that he had stolen American secrets," the statement said. "furthermore, the department has received no evidence which would corroborate this allegation."

The department also sharply reminded the committee that the McCarran act, the "internal security act of 1950," does not govern the accreditation of diplomatic officials. The authority for that, the statement said, is derived from the constitution. Senator McCarran (D.-Nev) had accused the department of not carrying out the provisions of the law vigorously.

FRESH RED

tried to cross the Yangjin River, and other Red probing attacks were pushed back west of Kansong.

It was on the central front, however, that the greatest immediate Red threat appeared to lie. An Allied briefing officer told A.P. Correspondent Milo Farneti that the Chinese "apparently are moving a whole new corps" into the Kumsong area. This would be about 30,000 men.

He said they evidently were replacements for a corps that was cut down from 32,000 to 6,000 men by the Allies' limited offensive in October.

One of the three divisions in the new corps was reported already in position east of Kumsong.

The officer said it was possible that a whole new Chinese army group (about 90,000 men) would bolster Kumsong.

The air war over North Korea continued in cold, clear weather Saturday. The fifth air force reported one Russian-built MIG jet was damaged in a fight between 30 MIG's and 12 U. S. jets over Sukchon.

Fla. Student Testifies In Shootings

Eustis, Fla., Nov. 10.—(AP)—A high school student told a coroner's jury today he heard five or six shots in rapid succession the night two Negro prisoners were shot by Sheriff Willis McCall.

John Anderson, 15, ninth grade high school student who lives a quarter mile from the scene, gave the testimony at an inquest into the death of Samuel Shepherd. Shepherd was slain and Walter Irvin wounded Tuesday night.

Sheriff McCall said he shot the Negroes when they jumped on him in an escape attempt. The officer was taking them to the state prison at Raiford to a court hearing at Tavares in connection with their re-trial on charges of raping a white woman in 1949.

Young Anderson's testimony conflicted with the sworn statement of Irvin. The latter said he and Shepherd were ordered from the sheriff's car and shot deliberately. Later, Irvin said, Deputy Sheriff James L. Yates appeared, noticed him breathing and fired another shot into his neck.

Anderson said the shots "were rapid fire—all in succession."

Asked if he heard any more, he replied, "no, sir."

Mayor Bryant Calhoun and six other Umatilla officers testified that only Sheriff McCall and the two Negroes were on the scene when they got there and they believed Deputy Sheriff James Yates had not yet arrived.

They said Yates came up about five minutes later and from conversation between Sheriff McCall and Yates it apparently was the first meeting of the two officers after the shooting.

Joe F. Lee, Umatilla town superintendent, said that Sheriff McCall made this comment about Irvin: "He's breathing good. I hope he makes it."

Earlier today, Irvin repeated to the jury what he had sworn to Thursday in a statement to J. J. Elliott, Governor Warren's investigator of the matter.

He said that McCall claimed to have a bad tire, that the sheriff got out, ordered the two Negroes out and then shot them without provocation.

The sheriff has said he shot them when they attacked him as he started to fix the tire.

After Irvin finished his testimony, the jury moved to the scene of the shooting.

BOYS SHOOT SHARK

Corner Brook, Nfld. —(AP)— Harold Heath and Albert Layden went hunting for rabbits but came back with a 6-foot ground shark. The boys were pushing their boat off to return when they spotted the shark's fin, and Heath killed it with his rifle.

ST. MATTHEW'S BAZAAR SUCCESS

Socially And Financially Annual Event Went Over Satisfactorily

The St. Matthew's student government delegates who represented the school in the recent Louisiana state convention in Shreveport, were Miss Betty Jane Shipp, president of St. Matthew's student body, Polly Riley, Miriam Biggar and Maria Maggio. The group left Wednesday afternoon, November 7, by car with Sister Patricia, D. C., and returned to Monroe on the following Sunday.

St. Matthew's has been the scene of ceaseless activity of late, getting ready for the annual bazaar. This event was held on November 7 and 8 in the school gymnasium and the school cafeteria. From all reports the affair was a tremendous success both financially and socially. Mrs. Stanley Hodges was chairman.

A most pleasant surprise was given the St. Matthew's faculty and student body on Thursday, November 8, when three former assistant pastors visited the the school, the Reverend L. Bonin, pastor of Hessmer's Catholic Church, the Reverend George Martinez of St. Francis de Sales Church, Echo, and the Reverend Marvin Bordelon pastor of Christ the King Church, Simmesport.

Inspiring and devotional ceremonies marked the feast of Christ the king and the commemoration of Holy Souls' Day, on November 4, when the congregation of St. Matthew's Church gathered in the city cemetery to do honor to God and to the dear departed. The Right Reverend J. C. Marsh, pastor of St. Matthew's Church, was in charge and the Reverend Denis Curran of Maryhill, preached the sermon.

NEGRO HOUSING SITES STUDIED

175 More Units Are Planned In Two Monroe Additions

Public housing authorities are considering sites in Booker T. Washington and Renwick additions for 175 additional Negro units.

Joseph S. Guerriero, chairman of the Monroe housing authority, stated that upon completion of the additional units the city of Monroe will have approximately 550 units.

"After the federal government has been re-paid for the construction of the low-rent housing projects the revenue will revert back to the city for the benefit of the community," said Guerriero.

The West Monroe city council Friday expressed their unanimous approval of the housing program, estimated to involve approximately $1,000,000. Richard G. Jones, public housing economist from the Ft. Worth regional office, explained the details of the program to the council and asserted that a resolution declaring a need for such housing before the project could be put into action. The council agreed to declare the need.

Figures were quoted by the expert for 1940 showing that nearly two-thirds of the West Monroe families at that time lived in sub-standard dwellings. The sub-standard figure is according to limitations as set aside by the federal government.

Councilmen stated that they had heard considerable criticism of the federal housing authority from sources that claimed it was Socialistic.

Jones could not give the council an exact figure on how many dwelling units would be alloted to West Monroe until a survey determining the extent of sub-standard living conditions in the city could be made. "The number would be a proportion of the overall sub-standard units occupied at the time of the survey," said Jones.

Many of the housing units in Monroe have been occupied.

LOYALTY DAY IS DRAWING NEAR

1st Baptists Laying Plans For Formulation Of Year's Budget

As November 18 draws near, plans for Loyalty Day at the First Baptist Church are nearing completion, and members are reported to be looking forward with keen anticipation toward subscribing the church budget on that day.

The large budget for the past year was overscribed on the day designated, and was overpaid during the year, and while the expanded program for the new year calls for a budget considerably larger, confidence is expressed for the year ahead.

A. B. Clarkson, chairman of the every member canvass, and the pastor, Rev. James T. Horton, express at each church meeting their appreciation for the response of the team captains and the workers for their willingness and efforts to make November 18 a red letter day in the life of the church.

On last Sunday, Mr. Clarkson introduced William F. Grafton, the church treasurer, who went into detail as to the percentage which will go to the various objectives, and of particular interest was the amount designated to be used in carrying the gospel to other parts of the world. Mr. Grafton stated that in his opinion, basing his information on past records, the proposed budget is not excessive, and will not be burdensome if all the members have a part.

J. C. Crawford, one of the most faithful members of the church, was presented at the evening hour and also talked on the reasonableness of the budget, producing some figures which were interesting. Stewardship lessons will be taught in the departments today and will emphasize stewardship and Loyalty Day.

Catahoula Goes Ahead With Census

Jonesville, Nov. 10.—(Special)—Ward 6 of Catahoula parish apparently does not quite have 5,000 residents but the ward and the town of Jonesville have approximately 400 more than indicated by the federal census of 1950.

At the regular meeting of the police jury this week, Wedon Smith secretary, reported that the local census, while not quite complete, indicates that the ward lacks almost 300 persons of having enough population to justify two police jurors and two school board members.

The census is being made by the police jury because the federal figures were considered unreliable as they were compiled at a time when many families were out of the ward temporarily because of high water.

Totals reported to the police jury showed 4,697 for the ward, including 2,232 within the town of Jonesville. The federal census showed only 4,317 for the ward and less than 2,000 for the town of Jonesville.

WENDT SPEAKS NEXT TUESDAY

Author And Lecturer Will Address Knife And Fork Club

Members of the Knife and Fork Club are in for an interesting and informative evening next Tuesday, when the speaker at their dinner meeting will be Dr. Gerald Wendt, former editor of Science Illustrated and the author of numerous books, including The Atom Age Opens and a sequel to it, Atomic Energy and the Hydrogen Bomb. Dr. Wendt's subject will be "What Science is Doing to Us."

The dinner, according to R. Lee Vanderpool, Jr., club president, will be held on the Frances Hotel Roof at 8:00 p. m. Members of the club should make their reservations with the secretary by not later than 5:00 p.m. Monday.

"Jerry" Wendt, as he is known to his thousands of friends in the field of science and on the platform, is generally considered to be the best informed scientific writer in the United States, and one of the best men in the country appearing on the platform.

Dr. Wendt, a distinguished American scientist before entering the writing and motion picture fields, is considered America's foremost interpreter of scientific progress. For a number of years the business and professional leaders who comprise the membership of Knife and Fork Clubs across the nation have been informed of "science miracles" in advance of their appearance as the practical, common-place necessities of industrial, business and family life.

Wendt, who looks as though he might have been an 18th century ambassador from one of the low countries to the court of St. James, is a delightful speaker with a suave, urbane manner; a man, in fact, of great personal charm and the highest professional integrity.

In his talk here Tuesday he is prepared to discuss what are soon to become the common-place improvements and sources of what we eat, wear and use, as well as various other phases of the atomic age.

The flag that flew over Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, was raised over the White House Aug. 8, 1945.

Jack Willis In Race For State Post

Jack Willis, candidate for state representative from Ouachita parish in the forthcoming Democratic primary pledged his support to the "up-building of the community and pledged himself to render every special service to the parish" if elected to the office.

Willis, who was born and reared in Ruston and who later moved here in 1930, resides at 101 Browning street in West Monroe, is married to the former Maida McClendon, who teaches in the parish school system.

He further pledges his support to the growth of Northeast Louisiana State College, both academically and athletically, and is opposed to additional taxes, both state and local. "I believe that in strict economy in state government that taxes can and should be reduced," said Willis.

"I am running on a strictly independent vote and am not alligned with any political faction."

Willis, who is well known to a large circle of friends and associates throughout the parish, has been in the floor covering business for the last several years, and is presently associated with the Cool Vent Alumnium Awning and Floor Covering Company. He was a member of the Louisiana National Guard for 10 years prior to World War II, in which he served with the United States army for five years in England, France, Luxenbourg, Belgium, and Germany. He was the recipient of six battle stars. They included the ground combat of England, Normandy, France, Arbennes, Rhineland, and central Europe.

He is a member of the First Methodist Church of West Monroe, Ouachita Cattlemen Association, and the Louisiana Wildlife Association.

FIRE ALARMS

Engine No. 3 answered an alarm for a house-trailer fire at 9:36 a. m. Saturday. The trailer was ignited when a kerosene stove exploded, but small damage occurred as the fire was extinguished upon the arrival of the fire truck.

John Davis, owner of the trailer, was also occupant at the time of the explosion.

Tallulah, La., Nov. 10.—(Special)—Seven Madison parish 4-H Club members made excellent showings at the Louisiana State Fair in the cattle division. Ellen Coltharp, Waverly Club member exhibited the junior grand champion jersey bull, and won second place in the adult class with her bull. Her jersey cow, stood fifth in her class. In the junior showmanship contest, Ellen won first place. In the state final showmanship contest she was defeated by a boy from Bienville parish, who was the national champion showman. She won first place in the judging of 9 to 12 month old bulls.

CANDIDATE

Cadet Candidate Edwin T. Holloway, above, is at a preparatory school for the U. S. Military Academy at West Point in Newburg, N. Y. Before entering the prep school Holloway was stationed at Camp Chaffee, Ark. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Holloway, Spencer, La., and is a graduate of Linville High School, B. M. I., and was employed by the Interstate Natural Gas.

In The Armed Services

Pfc. Nolan R. Harrell, son of Mrs. N. A. Harrell of Route 2, West Monroe, has been assigned to Amarillo Air Force Base, Tex., as a technical instructor, Col. Ray H. Clark, base commander, announced through the public information office recently.

Pfc. Harrell was transferred to Amarillo from Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Tex., and has been a member of the air force since 1950.

He attended Yazoo High School.

With The 7th Inf. Div. In Korea—Pvt. Keith R. Dison, 1410 Georgia St., Monroe, La., recently was awarded the combat infantryman badge for excellent performance of duty in combat with the 7th infantry division.

The badge, a symbol of the front line fighting man, distinguishes the combat soldier from rear area and service troops. It consists of a miniature replica of a revolutionary war flintlock rifle mounted on a blue background and superimposed on a wreath.

Dison entered the army April 4, 1951 and left for Korea April 12, 1951. While serving as a cook he has earned the Korean service ribbon with two campaign stars.

NEW SCHOOLS

Singapore — (AP) — Eighteen new schools will be built in Singapore next year under a five-year education plan. These schools will provide education for 45,000 children reaching school age in 1952.

More than 1,000 teachers will be recruited to staff both existing and new schools. In the next 10 years Singapore must recruit and train 5,290 teachers.

But Do You Really UNDERSTAND the Bible?

Many people maintain that the Bible is so simple and clear that anyone can understand it.
Yet today the Christian world is divided into conflicting opinions as to what the Bible means. Sincere and equally learned Bible scholars take different meanings from the same words, and there are many Christian sects which disagree on basic Bible questions.
The average Christian who wants to understand the Bible, finds all this confusing . . . wondering which interpretation to accept, whom to believe. The result is that the Bible often gathers dust on the family bookshelf, when it should be bringing joy to the hearts of men.
Catholics, of course, join with Christians everywhere in recognizing the complete Bible as the Inspired Word of God. It could not be otherwise, for it was the Catholic Church which assembled the books of the Bible nearly 1600 years ago, and which preserved its precious message on parchment for a thousand years before the invention of the printing press.
It is unfortunate, however, that some of the most devoted Bible readers do not understand it. As a matter of fact, Holy Scripture is seldom correctly understood unless we have certain preliminary knowledge concerning God's revealed truth.
In writing the New Testament, its authors took into account that a knowledge of God's revelation already prevailed. The books they wrote were intended to instruct and confirm teachings already known—not to announce something entirely unknown. When you have this preliminary knowledge, the Bible is neither contradictory nor confusing.
The books of the Bible were given by God through writers who addressed themselves to people who already possessed faith in God and to whom the divinely revealed message was, to some extent, already known. These books seek to explain and confirm this message and to induce readers to conform their lives to it. They were certainly not intended to teach all of God's revealed truth to those who were learning it for the first time.
Free
The Bible, properly understood, can exert a tremendous power for good in your personal and family life. But to understand it, you should know something about those who wrote the Bible . . . the way they thought, spoke and the characteristics of the language they used. By whom was the Bible translated . . . how can we know these translations are correct? What are the common sense rules to be followed in understanding the Bible? These and other important questions concerning the intelligent use of the Bible are answered in a pamphlet which we will send you free on request. Write TODAY for your free copy. REDSKINS EASILY THUMP SAVAGES TO TUNE OF 51-0

Seven Tribesmen Share In Touchdown Parade

The Northeast Louisiana State Indians, showing no effects of waiting through two open dates since their 66-0 rout of Ouachita College three weeks ago, plastered the Savages of Southeastern Oklahoma State, 51 to 0, here last night in their next-to-last game of the season. Northeast ends its campaign against Louisiana College here next Saturday night.

Seven members of the Northeast ball-carrying brigade shared in the scoring last night with Bob Carter top man in the scoring with two touchdowns on runs of 74 and 65 yards and he booted three extra points.

Single touchdowns were scored by Press Berry on a one yard plunge, Mark Boatright on a 39-yard sprint, Billy Joe Milstead on a 45-yard romp, "Dub" Rush on a one-yard plunge, Vince Zappone on a two-yard buck, and Harry Hubenthal on a 58-yard dash.

All in all the Indians were just too much for the invaders from Durant. The Tribe got vicious blocking and tackling all the way and the sturdy defense was everything that Coach James L. Malone had touted it as being in workouts the last two weeks.

The skimpy crowd, thinned as the less hardy feared a bad night following rains during the day, was treated to a spectacular display of five high school bands in mass participation. The bands participating were from Greenwood, Jena, LaSalle of Olla, Ouachita of Monroe, Sicily Island, and Tallulah.

Northeast's gridders found the invaders putting up stiff resistance and battling them almost on even terms through the first quarter although the Tribe enjoyed a 6-0 edge entering the second period.

Press Berry drove the opening wedge for Northeast midway of the first period. E. J. Sievers had returned a Savage punt to the visitors' 39. Berry found an opening off tackle, and broke free for a 38-yard dash to the Savage one. Berry took it over on the next play. Francis Baker failed to convert.

Three touchdowns came on spectacular runs in the second period. Boatright broke free for the first, galloping 39 yards, Carter followed with his 74-yard gallop, and Milstead romped 45 for the third. Boatright elected to run after two of his passes had backfired. Carter's came on a first down play after the Tribe had downed a Bill Hughes punt on their own 26. The Tribe had downed a punt on its 43, and drove for a first to the Savage 45 on runs by Dub Rush and a 5-yard off-sides penalty against Southeast. That set the stage for Milstead's dash.

Midway of the third Harry Hubenthal, back in punt formation, elected to run instead and galloped 48 yards to paydirt only to have the run nullified by a clipping penalty that made it a first on the Savage 29. Lloyd Ray fired a pass to LeBlanc in the clear, but the big end slipped in the mud and fell on the Southeastern two. Rush cracked the middle for the touchdown. Carter kicked the point.

A few moments later Cammelo DeTore, Indian safety, intercepted a Bill Crutcher pass and ran it to the Savage 25. Rush got two off tackle. Ray passed to LeBlanc for a first on the two. Zappone rammed over for the TD, and again Carter booted the point.

In three minutes of the last quarter the Tribe scored TD No. 7. Hughes had punted 44 yards out of bounds on the Tribe 25. Carter promptly broke through right tackle and went all the way, 75 yards. E. J. Sievers missed the kick for the point.

Hubenthal, from punt formation again finally foiled the defense with a 58-yard run that paid off with a little less than three minutes left to play. Carter's try for the point failed.

STANFORD RALLY BEATS USC, 27-20

Bob Mathias Leads Indians To Crucial Victory Over Trojans

Los Angeles, Nov. 10.—(AP)— Stanford's Indians, set aflame by a scorching 96-yard touchdown run by Fullback Bob Mathias of Olympic Decathlon fame, came from behind in the final minutes today to defeat Southern California, 27-20. The victory gave Stanford the inside track to the Rose Bowl.

Trailing 14-7 as the final quarter began to unfold before a roaring crowd of 96,130, the handsome Stanford star took a kickoff in front of his own goal posts on the four yard line and racing to the right, sped all the way.

Quarterback Gary Kerkorian, the most consistently brilliant performer on the field, missed the try for extra point.

The Trojans, on the move themselves for this coveted victory, went further ahead a moment later when Kerkorian was hit in the end zone and fumbled away six valuable points. That sent U. S. C. in front, 20-13, and set the stage for one of the most amazing finishes the big Memorial coliseum has ever seen.

The clock showed seven minutes left when Stanford began to roll from midfield. Kerkorian found reserve End Sam Morley for 28 yards to punch deep into Trojan territory. A penalty put the ball on the nine.

Again Mathias went to work, pounding the line for four, four, and one to score standing up. Kerkorian's kick knotted the count, 20-20, with about five minutes to go.

The Flaming Stanfords, a terrific troupe of T-stylists, suddenly struck again. Linebacker Skip Crist intercepted an S. C. desperation pass by Frank Gifford, and raced back 29 yards to the Trojan 12.

Mathias got two, Kerkorian passed to Wes Laubscher for three, but an offside put the Indians back to the 12. Halfback Harry Husgasian more than made this up with one lunge to the one-yard mark. He then added the yard—and the winning points, as the clock began to run out.

Buckeyes Barely Squeeze By Pitt

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10.—(AP)— Ohio State made good on three of four scoring opportunities today to beat Pitt, 16-14, but it was the underdog, winless Panthers who walked off the field with a moral victory.

When shopping for curtain fabrics, it is wise to figure on yardage twice the width of the space to be covered, so that attractive fullness may be obtained in draping. Curtain-buyers also should make an allowance for lengthwise shrinking, especially if the fabric bears no label showing that it is pre-shrunk. The buyer also will do well to examine labels indicating

AGGIES, PONIES BATTLE TO TIE

S. M. U. Gains 14-14 Deadlock With Texas A. And M.

College Station, Tex., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Battered, bedraggled Southern Methodist, with a lineup studded by sophomores, battled back in the third period for a touchdown that tied Texas A. and M., 14-14, and ended the hopes of both teams in the Southwest Conference football race.

The Methodists came close to winning it and were launching a dangerous drive at the finish after halting a couple of frenzied Aggie surges in the final seconds.

Jerry Norton, a gangling sophomore, smashed and crashed the crippled, limping Mustangs into what was regarded as an upset. The Aggies were heavy favorites to win the game.

A crowd of 24,500—the smallest S. M. U. has played before in years—cheered the great fight of the Methodists, playing with the power of their defense on the sidelines with injuries and with passing Fred Benners handicapped by a sore hand.

S. M. U. took to the ground for its two touchdowns — also something new for the Mustangs—with the raging, twisting Norton the keyman in the attack.

Score by quarters:

Sou. Methodist	0	7	7	0	14
Texas A. and M.	7	7	0	0	14

Southern Methodist scoring: Touchdowns, Norton, Hansen; Conversions, S. Stollenwreck 2.

Texas A. and M. scoring: Touchdowns, Smith, Lippman; Conversions, Hooper 2.

Bulldogs Shade Florida, 7 To 6

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Sam Mrvos, sophomore guard with a name tough to spell and tougher to pronounce, kicked an extra point to give Georgia an upset 7-6 victory over Florida today.

Mrvos (it's pronounced Mer-vis) made his conversion after another sophomore, Zeke Bratkowski, threw a 13-yard touchdown pass to Zippy Morocco in the second period.

Florida's highly-rated defensive line did it's work, as usual, but Georgia had one that was just as good at stopping runners and far better at breaking up passes.

The only Florida touchdown came in the fourth quarter after Buford Long stabbed a Bratkowski pass and ran it back 13 yards to the Georgia 30. A pass interference call against Georgia put Florida seven yards away from the goal and on the third play Long ran six yards to score.

Score by quarters:

Georgia	0	7	0	0	7
Florida	0	0	0	6	6

Georgia scoring: Touchdown, Morocco; Conversion, Mrvos.

Florida scoring: Touchdown, Long.

Monroe Bulldogs Slug Washington

The spectacular ball handling of Quarterback J. Napoleon and the razzle-dazzle running of some fleet-footed backs, E. Spears, J. Worthy, B. Holman, and S. Harris, paved the way for the Monroe High Bulldog's third straight conference victory, chelking up a 13-8 defeat over Washington High, of Shreveport.

Actually the Lions of Washington High scored two touchdowns in the game, but one was nullified because of a penalty. The scored their other two points on a safety in the last quarter.

The Bulldogs scored their first touchdown late in the first quarter downs on their own 10-yard line. J. Calib went over for the score and Worthy kicked the extra point.

Shreveport scored the next touchdown in the third quarter after they had recovered a Monroe fumble. They went over for the touchdown on the next play, but were called back on a penalty. A few seconds later they went over again and this time kept the points.

E. Lee, Monroe guard, and Love, Monroe end, blocked a punt in the fourth quarter to set up the next Bulldog tally. Napoleon, Bulldog quarterback, heaved a pass to J. Calib for the score.

A few moments later Monroe took the ball again on their own three-yard line and attempted to run the play. Spears was tackled behind the goal for a safety and the game ended 13 to 8 in the Bulldogs favor.

The game, Monroe's homecoming, was witnessed by a large crowd of home rooters. The Queen and her attendants were brought on the field before the game started in a convertible driven by Principal M. H. Carroll.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Noe and Superintendent of Schools J. M. Boyett were guests at the game. Homecoming Queen Barbara Straughter was crowned by Mrs. Noe.

Ouachita's Pete Johnson Wasn't Seriously Injured

Pete Johnson, Ouachita Parish High School gridder, injured in the Baton Rouge game here Friday night, yesterday was reported as not seriously hurt.

Johnson, hurt early in the second half, was taken to Vaughan-Wright-Bendel Clinic where he was held for observation.

Coach Jim Hodgins yesterday said Johnson had been "shaken up considerably" but that the gridder was okay and had been taken to the clinic as a precautionary measure.

Georgia Tech Earns Bowl Bid With 34-7 Air-Route Win Over Keydets

Darrell Crawford's Passes Save Day For Jackets

Atlanta, Nov. 10.—(AP)—After seven consecutive games against major teams, the unbeaten linebusters from Georgia Tech were stopped on the ground today by V. M. I. and Darrell Crawford had to save them with passes in a 34-7 victory.

Immediately after the game, it was announced in Miami that Tech would play in the Orange Bowl Jan. 1, 1952. The only blemish on the Yellow Jackets' record is the 14-14 tie with Duke last week.

Unlike early season games when Tech running was the perfect compliment for Tech passing, the Yellow Jackets today made few moves through Virginia Military Institute's big defensive line for more than three or four yards per plunge.

Freshman Larry Ruffin was Tech's best looking footman instead of the usual fleet of Leon Hardeman, Glenn Turner and John Hicks. And part of the time, the V. M. I. "I" formation Keydets looked better manned instead of outgunned as publicized.

Crawford's first touchdown pass stood 24,000 on their feet; the throw covered 32 yards, including Hicks' run. His passes moved Tech into scoring position for the second touchdown. Just before the end of the half Crawford threw to Hicks again on a 71-yard play for another touchdown.

The halftime score of Tech 20, Virginia Military 7 probably would have been 0-0 without the forward plays.

Tech's first touchdown came after a four-stop trip downfield. The drive started on Tech's 37 and ended when Crawford passed to Johnny Hicks. Hicks scooted 32-yards for the touchdown.

Less than two minutes before Tech scored, V. M. I. moved 58 yards in 11 plays for the first touchdown. Fullback Tom Birge scored on a one-yard line busting.

Tech's second touchdown followed a V. M. I. fumble by Curly Powell on the Virginian's 34. Crawford again passed for most of the distance to Hardeman and Ferris. Maloof scored through the line.

FIGHTING IRISH DEFEAT GILBERT

Irish Score In Two Quarters To Whip Gilbert Team, 12-0

Gilbert, La., Nov. 10.—(Special)—The Fighting Irish of St. Matthew's High School whipped the Gilbert eleven here Friday night, 12 to 0, in a game that saw "Red" Stratton and Ralph Norman go over for the only two scores of the game.

It was the Irish's last game of a seven game season in which they won four and lost three.

Stratton, Norman, and Jimmy Foster were the outstanding offensive players for the Irish, while Villanova, S. Fontana, J. Fontana, Tichili, and Corrent handled the defensive positions.

Bruscato, a Gilbert end, was by far the outstanding player for his team but he was hurt in the second quarter of the game and the Gilbert eleven lost most of their offensive power there.

Stratton bulled his score over from the five-yard line late in the second quarter to go ahead of the Gilbert team by six points as the half came to a close.

After a scoreless third quarter Norman whipped a pass to J. Fontana for the final score in the last quarter.

The game was a hard fought duel between two closely matched teams from start to finish and the injury to Bruscato may have been the winning factor in the game.

The Irish tried only nine passes in the game of which four were completed and they made 13 first downs.

Gilbert tried 14 passes, completely only three of them, and managed only five first downs.

Gilbert came within scoring range only one time during the game when they bulled their way to the 10-yard line, only to be stopped on downs.

As the game came to a close the Irish were again wrapping on the Gilbert goal-line with only four yards to go for a third touchdown.

Score by quarters:

St. Matthew's	0	6	0	6	—12

Scoring touchdowns — St. Matthew's; Stratton, Norman.

Hesketh Reveals 12 Teams In League

Twelve teams have thus far joined the five different Recreation League basketball leagues, Jack Hesketh, director of the Monroe Recreation Department, said.

Two teams, Hunt and Whitaker and L. B. C., have joined the City League, while L. B. C. is also in the Girls League along with Southern Bell, Start, and Winnsboro.

In the Junior League four teams have already enrolled for the season. They include Red Shield, Key Club, Ridge Avenue, and Singer Sewing.

Only one team each joined the Midget and Church leagues thus far, as Red Shield has joined the Midget League and Stone Avenue the Church League.

The season schedule is supposed to get under way on December 1, and all teams planning to join the basketball leagues are urged to get their team signed up at once.

Have you tried cooking an oven roast in aluminum foil? Just season the roast as usual, then wrap it carefully in the foil, sealing all edges by pinching together, before putting it in the roasting pan. This method seals in all the juices and makes basting unnecessary. The same procedure may be used for broiling a steak over charcoal or under the oven broiler.

PARILLI FIRES WILDCATS IN ROUT OF WAVE

KENTUCKY MOWS THROUGH TULANE BY 37-0 MARGIN

Babe's Passing Behind Strong Line Sinks Green

By Roy Steinfort

New Orleans, Nov. 10.—(AP)— Babe Parilli's magic right passing arm sent Kentucky zooming to a 37-0 victory over befuddled Tulane today.

The Kentucky Babe combined his T-quarterbacking talents and passing wizardry with a slashing line to crumble Tulane.

Parilli passed for two touchdowns, scored on a sneak and set up one other touchdown with his trusty right arm.

The Babe tossed 16 passes and completed 11 for 141 yards in the first half. He was retired to the bench by Kentucky Coach Paul Bryant most of the second half but got in to toss a few more passes to make his game total 13 out of 18 for 172 yards.

Tulane's big line, reputedly rough, wilted under the steady smashes by Kentucky's vicious forwards.

The Green Wave tried an eight man line in an attempt to bottle up Parilli but Parilli with daring fakes warded off all tacklers as he faded back for his passes.

Parilli, returning to the Sugar Bowl where he halted mighty Oklahoma last January 1, set one national passing record for major colleges and equalled another. His record was a new mark of 4,031 yards by passing in three years. The old three-year mark was set by Georgia's Johnny Rausch at 4,004 yards. Parilli's two touchdown passes gave him 47 in three years and a tie with Ed Ford of Hardin-Simmons.

Tulane's Wave, who have scored but two touchdowns in their last three Southeastern Conference starts, didn't unleash a serious scoring threat. They drove once to the Wildcat 15 when Kentucky relaxed momentarily in the third quarter, but the blue grass eleven dug in and held.

Kentucky scored its first four touchdowns in the first half on 20 well executed plays. In the opening minutes Parilli climaxed a 52-yard drive with a 10-yard touchdown pass to end Steve Meilinger. Harry Jones added his first of five conversions.

Kentucky blew right back with a 55-yard drive for another touchdown, with Parilli passing to Ed Hamilton and Leskovar to the three, from where Leskovar bucked over.

Parilli bucked over from the one for the third touchdown and then threw a 13-yard scoring pass to Meilinger for the fourth.

Kentucky set up its final touchdown by recovering a Tulane fumble. Larry Jones went over from the three.

Kentucky got its safety when John Smyton tackled Tulane quarterback Fred Dempsey in the end zone.

The lineups:

Alabama Defeats Southerners, 40-7

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Alabama got away to a slow start against stubborn Mississippi Southern today, but quickly made up for it and coasted to a 40-7 victory.

It took the Crimson Tide until late in the first period to hit its stride before a crowd of 13,000. But after that, there was little doubt of the outcome. Reserves played most of the second half to give the first stringers a chance to rest for next week's encounter with tough Georgia Tech.

Southern lost no time in catching 'Bama off balance on the kickoff and converting a 65-yard drive into a touchdown. Halfback Scrappy Hart went over from the two after Fullback Bucky McElroy, the visitors' spectacular fullback, put the ball in playoff position with a 29-yard gallop. Halfback Webb Parrish's conversion was good.

Score by quarters:

Miss. Southern	7	0	0	0	— 7

ILLINI WALLOP IOWA, 40 TO 13

Illinois Greatly Enhances Chances For Rose Bowl

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 10. —(AP)— Sophomore Quarterback Tommy O'Connell whizzed three first - half scoring passes to End Joe Vernasco as unbeaten Illinois, the nation's No. 2 team, chomped Iowa, 40 to 13, to vastly strengthen its Big Ten title and Rose Bowl chances today.

The seventh straight Illini victory—and their fourth conference win—also included two short touchdown dashes by Halfback Johnny Karras, who now has 12 six-pointers, one under the Illinois record shared by Red Grange and Buddy Young.

The second half, following Karras' second score for a 33 to 0 Illinois lead, was turned over to Illini reserves. Iowa came to life in the final quarter with touchdowns on a 24-yard pass from Burt Britzmann to George Rice and a 10-yard scamper by Don Commack.

Ranked second only to Tennessee in the Associated Press national rankings, Illinois not only uncorked the brilliant O'Connell-to-Vernasco passing combination, but hurled a rocking defense at Hawkeye Fullback Bill Reichardt.

The sixth Illinois touchdown, coming after Iowa scored twice to trail, 33 to 13, was tallied in the closing seconds when Ed Gaus, fourth string fullback, smashed three yards.

Sam Rebecca converted after four Illinois touchdowns, missing two extra point tries and a 14-yard field goal attempt. Iowa's long conversion was made by Reichardt.

Score by quarters:

Iowa	0	0	0	13	—13
Illinois	6	20	7	7	—40

Iowa scoring: Touchdowns, Rice, Commack; Conversion, Reichardt.

Illinois scoring: Touchdowns, J. Vernasco (3), Karras (2) Gaus; Conversions, Rebecca (4).

Big Red Surprises Michigan, 20 To 7

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 10.—(AP) — Aroused Cornell stormed back with three touchdowns in a violent second half rally today to upset favored Michigan, 20-7, sending 35,300 fans on a wild emotional binge.

Giving Ivy League prestige a shot in the arm by decisively trouncing the defending Big 10 champs, Cornell poured it on Michigan in a sensational second half.

Trailing 7-0 at half time, Lefty James' prize pupils capped a brilliant comeback with touchdowns by Lindy Hull, Stu Merz and Hal Seindenberg.

Jack Jaeckel, starting his first game at quarterback in place of the ailing Rocco Alvo, disrupted the Michigan defense with is brilliant mixing of ground and pass plays.

Whatever James told the boys between the halves, it worked. Michigan was on top 7-0 on a 42-yard pass from Don Peterson to Tod Stanford in the second period, but that didn't mean a thing. The invaders from the Big 10 were held to only 13 yards on the ground in the second half.

Jack Curtis 'Stinger' Steel Set For Mat Main Event Here Tuesday

Cronin Vs. G. Curtis In Semi-Final At 8 P. M.

Jack Curtis tangles with Jack "Stinger" Steele in the main event at Gus Kallio's Arena this Tuesday night, while George Curtis, whose jaw is still swollen from a blow by Pat "Big Boy" Cronin last week, will take on Cronin again in the semi-final event.

Actually the George Curtis-Cronin event is likely to be the outstanding match of the evening as Curtis is, from all accounts, rearing for Cronin's scalp after last weeks illegal blow to the jaw.

The Curtis brothers met Steele and Cronin in a tag team bout last week and the week before that, and both times a Curtis was knocked unconscious in the third fall of the match.

Last week, however, after George had been floored by Cronin at the end of the match, an immediate search was made of Cronin and a piece of tape, of several thicknesses, was found in his trunks. Evidently he had wrapped the tape around his fist and slugged George. Tape used in this manner serves to make the fist into a much tighter ball and the blow is much harder than a normal one.

George was stunned for a moment but suffered no lasting damage to his jaw. A large bruise was the only effect of the underhanded blow, and George will be back in full strength Tuesday night.

Th Jack Curtis-Steele bout will also be a good one as the two former champions are long standing enemies and Steele, if not actually winning in the last two bouts here, certainly did not lose them. Jack has lost a little of his former prestige here after meeting the squat Steele twice in two weeks and coming off second best each time. Jack will be trying his best to make up some of the lost ground Tuesday.

Steele, a Sioux City, Iowa, matman, appeared here two weeks ag for the first time since 1949. In his two bouts this time he has won one and the other was called a no-contest because of Cronin's use of the tape, but the referee held up his hand as the winner anyway. Steele is an old hand at the wrestling game, knows just as many tricks as Curtis and has just as much wrestling skill. He is perhaps a little weaker in the slugging department, however, and has a hard time when Jack gets angry.

Jack Curtis, of Vicksburg, Miss., is perhaps the all-time outstanding favorite wrestler of the Monroe fans. Fighting a generally clean bout, he can and does use his fists quite a bit whenever it is necessary. The squat "Stinger" is perhaps the most powerful adversary Curtis has wrestled against, however, and a single match between the two behemoths is well worthy of the admission price.

The main event will have a 90-minute time limit with two falls to win, while the semi-final will have an hour time limit also with two falls to win.

The referee, who generally has a lot more troubles than the wrestlers has not yet been selected for the matches.

The semi-final event will get under way at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, instead of 8:15 as it was during the summer months. The change in time as winter approaches has been a long time custom of Kallio, who realizes the value of pleasing his customers.

SPARTANS SMASH NOTRE DAME, 35-0

Is Worst Defeat For Leahy-Coached Irish Team

East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 10. —(AP)—Big Dick Panin poured through the center of the Notre Dame line for 88 yards and a touchdown on Michigan State's first play today to touch off a sparkling football offensive that brought victory to the speedy Spartans, 35 to 0.

It was the worst defeat a Notre Dame team coached by Frank Leahy ever sufffered, the previous high mark having been Purdue's 28 to 14 score in 1950.

Panin's surprising charge down the field was the longest run of the day and set the capacity crowd of 51,296 into a frenzy. Unbeaten Michigan State, winning its thirteenth consecutive victory. Scored three touchdowns the first four times it gained the ball and slammed down Notre Dame's attack so hard that not until the last play of the third period did the Irish get to Midfield.

Bill Barrett's punt that rolled dead on State's 12 set the stage at the very start of the game for Panin's spectacular run. The 187-pound fullback almost fumbled the ball on a handoff from Quarterback Al Dorow and then broke Notre Dame's closely-bunched secondary before anyone realized what had happened. John Petitbon set off in hot pursuit and almost snared Panin on the goal line.

The dynamic Spartans, who had to come from behind to win their last four games, starting with a 24 to 20 thriller against Ohio state, were at their season's peak today. They ground out 351 yards in rushing against 104 for Notre Dame and made a net of 463 to Notre Dame's 189. This was the first time a Notre Dame team had been scoreless since Army and the Irish fought to a 0-0 tie in 1946.

An 11-inch snow was cleared off the field and stands before the game and playing conditions were almost perfect, with a 54-degree temperature and a bright sun. The game, one of the biggest of the day nationally, was televised throughout the east and broadcast on five networks.

Score by quarters;

Notre Dame	0	0	0	0	— 0
Michigan State	14	7	7	7	—35

Michigan State scoring: touchdowns, Panin, Pisano, McAuliffe, R. Carey, Duckett. Conversions, R. Carey 5.

Maryland Dumps Middies, 40 To 21

Baltimore, Nov. 10. —(AP)— Quarterback Jack Scarbath came home today as a college star by suddenly turning into a passer to lead his undefeated Maryland football team to a 40 to 21 triumph over Navy.

In the same Memorial Stadium where he played in high school Scarbath's passes gave the third ranking Maryland team three decisive touchdowns in the third quarter.

Up until then, game Navy had clogged up Maryland's ground attack. At halftime Maryland held only an uncomfortable 14 to 7 lead as Halfback Frank Brady kept the Middies in the ball game by running back a punt 100 yards before 38,000 fans.

That was the only real offensive thrill for Navy, which lost six games and tied the other, until the fourth quarter. Quarterback Mike Sorrentino then pitched for two Navy scores after Maryland had run up a 4 to 7 lead.

Maryland came back for another tally to make it seventh straight triumph safe.

Score by quarters:

Maryland	7	7	20	6	—30
Navy	7	0	0	14	—21

Maryland scoring: touchdowns, Weidensaul, Fullerton 2, Lindsay, Modzeleweski 2. Conversions, Ceker 4.

7 Repeaters On All-Star Squad

St. Louis, Nov. 10. —(AP)—The Sporting News all - star baseball team for 1951, selected by the Baseball Writers' Association of America, lists seven repeaters — five of them members of last year's squad.

As usual in the weekly newspapers' poll, 11 men are named — three pitchers and one man for each of the other eight positions. The pitchers are new, with Sal Maglie of the Giants, Preacher Roe of the Dodgers and Allie Reynolds of the Yankees replacing last year's trio of Jim Konstanty, Bob Lemon and Vic Raschi.

Ferris Fain, first baseman for the Athletics, is the only real newcomer among the other players.

Holdovers from the 1950 square are Stan Musial, Jackie Robinson, Ralph Kiner, Phil Rizzuto and George Kell. Repeaters from other years are Ted Williams and Roy Campanella.

The No. 1 freshmen stars of their leagues, also selected by the baseball writers, are Orestes Minoso of the Chicago White Sox and Willie Mays of the New York Giants.

AUBURN SMEARED BY REBELS, 39-14

Ole Miss Reestablished As Power In Southeastern

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Mississippi stunned Auburn with three touchdowns in the first five minutes today and kept going with a relentless ground game to overwhelm the Tigers 39-14.

The loss knocked Auburn out of its third place Southeastern Conference standing, and re - established the Ole Miss Rebels as a power to be reckoned with.

Auburn seemed befuddled by the Rebels' tricky split-T, the first such system it has met this season. By the time the Tiger defensive got on to the formula, Auburn was so far back it never could catch up.

On the second play of the game, Lindy Callahan, 183-pound Ole Miss senior, broke off left tackle and sprinted 76 yards for a touchdown.

A minute later Callahan grabbed the ball on a triple lateral and dashed eight yards for a second touchdown. Ed Lewcon converted.

Before the first five minutes were gone, Qurterback Jimmy Lear tossed a 41-yard pass to Harold Maxwell for the third touchdown.

With the exception of Lear's touchdown toss, Ole Miss was ineffective in the air. But with the furious ground game the Rebels churned up, the aerial game wasn't needed.

The alert Mississippi defense stopped Auburn cold on the ground, and the major Tiger gains came through the air on the accurate tossing of Quarterback Allan Parks.

Trailing 26-0, Auburn finally hit pay dirt late in the third quarter on a five-yard line smash by Herman Howard. Parks set up the score with a 16-yard pass to Howard.

Auburn's aerial game led to the second Tiger touchdown in the fourth period. Homer Williams went over from the seven at the end of an 87-yard sustained drive featured by Parks' passes to Lee Hayley and Jackie Creel.

Mississippi's fourth touchdown came so suddenly, few of the 21,972 fans at Ladd Memorial Stadium knew what had happened. Callahan fumbled on his own 30. Teammate Ray Howell, Jr., grabbed the ball on the bound and ran across for the score.

Lear ran the score to 32-7 with a 36-yard sprint around right end. Then after Auburn had punched over its second score, Lea Pasley powered over from the one to wind up the scoring.

Score by quarters:

Mississippi	19	0	13	7	—39
Auburn	0	0	7	7	—14

Mississippi scoring: Touchdowns, Callahan 2, Maxwell, Howell, Lear, Pasley. Conversions, Lewcon 2, Lear.

Auburn scoring: Touchdowns, Howard, Williams. Conversions, Davis 2.

Dartmouth Falls To Columbia, 21-6

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Forced to play much of the way without their crack passer, Mitch Price, the Columbia Lions turned loose a group of hard-running backs today to snap Dartmouth's four-game winning streak, 21 to 6.

Price was forced from the game by an ankle injury shortly after he had pegged the Lions to a 7 to 6 lead early in the second period. From there on his backfield mates, Vernon Wynott, Frank Toner and Howard Hansen, alternated in shredding the Big Green defenses on two more touchdown marches. They barely falling short on three other thrusts.

Score by quarters:

Dartmouth	6	0	0	0	— 6
Columbia	0	14	0	7	—21

Dartmouth scoring: Touchdown, Rambour.

Columbia scoring: Touchdowns, Wynott 2, Hansen. Conversions, Ward 3.

Army Measures Citadel By Margin Of 27 To 6

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 10. —(AP) —Fred Meyers, one big leaguer on a makeshift football team, passed and ran the Army to its second victory of the season today, a 27 to 6 decision over The Citadel.

It was Meyers' passing and his ability to handle the team as he returned to the quarterback's position, that made the difference.

Meyers scored one touchdown and hurled a 46 pass to Lowell Sisson for another, and his passes played the biggest part in setting up the other two.

Score by quarters:

BAYLOR HUMBLES LONGHORNS, 18-16

Bears Trounce Texas First Time In 12 Years

Austin, Tex., Nov. 10. —(AP)— Sophomore Jerry Coody, who was supposed to be crippled, scored Baylor's initial touchdown and paved the way for the second as the Bears whipped Texas today for the first time in 12 years, 18 to 6.

Texas, which usually thrives on its opponents mistakes, saw the tables reversed as Baylor Guard Bill Athey recovered Texas fumbles to help set up two bear touchdowns in the final period.

Coody, a shifty 182-pounder from Tulsa, Okla., pulled Baylor even with Texas on a 15 - yard naked reverse in the third period. He ran nine yards to the one after Athey's first recovery, and Fullback Richard Parma banged across for the decisive tally.

Quarterback Larry Isbell masterminded the hard hitting Baylor attack to a victory which Coach George Sauer said was the "big one."

It was big because it kept Baylor in the Southwest Conference championship race. However, Baylor has lost one and tied one while winning two in league play and must rely on T.C.U.'s losing twice in order for Baylor to become Cotton Bowl host.

Baylor grabbed its third touchdown after Athey seized a fumble by Texas' Don Barton on the Texas 32. Halfback Don Carpenter carried four times to score, his initial try getting 23 yards, and the final thrust coming at the one.

While Baylor, the team with the reputation for passing, stuck to the ground for all three touchdowns, the ground gaining Texas Longhorns had to go into the air to score. End Tom Stolhandske caught a 15-yard bullet pass from Don Barton just before the half.

Score by quarters:

Baylor	0	0	6	12	—18
Texas	0	6	0	0	—6

Baylor scoring: touchdowns, Coody, Parma, Carpenter.

Texas scoring: touchdown, Stolhanske.

PRINCETON COPS 20TH WIN IN ROW

Eastern Power Tramples Harvard By 54-13 Count

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 10.—(AP)— Princeton's Dick Kazmaier continued his drive for another All-America backfield berth by passing the Tigers to four touchdowns as they gained their 20th straight football victory by overwhelming Harvard, 54-13, today.

Kazmaier's aerials gained 223 yards and he added 71 more overland to boost his seven-game overall total to 1,506 before retiring early in the finale, during which his high-powered forces bunched more than half of their points.

But, despite the lopsided score, Princeton had a fairly hard task extending its streak to a new Princeton victory record.

Harvard's inferior but stubborn forces managed to remain locked in a 6-6 tie until the last minute of the opening half. During those fatal 60 seconds the Tigers scored twice to break every Harvard heart in the 22,000 gathering.

Princeton scored the third time it handled the ball after taking the opening kickoff, and the initial touchdown resulted from a 14-yard pass from Kazmaier to Harvey Mathis.

From then, until the last minute of the first half, Harvard's inspired defensive players, leg-ironed the agile Tigers.

And Harvard's offensive unit generated enough power to move, mostly by air, from Princeton's 48 to its two, from where Fullback Tom Ossman plunged over on the second play of the second period.

Then finding itself in a 6-6 tie and in position to register one of the season's most shocking upsets, Harvard was inspired for the next 14 minutes, until Kazmaier dashed its hopes with sharpshooting feats that enabled Fullback Russ McNeil to make a one-yard scoring plunge.

Then, with only seconds to go before half time, defensive guard Vic Bihl sewed up the game by intercepting a Dick Clasby pass and racing 24 yards for Princeton's third touchdown.

Kazmaier lost little time running up the margin. He reeled off a 34 yard rush and then clicked off two long passes to Winger John R. Emery and Quarterback George Stevens, the latter an 11-yarder into the end zone.

The Tigers found themselves over the Harvard goal - line four times during the final period.

Score by quarters:

Princeton	6	13	7	28	—54
Harvard	0	6	0	7	—13

Princeton scoring: Touchdowns, G. Stevens 2, Hathis, McNeil, Bihl, Pivirotto, Willis, Tryon. Conversions, McNeil 4, Tryon 2.

Harvard scoring: Touchdowns, Ossman, Ederer. Conversion, Monteith.

Raschi Leaves Hospital With Knee Healing Fast

Baltimore, Nov. 10. —(AP)— Vic Raschi walked out of Johns Hopkins Hospital today minus the frayed knee cartilage which had pained the big New York Yankee pitcher near the tail-end of the 1951 baseball season.

Dr. George Bennett, who removed the cartilage in an operation nine days ago, said he was pleased by the rapid, uneventful recovery of his patient.

Raschi displayed hardly a limp in a trial walk across his room, but he took along a pair of crutches to help him in extended use of the ailing knee.

VANDY BOWLS OVER BAYOU BENGALS

WADE'S PASSING TUMBLES L. S. U. BY 20-13 SCORE

Commodores' Pitching Ace Has Complete Control

By Warren Rogers Jr.

Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 10. —(AP)— Bullet Bill Wade, Vanderbilt's ace passer, threw for three touchdowns here tonight to give Vandy a 20-13 Southeast Conference football victory over Louisiana State University

Wade's confident ball handling icy as the fog which drifted in as the game waned, completely befuddled the hitherto stout defense. The 18,000 fans overwhelmingly partisan to favored L. S. U. groaned through the first half when Vandy forged ahead and moaned through the scoreless second half.

Wade flipped a 58-yard touchdown pass on Vandy's second play from scrimmage. Dick Foster took it off L. S. U.'s defending Jim Roshto's fingertips, bowled over an official and streaked across.

Cool, calm and collecting big hunks of yardage on nearly every throw, Wade was in complete control.

In the first half, for instance, he completed eight of 12 passes and had one intercepted.

He had plenty of pass protection —a ring of Commodores batting down L. S. U.'s charging line — but he was not connecting too well in the second half.

A couple squirted out of the hands of receivers and and L. S. U.'s defense was tighter.

Wade's second touchdown toss was a beauty. From the 15 he fired one right down the middle to Ben Roderick over the goal line. Roderick nipped the ball from clutching L. S. U. hands.

He had all the time in the world to throw to Roy Duncan for Vandy's third tally. It climaxed a 46-yard drive and went for 21 itself.

Foster's placement attempts clicked twice. The third went wide, as did his try for a field goal in the third period.

It was freshman night for L. S. U. T-Quarterback Cliff Springfield, Center Jerry Dildy and Guard Sid Fournet—all frosh from Bogalusa, La.—started the game and played much of it.

Score by quarters:

Vanderbilt	7	13	0	0—20
L. S. U.	13	0	0	0—13

Vanderbilt scoring, touchdowns: Foster, Roderick and Duncan; Conversions, Foster (2).

L. S. U. scoring, touchdowns: Doggett, Prescott. Conversions, Stringfield.

GRAMMAR TITLE TILT WEDNESDAY

Georgia Tucker, Central Battle For Crown

Monroe city schools Grammar School Football League rounds out the season Wednesday night with the league championship game between Georgia Tucker and Central Grammar School at 7:30 p.m. in the Neville Stadium.

The two teams in the finals have won the right to play in the championship as the result of winning their semi-final games recently. Georgia Tucker defeated Sherrouse in the semi-finals, 14-0, while Central defeated Barkdull Faulk, 14-13, in a hotly-fought contest.

The four teams playing in the semi-finals were the top four teams in final league standings. Georgia Tucker had won four with no losses; Sherrouse, Barkdull Faulk, and Central had won two and lost two each, while the fifth team, Lida Benton, had dropped its four games.

During regular season play, each team played all of the other teams in the league.

The city grammar loop is a part of the over-all athletic and physical education program of the Monroe city schools, with W. A. "Bill" Ruple, Neville head coach, as the director, assisted by Richard Salter, Jim Coats, and Gus Petterson, of the Neville coaching staff. The various teams have been furnished complete uniforms from headgear to sox by the Monroe city school board. All boys in the grammar schools are eligible for the teams, but most of them come from the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades.

A trophy will be presented to the winning team Wednesday. A team sportsmanship trophy (the George Luffey Sportsmanship Trophy) will be awarded to the team which, in the opinion of the officials, displays the best sportsmanship on the field.

An all-city team will be selected. It will consist of eleven boys, taken from all of the teams in the league. Those selected will be awarded an "M" letter, with "All-City" written on it. These boys will be selected by the coaches and the officials based on the entire season's play.

Coaches in the Gramar League are as follows:

Harold Dickens, Barkdull Faulk; Leslie LaVergne, Lida Benton; Clyde Perkins, Central; Charles Brwon, Sherrouse; and Van Leigh, Ceorgia Tucker.

Purdue Slams To 35-14 Win

Evanston, Ill., Nov. 10. —(AP)— Guided by little Dale Samuels' two long touchdown passes and excellent generalship, Purdue smashed Northwestern 35-14 today in a surprising upset that boosted the improved Boilermakers into fourth place in the Big Ten race.

More than 38,000 fans were spellbound when Purdue jammed across three touchdowns in the third period for a 28-0 margin after being rated a pre-game seven-point underdog.

It was the Boilermakers' second league victory in three starts, their first over Northwestern since 1944, and it kept them mathematically in line for a possible title share and Rose Bowl bid.

The main role in Purdue's triumph was shared by Smues, Max Schmaling, an 18-year old sophomore fullback, and a junior halfback, Phil Klezek, who had been shelved three weeks with a leg injury.

Northwestern, which started the season with four straight wins and then collapsed with two losses in a row, averted being shutout for the third successive game by brilliant aerials tossed by Bob Burson in the final ten minutes.

Burson hit Norm Kragseth on a 43-yard touchdown toss and later speared Bill Kuehl for a 30-yard payoff.

SET FOR FINALS IN NORTH, SOUTH

Bolt Enters Stretch Heading Middlecoff 1 Stroke

Pinehurst, N. C., Nov. 10.—(AP)—A five-stroke blanket covered the top [illegible] men as the North and South Open Golf Tournament field took time out today to avoid contention with college football before heading into tomorrow's 18 hole windup of the $7,500 event.

Tommy Bolt, the Durham, N. C., professional who took over the lead by one shot with his one under par 71 yesterday for a 54-hole total of 214, had Cary Middlecoff, Memphis,Tenn., dentist, right at his heels with a 215.

Here's how the rest of the chief contention shaped up:

216 — Julius Boros, Southern Pines, N. C.; Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y.; John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Bobby Toski, Northampton, Mass., and Jimmy Adams, member of Great Britain's Ryder Cup team.

218 — Max Evans, Detroit, and Dick Chapman, Pinehurst amateur who holds the British amateur title.

219 — Max Faulkner and Dai Reese, both British cuppers, and Ted Bishop former U. S. amateur champion, from Weston, Mass.

Bolt, often a threat along the tournament trail the past two years, usually has come up with one bad round to knock himself out of the important money. This time it may be different. He's the only man of the 51 left who has not gone over par. His scores over the 7,007-yard country club No. 2 course have been 71-72-71.

A second round slip was becoming increasingly important to Middlecoff. The year's No. 2 money winner, he has won six tournaments this year and finished second three times.

Boros, despite a second round 78, found himself only two strokes off the top end. He opened with 68 and had 70 yesterday, lowest score of the day. He went over par on the last two holes.

Wildcats Drub Detroit In Last Quarter, 26-7

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Beaten for a half, the Villanova college football giant rose up in the final 2[illegible] minutes today to drub the University of Detroit, 26 to 7.

Bib Haner, a 210-pound fullback, ignited the Villanova offense, which struck for three touchdowns in the final 20 minutes recording the Wildcats' fifth victory in six starts.

The big play was a 57-yard sprint by Haner that wiped out a 6-7 deficit, and put Villanova in front to stay in the third quarter.

Mighty Tennessee, Looming Greater As Bowl Prospect, Blasts Generals

Washington And Lee Falls To Vols By 60-14 Count

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 10. —(AP)— Tennessee's mighty Volunteers, unbeaten and the nation's No. 1 team, rolled on toward a post-season bowl game today by crushing Washington and Lee, 60 to 14.

Hank Lauricella touched off the rout with a 20-yard touchdown gallop three minutes after the game opened. Playing less than eight minutes, the great little Tennessee tailback sprinted 54 yards for a second touchdown and set up a third with a 27-yard dash to W. and L.'s 19.

In all, Lauricella ran with the ball six times and netted 114 yards before retiring in favor of reserve Tailbacks Hal Payne and Larry Crowson. They continued to reel off touchdowns almost at will.

Tennessee clipped off its 17th straight football victory to the delight of 20,000 spectators.

Virtually helpless on the ground against Tennessee's stubborn defensive line, Washington and Lee struck pay dirt twice on passes.

Gil Bocetti, the Generals' crafty split-T quarterback, speared end Bob Thomas with a 15-yard toss in the end zone in the second period and again hit Thomas with a 35-yarder midway the fourth stanza. Bob Lafferty converted after each score.

Displaying amazing power on the ground, the Vols rolled up 513 yards rushing, added 40 on passes and returned kicks and kickoffs 93 yards to amass a grand total of 646.

Payne, who took over from Lauricella after seven minutes and 15 seconds of the first period, powered over on short runs for four touchdowns and tossed one 10-yard pass on Freshman End Vic Kolenik for a fifth.

Others getting into the touchdown parade for Tennessee were Fullback Dick Ernsberger and Crowson, third-string tailback. Ernsberger plunged over from the nine early in the first quarter and Crowson smashed through from the one in the final stanza to cap a 63-yard drive.

Score by quarters:

W. and L.	0	7	0	7—14

W. and L. scoring: Touchdowns, Thomas 2. Conversion, Lafferty 2.

Tennessee scoring: Touchdowns, Lauricella 2, Ernsberger, Payne 4, Kolenik, Crowson. Conversions, Rechichar 4, Kolenik, Williams.

Rice Owls Thump Arkansas, 6 To 0

Houston, Tex., Nov. 10. —(AP)— Rice snatched a 6-0 victory from Arkansas' burly Razorbacks tonight and Billy Burkhalter's goal line plunge made up for nearly 59 minutes of fumbling frustration for the Owls.

Six times the Owls had been in scoring position, but each time fumbles or a granite Arkansas defense had chilled their hopes. And until the last two minutes of the game, it looked like their hopes to take over second place in the southwest conference was going in the same deep freeze.

But in that final two minutes Rice traveled 29 yards and Burkhalter made the last one pay off for the score that puts Rice right behind Texas Christian in the championship chase.

Freebooter Scores Win In Grand Sefton Jumps

Liverpool, England, Nov. 10.—(AP) —Mrs. Lurline Brotherton's Freebooter, winner of the Grand National Steeplechase in 1950, won the Grand Sefton Steeplechase here today.

James Rank's Shagreen, a top contender for Grand National honors the last few years, finished fourth behind Knight's Pass and Culworth.

U. N. Negotiators Lay Down Terms For Peace

Munsan, Korea, Sunday, Nov. 11. —(AP)— The chief Allied negotiator declared today that the Allies will refuse any Korean truce settlement calling for a demiltarized zone before agreement is reached on other armistice problems.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy issued a statement on this 33rd anniversary of the World War I armistice outlining four main Allied goals in any Korean settlement.

He said the United Nations command would not accept anything that would "compromise" these principles.

He enumerated these as:

1. A demilitarized zone based on the military solution at the time a full armistice is signed;

2. Complete security for the United Nations combat troops and rear areas during a cease-fire, including "adequate room for outposts ahead of our main positions to insure early warning of attack;

3. Guarantee against a buildup of enemy forces during a cease-fire, including a ban on building up combat units weakened by the fighting; and

4. "Quick and satisfacotry arrangements relating to prisoners of war."

Joy said the United Nations forces would use "every weapon at our command, be it at the conference table or on the battlefield, to achieve those four goals."

Admiral Joy said the enemy wanted "all the advantages of a de facto cease-fire so that he can prolong the armistice negotiations without cost to himself."

without which any immediate so-

This, he said, the Communists will not get, as "we must retain the flexibility of military action lution to other agenda items is problematical."

To do otherwise, he stated, would be to "endanger the security of our forces in the field."

The statement was issued shortly before a scheduled new meeting at the Panmunjom conference tent between two-man subcommittees of the United Nations command the Chinese and Korean Reds.

These subcommittees, after prolonged dispute, had appeared to favor almost the same thing in the way of a buffer zone but remained separated by a chasm of mutual distrust. (Meeting set for 11 a.m. Korean time, 9 p.m. Saturday, E. S. T.).

What effect Admiral Joy's statement might have on the conference remained to be determined.

Proposals advanced by the Allies and Communist delegates Saturday appeared almost identical.

In fact, the Red recommendation looked surprisingly like that made by the United Nations command only five days ago, and rejected at that time by the Reds.

Both proposals provided for:

1—Acceptance of the principle that the present battleline would be the basis for a cease-fire line;

2—A four kilometer (two and one-half miles) wide demilitarized buffer zone across Korea;

3—Recommendations that the full five-member truce delegations immediately take up other armistice problems, such as exchange of prisoners;

4—Committees from both sides to determine exactly where the battleline is; and

5—Changes in the battleline to be reflected in the demarcation line right up to the actual signing of a full armistice.

Although the substance appeared the same, the wording of each proposal was different. Each side tentatively rejected the other's proposal Saturday—but their reasons for doing so were obscure.

In Tokyo, there was speculation that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's three-day visit to Munsan might have paved the way for a break in the stalemate over a buffer zone. He returned to Tokyo Saturday night.

SEVEN FIRMS 100 PER CENT

Response In Red Feather Campaign Is Encouraging

Seven Twin City firms and their employes claimed positions on the 100 per cent honor roll for the 1952 Red Feather campaign reports to headquarters Saturday revealed.

The firms are: Baker's Shoe Store, Central Oil & Supply Corp., M. Kaplan and Son, Southern Lumber & Box Co., Rhealee Millinery, Monroe Hardware Co. and Twin City Printing Co.

More and more stores, offices and plants are entering the running daily now and campaign leaders said they confidently expect at least 300 places of business will be on the 100 per cent honor roll by the time the campaign ends.

Two more divisional kick - off meetings have been set for Monday, one at 11 a.m. and one at 2:30 p. m. Co-Chairman A. B. Clarkson and Evans Ethridge said that all volunteers were welcome to attend either of these meetings, both to be briefed on the new campaign plan and to receive working assignments.

Employes of S. H. Kress Co. heard a Red Feather speaker Saturday morning at 8:55 and Speaker's Bureau Chairman Jack Howard said that he would have a half dozen more speakers in the field addressing employe groups by the middle of the coming week.

Any firm wishing to have a five-minute talk made before their employes may call either the Chest office, No. 8218, or campaign headquarters, No. 3-6863, Howard said.

Heads of Twin City firms are giving most favorable consideration to the new unit account plan, calling for employe solicitation and payroll deduction so that pledges may be paid in easy installments next year, volunteers' reports indicate.

"I've never seen such good acceptance of the Community Chest as we are encountering this year," one worker reported at headquarters. "This new unit account plan and the easy payroll deduction feature seem to be the answer to the old question of how to adequately support the nine Chest agencies."

Looking for top value? THEN CHOOSE A
ULTRAMATIC CALORIC GAS RANGE

For BEAUTY
to grace the most modern of kitchens. Smart clean lines — not cluttered with fussy gadgets that only confuse cooking operations.

For SPEED
Tri- Set Flavor-Saver Dual Burners give instant flexible heat—any degree you want when you want it, from highest to measured "keep warm".

ULTRAMATIC CALORIC GAS RANGES
Include the same basic time-saving features in every model—
* ONE PIECE FRONT FRAME—Porcelain enameled steel, one piece right to floor for extra rigidity.
* SEAMLESS PORCELAIN ENAMEL BURNER BOX—catches all spill-overs, won't rust. Easy to get at.
* DOOR SPRING OUT OF HEAT ZONE—Holds rigidity longer. Replacement guaranteed for life of range.
* VERI-CLEAN BROILER—Seamless porcelain enamel with rounded corners. Hi-Lo Rack and Pan for smokeless broiling and quick adjustment.
* HOLD-HEAT OVEN WITH EXCLUSIVE SEAL—Seamless oven has seal molded tongue and groove fashion into door and frame. Fiberglass insulation for cool kitchen.
* AUTOMATIC OVEN TEMPERATURE CONTROL—Just set the degree of heat you wish. A dependable thermostat holds temperature automatically.
* REPLACEMENT GUARANTEE ON ALL BURNERS—Oven, broiler, and top burners carry replacement warranty for life of range.

For AUTOMATIC COOKING
you can be an absentee cook. Automatic Oven Clock Control (Opt.) starts oven meals cooking, turns off at any hour you set. 4-hour timer and "timed" appliance outlet included.

For EASIER CLEANING
porcelain enamel inside and out, acid resisting white parts, seamless interior, easily removable parts. America's Easiest ranges to keep clean.

COTTON

New York

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Cotton futures plunged $10 a bale today, the daily limit, under a heavy volume of selling which was attracted by the recent sharp rise. The limit declines embraced all deliveries in early trading. Subsequently, the market recovered under renewed price fixing, particularly in old crop months. Traders said that the markets action was only natural in view of the week's sharp advances which followed the pessimistic cotton crop estimate. Traders also pointed out that they expected an increase in producer selling of cotton as prices neared the OPS ceiling. On Friday the December 1951 delivery traded at 43.73 cents a pound, or slightly less than 2 cents a pound under the ceiling.

Futures closed $6.90 to $10 a bale lower than the previous close.

MORE LOVE FOR BABY PRESCRIBED

Cincinnati, Nov. 10.—(AP)— Doctor's prescription for a baby boy left without a purpose in life: Cuddling, and lots of it.

The little boy (let's call him "Larry") weighed 21 pounds at 10 months.

But his parents, who loved him, tied his arms so he couldn't touch himself. They covered him with dressings and ordered that he should be handled as little as possible. He was merely fed and changed.

At first he fought against the restraints, the dressings. But he became silent—no coos, no baby gurgles, no first word.

Larry's weight fell. At 22 months he weighed 14 pounds. . . . "He looked like a mummy, like a half-dead, wizened old man, with skin three sizes too big hanging on a 22-month-old body whose weight had dropped to a five-month level."

That was the way doctors at Children's Hospital saw him May 11 when he was received there.

Larry had been restrained because people loved him and wanted him cured of the itching torture of eczema, which had afflicted him since he was three months old.

But the restraint brought on loss of interest in life and caused wasting away of the young body itself.

Dr. Richard Wolf, Children's Hospital physchiatrist, examined the pathetic-looking child and issued this order:

"Love this kid. Spoil him, even. But whatever you do, treat him like a baby," It worked.

Larry's weight went up to 18 pounds and he was sent home to his mother's arms. His weight soon was 22 pounds. He still had some eczema but Larry has the makings of a normal, healthy little boy now.

Doctor Wolf explains, "Larry has a long way to go yet. He's what would be called a 'good baby'; he's quiet—too quiet, still. It will take a long time to wear off the effects of long restraint and lack of human contact."

But Larry's on his way back now. That's the important thing.

British Find U. S. Weather Not So Good

Natchez, Miss., Nov. 10. (AP)— An English writer and his actress wife said here today they were debating whether to make the U. S. their home but the weather was their principal opponent.

Not even the heavy fogs and the dampness of their native England seemed to have bothered the couple as much as the mercurial temperature which has plagued them on a downriver trip from Minnesota to the gulf in a canoe.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Cowan (she's the actress, Judith Fellows), arrived in Natchez today. He's gathering material for a new book on travel with his adventures on the Mississippi as the central theme. She's deciding whether she likes America enough to make it her home.

According to Cowan, the trip has been fairly uneventful except below Memphis when their 17-foot rubberized canvas canoe was speared by a catfish. The couple barely had time to paddle to shallow water before the canoe was completely swamped.

Cowan is the author of several travel books, the latest published in New York Friday, being "The Odyssey of Mr. Man."

Mrs. Cowan, who appeared as Judith Fellows with Cornelia Otis Skinner several seasons back in the New York production of "Lady Windemere's Fan," says their latest visit to this country was her idea. She had become "enchanted with America" when she appeared with Miss Skinner.

But, she added, her husband agreed only if they made the visit "the tough way." Hence the canoe trip.

They started down river at Itasca Lake, Miss., August 14.

TO VISIT NATCHEZ

Natchez, Miss., Nov. 10.—(AP) — Miss Marie Therese Cabisius, high school principal of Bremen, Germany, is scheduled to arrive in Natchez Monday to begin a study of the Natchez public school system.

Miss Cabisius' study is being sponsored by the U. S. department of state which selected Natchez as one of six U. S. cities on her itinerary. She will remain here two weeks.

Store canned fruits on your pantry shelf, then refrigerate before using so they'll be pleasantly chilled.

CHURCH ROUNDS OUT SEVEN YEARS

College Place Celebrating Anniversary Of Founding Today

The College Place Baptist Church is celebrating her seventh birthday Sunday, November 11, with the broadcast of the 11 o'clock service over KNOE and the subscribing of the recently adopted $39,180.00 financial program for the new year. Dr. G. Earl Guinn, president of Louisiana College, located at Pineville, La., will bring a challenging message at the regular morning service, states Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., pastor.

Special efforts toward underwriting the budget on the church's birthday have been under the direction of J. Dodd Brooks, who is serving as chairman of the Sign-Up-Day and Loyalty Sunday program. Other members of this committee are as follows: Mrs. Harry Tibbals, Mrs. L. C. Richardson, E. J. Fostor, M. L. Causey and Bob Bushnell.

Activities during the day will include an early worship service at 8:30 a. m., Sunday School at 9:45 for all ages, morning service from 11 to 12 broadcast over KNOE, open house from 2 to 6 when members will be privileged to turn in pledge cards and also enjoy fellowship in the social room, Training Union and Brotherhood at 6:30 p. m., and the evening service at 7:30 at which time the pastor will preach on the subject, "Things, Thrills, and Theories versus the Truth."

Visitors are cordially invited to the services, and the church members are encouraged to attend at least one of the Loyalty Day services Sunday.

Fleischmann Gets More Authority

Key West, Fla., Nov. 10.—(AP) — President Truman today delegated to Defense Production Administrator Manley Fleischmann authority to approve borrowings from the treasury by government agencies participating in the defense mobilization program.

In a letter made public at the "Little White House" here the president made the delegation of the authority previously exercised only by himself in this language:

"The administrator is authorized to approve borrowing by any agency for defense programs certified by him under the Defense Production Act, subject to conditions outlined below, in an aggregate amount not in excess of $1,809,000,000 outstanding at any one time. This amount includes the $1,065,037,920 heretofore approved by me for borrowings by the abovementioned agencies for programs certified by the administration under the said act."

The president pointed out that he already has approved borrowings by the defense materials agency, $805,037,920; the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, $250,000,000 and by the interior department's defense materials administration, $10,000,000.

The president also delegated to Secretary of Agriculture Brannan authority to approve borrowings up to $150,000,000 for defense programs coming under his jurisdiction.

Fleischmann's authority to approve borrowings is limited to those agencies over which he has certifying authority.

Roger Tubby, assistant White House press secretary, said the delegations were "largely technical" and were designed to relieve the president of routine approvals.

The funds involved are money which congress has authorized defense agencies to borrow from the treasury.

Funds borrowed by any agency are to be maintained as a revolving fund with the treasury.

Three Negroes Are Hurt In Accident

Three Negroes were receiving treatment in the Charity Hospital following an automobile accident late Friday at the intersection of Bernstein Park road and Berg Jones Lane.

State police identified the Negores injured in the collision as: Verma Larett, 36, Route 2, Newellton, who suffered a lacerated left eye; Saul Guice, 42, also of Newellton, who sustained shoulder injuries; Willie Mae Calleman, 35, whose injuries were listed as lacerations and bruises.

Investigating troopers said the accident occurred when a 1935 Ford traveling west on the Bernstein park road and driven by Albert Dunbar, 42, Negro, Route 2, Newellton, and a 1947 Chevrolet driven by John Jacobs, 31, Negro, Route 4, Monroe headed south on Berg Jones lane crashed at the intersection.

Both vehicles failed to stop, authorities said. The Dunbar car was demolished in the wreck, police said.

ASLEEP AT THE SWITCH

Detroit Lakes, Minn.—(AP)—When police attempted to stop a 26-year-old motorist to question him about a traffic violation recently, he must have had something more important to do because he took off in his car at high speed. Despite warning shots he eluded police in a 16-mile chase.

A little later Clay County Sheriff W. T. Curran found him. He was asleep in the back seat of his car.

News From The Public Library

Today officially opens the thirty-second annual observance of Book Week, which is set this year for the week of November 11-17. Back in 1919 when children's librarians and publishers inaugurated the first Book Week, there were very few beautiful books for children. Now hundreds roll off the presses annually and today's children have a whole world of literature to read that was not dreamed of a generation ago. Each year the Children's Book Council selects a theme for the week. This year's theme is "New horizons with books." Beautiful colored posters developing this theme are on display at all the branches of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Attractive book marks commemorating the week will be given to all children who visit one of the branches of the Library during Book Week.

Although the Ouachita Parish Public Library is always adding new books to its collection, a special effort is always made to have a number of new children's books ready for book week. There are several new titles for boys and girls which will appeal to a variety of readers. A series of books which is very popular with children in the 5th and 6th grades is "The Childhood of Famous Americans." The newest title in this series is "Wilbur and Orville Wright; Boys with Wings" by Augusta Stevenson. Indian stories have been popular with children for a long time and continue to be popular. Sonia Bleeker has written several books about Indians. Her latest one is called "The Sea Hunters' and deals with the Indians of the Pacific Northwest.

Boys and girls of today are very interested in biographies of great men of the past. Especially fitting in the American heritage year is the publication of a new biography by Jeanette Eaton of "George Washington the Nation's First Hero." Another new biography is "Christopher Columbus and His Brothers" by Amy Hogeboom. Munro Leaf has done a number of humorous books which have an underlying strain of seriousness and appeal to children. His latest one is called "Geography Can be Fun." Many children ask for books about the stars and the heavenly bodies. They will be interested in "Patterns in the Sky" by William Maxwell Reed.

A perfectly lovely book for children is "Famous Paintings" collected by Alice Elizabeth Chase. This book should give a child an appreciation of art. All children love horses. "The Big Book of Horses' by Edward L. Chase is a beautiful book with lovely colored pictures. Two books which will have an enormous appeal for small boys are "The Big Book of real Airplanes" and "The big book of Real Trucks." Children who like poetry, and there are many, will welcome the lovely new edition of "Eleanor Farjeon's poems for children.

In addition to the books of facts already mentioned there are a number of exciting new stories for every type of reader. "The Mystery of Hidden Village" by Annette Turngren is one of the ever popular mysteries for boys and girls. "Fiddling Cowboy In Search of Gold" is one of the ranch stories which everyone likes to read. Two charming stories of family life are "The Moffats" and "The Middle Moffat' by Eleanor Estes.

There are several charming new picture books "Papa Small" by Lois Lenski, "The Camel Who Took a Walk" by Jack Tworkve," "Little Leo" by Leo Polito and "Gypsy" by Kate Seredy.

"Tansy for Short' by Ruth Holberg is a story to delight the hearts of 11 year old girls. "The Light at Tern Rock is a story about the sea that will appeal to all those who love the ocean.

A book which should be of great help to Sunday School teachers is "This is the Way" by Jessie Orton Jones. This book contains prayers and precepts from religions all over the world.

Two books which teen-agers will want to see are "Class Ring" by Rosamond Du Jardin and "The Sword and the Compass" by Margaret Leighton.

All children as well as adults are invited to make use of the resources of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Why not start during Book Week.

Claiborne School To Hold Open House

The two-day meeting was held in this city Wednesday and Thursday with 112 women from Louisiana attending. (Staff photo by Greg Hare.)

Miss Sue Madison Honored At Lovely Bridal Parties

Bastrop Bride-Elect Given Luncheon At Country Club And Afternoon Tea At Lotus Club

One of the loveliest pre-nuptial events honoring Miss Sue Madison, Bastrop bride-elect, was the beautiful tea given by Mrs. Shelby Meek and Miss Shelby Meek Saturday afternoon at the Lotus Club.

Attractive arrangements of pink roses and pink chrysanthemums were used at vantage points in the lounge and library creating a theme of pink and white that was carried out throughout the refreshments. A beautiful arrangement of chrysanthemums and tuberoses were placed on the mantel in the library. The tea table, overlaid with a lace cloth, was centered with a clever bridal arrangement. A gathered pink net skirt covered a cake stand with tiny nosegays of pink mums and tuberoses tied to the net with tiny pink satin ribbon. Surrounding the edge of the cake stand were tiny bouquets of the same flowers. This artistic arrangement was flanked on either side by lovely Dresden china candelabras, sent to Mrs. Meek from Germany by her daughter, Mrs. Gordon Mulvey.

Miss Madison was radiantly lovely in a formal gown of orchid satin and net complimented by a corsage of pink mums and tuberoses, a gift of the hostesses.

Greeting the guests at the entrance were Mrs. H. F. Madison, Jr., in a white beaded dinner dress, and Mrs. Joe Davenport, wearing dusty rose. Both wore corsages of red roses.

In the receiving line with the honoree were Mrs. Shelby Meek, Miss Meek, Mrs. George T. Madison and Mrs. James B. Shackelford.

Mrs. Meek was wearing a dusty rose crepe with corsage of pink roses. Miss Meek was attractively gowned in an orchid and coral net over orchid taffeta with pink rose corsage. Mrs. Madison chose a forrest green lace gown with corsage of yellow roses and Mrs. Shackelford wore flesh chiffon complimented by a corsage of dark red roses.

Alternating at the lovely coffee and tea services were Mrs. David Garrett, Mrs. Hillyer Speed, and Mrs. J. C. Liner. Mrs. Garrett was wearing black crepe studded with sequins and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Speed chose a black lace gown with rose corsage and Mrs. Liner was wearing a mauve gown with corsage of red roses.

Assisting in the serving courtesies were Mrs. E. L. Gladney, Jr., in a green crepe beaded dress with rose corsage, Mrs. Webb Madison wearing black net and corsage of pink chrysanthemums, and Mrs. Tom Davenport wearing black crepe and pink chrysanthemum corsage. Tea girls were Miss Elinor Jeanne Pettis, Miss Emory Liles, Miss Carolyn Joe Goodwin, Miss Pettis wore a green taffeta, Miss Liles, pink net and satin, and Miss Goodwin in black velvet with white net. All wore corsages of pink chrysanthemums.

Refreshments of coffee and tea, cheese straws, and turkey sandwiches were served during the afternoon.

Luncheon

The Bayou DeSiard Country Club was the setting for the beautifully planned luncheon Tuesday given by Mrs. J. C. Liner in honor of the lovely Bastrop bride-elect.

The luncheon table was centered with a bride's cake topped with a miniature bridal doll.

Bridal place cards marked places for the following guests: Miss Madison, Mrs. George T. Madison, Mrs. James B. Shackelford, Mrs. John Shackelford, Mrs. David I. Garrett, Miss Emory Liles, Mrs. Joe Dixon, Mrs. Roy Cole, Jr., Miss Shelby, Mrs. Shelby Meek, Mrs. Roy John, Mrs. Craig Shackelford and Mrs. Liner.

Crosley P.- T. A. Has Study Group Meeting

The Crosley P.-T. A. study group met last week for the first study group meeting of the year with Mrs. Hugh Lawrence, chairman, leading the discussion.

Building Healthy Personalities, the topic of discussion was beneficial to the forty-five parents present.

Mrs. Lawrence stated we must not set to high standards for our children, but our important task is to prepare our children for a life in a world that is complex and changing, a world of many standards some contradictory and confusing.

Mrs. Lawrence gave the following principles with which our children can best be fortified for living in the world of today and tomorrow-reverence for life, respect for persons and property, and love of truth and beauty and goodness. At the close of the meeting, parents discussed their problems and were given many helpful suggestions by those present.

Drew P.- T. A. Has Monthly Meeting

The Drew P.-T. A. held their monthly meeting Thursday at the school cafeteria. Mrs. R. M. Drew, vice-president, presided in the absence of Mrs. H. Strozier.

A prayer was given by Mrs. Millie Hodge and the minutes read by the secretary, Mrs. Thelma Frost. Mrs. Vivian Parker reported an enrollment of 43 members. By-laws were read by Mrs. Pauline Welch.

Reports of different committees were given with two projects completed. Mr. Burkett reported landscaping of the school grounds would be completed in the near future.

"Stand Up For the Public Schools," an article taken from the National Parent Teacher's Magazine, was read by Mrs. Hargrove. Room count was won by the first grade.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Hargrove. The next meeting will be held the latter part of November.

Dr. H. J. Sachs To Address Delta Rho Delta Sorority

National Convention Of Local Sorority Will Be Held In Fort Worth, Tex., November 17-18

With the month of November well on its way the social and club season has begun to hum and will continue at an accelerated tempo until the first of the year. There will be a continuous whirl of activities especially in Delta Rho Delta sorority circles.

In observance of National Art Week members of Sigman chapter planned an "Art Exhibit and Silver Tea" which was held on Saturday, November 10 from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Henry Mayo on Lakeside Drive. The tea was well attended and Delta Rho Delta members wish to express their sincere thanks to the ladies of the Twin-Cities and nearby communities who made the tea a success. The entire proceeds of the tea will be used to further the social service activities of the local chapter.

The lecturer for November will be Dr. H. J. Sachs, of Ruston, professor of the foreign language department of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. Dr. Sachs is an old time favorite with Sigma chapter, and manages to work his wholesome optimism into whatever he may discuss. His topic on Monday evening, November 12, will be "Americanism Victorious." The lecture will be in the Cameo Room at the Virginia Hotel at 8:00 p. m.

The national convention of Delta Rho Delta will hold the spot-light for November. Alpha Beta chapter, the mother chapter, will be host to the visiting chapters. Headquarters will be at the Blackstone Hotel. More than 500 delegates and guests will begin registering on Saturday morning, November 17 from the following chapters in Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma: Alpha Beta, Fort Worth; Zeta, Dallas; Omega, Houston; Omicron, Beaumont; Theta, San Antonio; Sigma chapter, Monroe; Epsilon chapter, Shreveport; Iota chapter, Oklahoma City; Kappa chapter, Tulsa. The newest chapter being Corpus Christi, Tex. which was organized November 1.

Many prominent business and professional women of the southern area will be in attendance at the Southwestern Area convention in Fort Worth on November 17 and 18.

A large delegation from Monroe will attend the three day convention.

The month of December is always packed full of interesting plans for Sigma Chapter members. The traditional Christmas Story will be given by Mrs. C. U. Johnson and the annual party and dance will also highlight the holidays for Delta Rho Delta members. The usual social service work will go hand - in - hand with the festivities of the season as members of Sigma chapter are always considerate of those less fortunate and lend a helping hand to those in need.

He is at present doing graduate work in agronomy.

The Home Shift

With

Mildred Swift

Good old frosty weather when you like to sit around the fire and pop corn. Good old fashioned custom that gets the family together to talk over problems. The psychologists tell us meal time is not the time for family conferences. Upsets "Pop" to council on an empty stomach.

Dorothy Mahoney is making draperies for her new home. She called by the office to pick up a bulletin and to get the drapery I made for you to use. I made this according to instructions set up by our extension home management specialist. Comparing the work on this drapery with that made by commercial people in the Twin Cities, I find our methods about the same. Good tailoring is the secret of success in making any curtains. Call our office and ask for Mrs. Roberts when you want to use this drapery.

Lou Underwood is going to take the cornice I have made to show John how to make them for her living room. Call if you want to borrow this, too.

Calling all teen age boys! Ask Eugene Windes, Jr. for his chocolate fudge recipe. I was helping Virginia make a landscape plan last Wednesday. Gene, Jr. served us chocolate fudge and Sue Ann served coffee. Both were delicious.

Did you hear the Jaycee round table discussion Thursday night? Wasn't it fine? Summarizing what they said in "housewifely" language for the benefit of you who missed the discussion; they believe there are two kinds of democracy — do democracy and talk democracy. Now — are you a "doer" or a "talker?" Don't get upset over things completely beyond your control. Look for opportunities in your neighborhood to "do."

Ivy Oliver prepares the best wild duck. Here is the recipe I scooped from a-top her gas range. Salt and pepper the duck. Stuff with a whole onion and celery leaves. Brown the duck in your Dutch oven in a small amount of fat. Pour over this a sauce made of 4 tablespoons Worchester sauce, 2 teaspoons A-1 sauce, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, a pad of garlic, 1 tablespoon catsup, 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Next, cover the bottom of the Dutch oven with about 1 inch of water. Steam until tender on top of the stove. Ivy says cook slowly and keep covered. There's no wild taste and you have your broth for dressing or gravy.

Good-by. I'll see you in this same column next Sunday.

The biggest ALARM of all...

WHEN FIRE STRIKES, you may hear one alarm . . . or two . . . even a third. But the biggest alarm of all is the alarm in your heart.

"Was anybody caught inside? Anybody I know . . . hurt? . . . burned? How'd it start? How much loss?"

You burn up with unsatisfied suspense and curiosity . . . until you see your newspaper.

You grab your paper and all the answers are there. First, in detail, full of local color—as it never is anywhere else.

It's there with all the other news that matters . . . Plus a hundred things you'll find nowhere else.

It doesn't take a fire. You can be just as wrought up about a plan in the town council to widen your street. You never know what's coming . . . so you read your paper every day.

Everybody else is just like you. Everybody reads the newspaper every day. To a housewife, the fire sale can be just as important as the fire.

That's why when you have something to sell, the newspaper is the one place to reach all the people all the time.

In advertising, why deal in fractions? . . .

Magazines reach only fractions of your market. Each one appeals to some people—not to others. No magazine is read by everyone who can possibly buy.

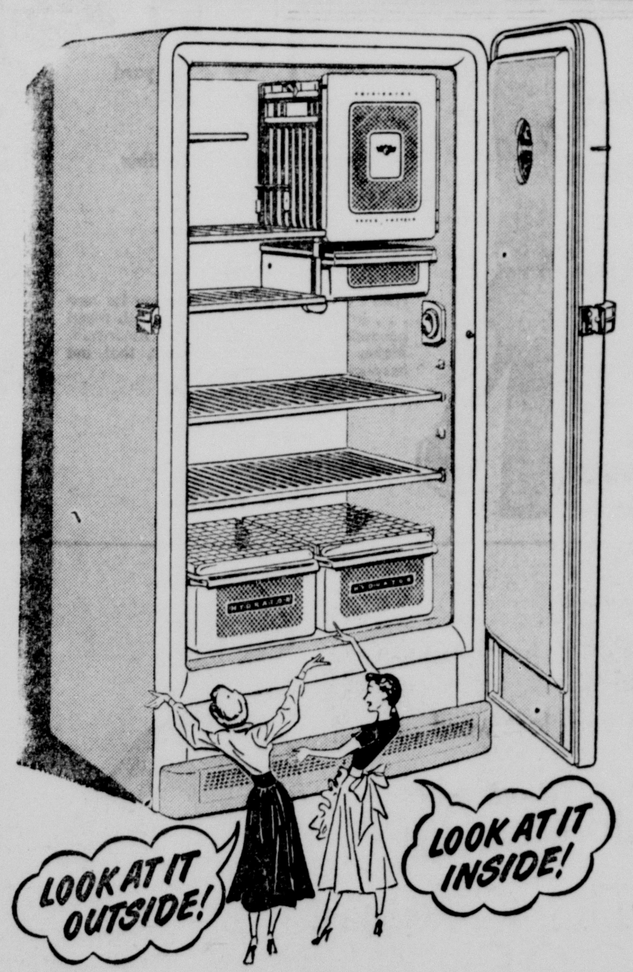

Radio and TV programs reach only fractions of your market. Each one appeals to only a special audience—sports fans, homemakers, kids, etc. And how many of these can listen at the time you broadcast?

The newspaper talks to everybody in town. All your customers read the paper—at the time they choose, for as long as they choose.

Only the newspaper is first with the most news . . . the most people . . . the most advertisers!

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

Whittington-O'Neal

Ferriday, La., Nov. 10. A simple but impressive wedding was that of Miss Fern O'Neal, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. D. V. O'Neal of Vidalia to Pfc. Roice Whittington, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Whittington of Natchez.

The wedding took place Saturday evening, November 3 at the home of Mrs. Beulah Kay. Rev. James W. Crumpton, pastor of the West Side Baptist church officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. David O'Neal, sister - in - law of the bride served as matron of honor. Mr. J. W. Whittington served his brother as best man.

Following a brief honeymoon, the bridegroom will leave for Mountain Home, Idaho, where he is stationed at the Air Force Base there.

WILL BE HONORED

Miss Myrtle Rodgers, principal of Georgia Tucker School of Monroe since September 1922, will be honored at a reception tea November 15th at the Georgia Tucker School. Past and present P.-T. A. presidents and past and present teachers of the school will also be honored on this occasion.

Miss Myrtle Rodgers To To Be Honored At Reception

Georgia Tucker Principal To Share Honors With Past And Present P.- T. A. Presidents and Teachers

November 15 will be a significant day in the history of the Parent Teacher Association of the Georgia Tucker school. The organization will be host at a reception honoring Miss Myrtle Rodgers who has played the role of principal of the school since 1922. Sharing honors with her on this momentous occasion will be past and present P.-T. A. presidents and past and present teachers of Georgia Tucker.

An invitation is extended to all friends of Miss Rodgers and other honorees to attend this festive affair between the hours of seven and nine o'clock in the evening.

The entertainment is planned as a gesture of appreciation of the fine contributions which Miss Rodgers has unselfishly and consistently made throughout her years of service. Her interests have not only been reflected in the field of education but they have extended to the civic and spiritual welfare of the entire community. In the school room and numerous organizations Miss Rodgers' unflagging energy, courage, and understanding have marked her as an outstanding citizen.

The Georgia Tucker Parent Teacher Association had its beginning as a mother's club during the session 1921-22 when there were only five rooms and five teachers. The State Parent-Teacher Organization was not yet covering the entire state. On Friday, February 9, 1923 the first state wide organizational meeting was held in New Orleans at the Grunewald Hotel. Mrs. Virgil Browne was elected 1st state president. The second president, Mrs. Henry Alcus visited Georgia Tucker School Parent-Teacher Association and, the affiliation of the Georgia Tucker Parent-Teacher Association with the Louisiana State Congress of Parents and Teachers dates from the school session 1924-25.

The Georgia Tucker P.-T. A. sent its first delegates to the sixth state convention, first in north Louisiana, which was held in Minden in April 1928. Mrs. C. L. Johnson was the third state president. Mr. O. L. Jones of West Teachers' College was the main speaker of this convention. He gave a strong endorsement of the P.-T. A. when he said: "I would just as soon start a school without a faculty as without a P.-T. A." The principal of Georgia Tucker School feels very much the same way about the P.-T. A. Miss Myrtle Rodgers always says, "Every school should take its public along with it, hand in hand with a common purpose."

The first president of the Georgia Tucker P.-T. A. was Mrs. Henry Haas, (deceased) who served during the session 1921 and '22 when Mrs. Doneil Weil was acting principal and first grade teacher. Miss Myrtle Rodgers came as principal of the school in September 1922. That fall Mrs. Frank Chase was elected president to serve for the session 1922-23.

Some of the minutes of the P.-T. A. for the years past have been misplaced and it is possible that one name is missing. However, it would seem more likely that from the data found the list below is correct:

Session 1923-24 Mrs. E. , Cudd, president.

Session 1924-25, Mrs. Ben Dawkins, president.

Session 1925-26, Mrs. Sam Collins, president (now deceased).

Session 1926-27, Mrs. W. D. King Breard, president.

Session 1927-28, Mrs. W. D. King Breard, president.

Session 1928-29, Mrs. Nell Grigsby, president.

Session 1929-30, Mrs. Nell Grigsby, president.

Session 1930-31, Mrs. W. E. Smith elected, found she could not serve and Mrs. Marie Q. Chambers was elected.

Session 1931-32, Mrs. Marie Q. Chamber, president.

Session 1932 - 33, Mrs. Courtney Oliver, president.

Session 1933-34, Mrs. James Phelps was elected — resigned in the fall, and Mrs. George Lester was elected.

Session 1934-35, Mrs. Isador Liebreich, president.

Session 1935-36, Mrs. William H. Harper, president.

Session 1936-37, Mrs. Joe Durrett.

Session 1937-38, Mrs. Joe Durrett.

Session 1938-39, Mrs. Elmer Richards, president.

Session 1939-40, Mrs. Reggie Hatchell, president.

Session 1940-41, Mrs. Preston Fergus, president.

Session 1941-42, Mrs. Preston Fergus, president.

Session 1942-43, Mrs. O. N. Reynolds, president.

Session 1943-44, Mrs. J. M. Drouet, president.

Session 1944-45, Mrs. J. M. Drouet, president.

Session 1945-46, Mrs. Fletcher Ashcraft, president.

Session 1946-47, Mrs. F. W. Dawson, president.

Session 1947-48, Mrs. F. W. Dawson, president.

Robertson-Horton

Tallulah, La., Nov. 10.—(Special)—Mrs. Mildred G. Horton of Dumas Ark., announces the engagement of her daughter Miss Ida Thelma Horton to Mr. LaVere Crosley Robertson of Birmingham, Ala., son of Mrs. Meldora Robertson of Jena, La. The wedding will take place at the Tallulah Methodist church November 17.

Gray Lady Activities

At the Jackson Street Nursing Home the Gray Ladies and guests have been having the time of their lives recently.

Mrs. Mary Safelsberg has come to live with us for a while. She is accomplished in a literary and musical sense. She plays and everyone gathers around the piano and sings. Mr. J. M. Thompson, Mrs. Ada Mack, Mrs. Reita Gardner, Mrs. Grace Beever and many others sing out. Mrs. Collins no doubt attended singing school at one time. She is a good leader in song, prayer, nursing or almost anything that comes to hand.

Curtis Dean, her son, lives in the home and is always there to fix anything that comes unraveled for his mother. That is a big help.

If you haven't met Mrs. Vedie Canterberry you've missed something. We call her our "red head." She lives in a wheel chair, and though her hair is almost white, she still has that temperament. Quote: "I didn't sleep well, but no bother. Guess I was too busy tending to the other fellow's business" Unquote.

The last Friday in October in which month Mother Mayfield, Robert Creighton, Mrs. Julia Berryhill, Mr. Marion Fuller and Uncle Peter Loper received birthday cards on their natal day, Mrs. Shaver came in bearing the beautiful birthday cake which the kind bakery gives to our home every month. We all sang "Happy Birthday" accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Safelsberg.

The Gray Ladies who served in the month of October at the Collins Home were: Mrs. W. B. Jackson, Mrs. E. B. Shaver, Mrs. J. H. Dodd, Delhi, La., Mrs. B. M. Stone, Mrs. F. N. Steel, Mrs. Christine Moore, Mrs. Neil Buie.

The Gray Ladies are always ready to write letters, read, shop or take guests to the doctor. Mrs. Dodd who drives over from Delhi every Friday, is always ready with her car for such trips.

Optometrist Speaks At November Meeting Of Linwill P.- T. A.

The Lenwill P. T.-A. held its regular monthly meeting Thursday with Mrs. Fred Parrott, presiding.

Mrs. Lomax, second grade teacher, directed the singing of "America, the Beautiful," followed by the Invocation.

Mrs. W. E. Howard, program chairman, presented Dr. Moncrief, an optometrist of Monroe, who was guest speaker. Dr. Moncrief spoke on "The Eye and Its Care." A period was given to questions and answers following the interesting lecture.

A business session followed with reports given by the treasurer, Mrs. M. L. Owens, study group, Mrs. L. A. Whitlock, and scrapbook, Mrs. Clayton Lawrence.

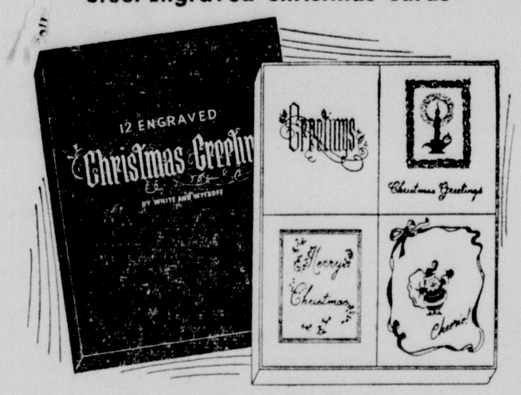

Those attending the district meeting were Mrs. L. A. Banis, Mrs. L. Owens and Mrs. F. E. Parrott.

Miss Wadell's room, the first grade, won the room count. A social hour was enjoyed by both parents and teachers. First grade rooms were hosts.

The next meeting will be held the latter part of November and will be Father's Night. This will be "American Education Week" with emphasis on parents' visits to the schools.

Miss Angie Reagan Is November Bride Of Kenneth Lewis

The chapel of the First Baptist Church of West Monroe, was the scene of an impressive double ring wedding ceremony on Saturday, November 3, when Miss Angie R. Reagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Reagan, of West Monroe, became the bride of Cpl. Kenneth R. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Lewis, of this city.

The Rev. Jaroy Weber, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Eddie Mae Lewis, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Mr. Dennie L. Lewis served as best man. Also attending the groom was Mr. F. H. Reagan, Jr.

The reception was held in the home of the bride's parents following the ceremonies.

The bridal couple then left on a brief trip to Shreveport and Baton Rouge. They will make their home in Newburg, New York, where the groom is stationed at Stewart Air Force Base.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and was attending Northeast Louisiana State College. The groom graduated from Neville High School and was attending Hinds' Junior College at Raymond, Miss., before entering the air force.

Eros 4-H Club Members Have November Meeting

The Eros 4-H club held its November meeting at the Eros agriculture building. The president, Barbara Spillers, presided.

TECH BUSINESS MANAGER NAMED

M'Laurin Reelected Tech Unit Chief Of L. E. A.

Ruston, Nov. 10.—(Special)—W. H. McLaurin, business manager of Louisiana Tech, has been re-elected as president of the Tech unit of the Louisiana Education Association. He was superintendent of schools in Jackson parish for several years prior to joining the Tech staff in 1948.

Re-elected also as officers of the Tech unit of the L. E. A. were C. T. Woodard, director of the teacher - training school, vice - president, and L. C. Curry, accounting professor, secretary.

The Tech unit of the state-wide organization was organized here last year.

At a recent business meeting, the group elected Tech delegates to the convention of the L. E. A. in Shreveport Nov. 18-21. They are Dr. H. J. Sachs, professor of English, and L. C. Curry. A third delegate, George P. Freeman, associate professor of education, was elected last year for a two-year term.

Alternate delegates to the convention are Mrs. J. W. Evans, associate professor of English; Dr. F. O. Adam, Jr., professor of Spanish, and Dr. Dennis P. Noah, professor of education.

In the final five games between the Yankees and Red Sox, the Boston team suffered three shutouts and made a total of four runs.

Ferry Service Is Sought At Parhams

Jonesville, Nov. 10.—(Special)—The Catahoula parish police jury began advertising this week for bids for ferry service at Parhams during the construction of the Smithland cutoff on Black river.

The ferry will operate between Parhams and a point above Monterey on the Concordia parish side of Black river. Engineers have made a guess that it may be in operation anywhere from six months to two years, depending in part on how quickly the new levee at the northeast end of the cutoff settles and becomes compact enough for a road to be installed on top of it.

Specifications include a barge 20 by 40 feet and four feet deep, capable of carrying ten tons. The power unit must be equipped with two engines and two screws, or an auxiliary boat must be kept available in case of power failure on the main boat. The ferry will be on a 24-hour "at call" service.

Cost will be divided, with half paid by the Tensas Basin Levee board and one-fourth each by the police juries of Catahoula and Concordia parishes.

QUITMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Drew Jimerson had as their guests Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilkerson of Beaumont, Tex. Other guests in the Jimerson home were Mr. and Mrs. James Jimerson of Ruston and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Black and daughter Barbara Kay of Monroe.

At the parish F. H. A. annual meeting held at Weston November 3, Miss Nell Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cox of Quitman was elected president of the parish F. H. A. for the coming year. Miss Cox replaced Miss Natile Hathoway who served the club the past year. The next annual meeting of the F. H. A. will be held at Quitman High School with the exact date being announced later in the year.

The Quitman 4-H Club met November 5, for the regular meeting with the president Betty Sue Turner calling the meeting to order. The pledges to the 4-H and U. S. flags were then given. After the reading of the minutes with no new or old business to be discussed the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Iness Bowman who passed out project books to the new members. Francis Nunn daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Nunn is reporter for the club this term.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Waldrip during the week end included: Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Waldrop of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Waldrip of Bastrop. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Waldrip of Jonesboro and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Waldrop of Quitman and their son Eddie Bart.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking . . . without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme . . . because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women . . . smooths out lines and wrinkles . . . firms up the skin . . . makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.

Several Tips Given On Selecting Turkeys

"Turkey is on the plentiful list for November; but whether you raise your own or buy the bird, there are several tips on selection" is advice offered by Mrs. Mildred Swift.

The agent says to watch for a flexible breast bone because that indicates a young bird. A generally plump appearance and broad breast indicates a meaty bird. Streaks of fat under the skin and a clean waxy skin with no bruises or discolorations are good signs of quality. Allow ½ pound dressed weight per person.

Mrs. Swift says the turkey may be roasted in a broiling pan, without top, either covered with a greased cloth, wrapped in aluminum foil or with no covering at all.

The agent states "We have full instructions with time tables for roasting turkeys. These mimeographed instructions are available to all food stores who would like to give one to each customer. Just call 3-2251 and state the quantity needed. They will be mailed the day you call." This is a free service from the L. S. U. agricultural extension department.

Girl Scout News

Echoes from Girl Scout week observances are still drifting in from Troop 38. We hear that the pastor of the Gordon Avenue Methodist Church, the Rev. David Felder, chose as his topic, "The Perfect Woman" and addressed his remarks particularly to the Brownie Scouts. These Scouts are ready to pack an overseas box with the thread, needles and other sewing accessories that they collected Halloween instead of "trick or treat." Mrs. L. C. Bassett, one of the leaders of the troop, reports that neighbors were most cooperative and that a nice collection resulted.

Troop 8 observed two of the days of Girl Scout Week — Homemaking Day by learning to make cookies and Community Life Day by taking them to the old folks home on Pine street. Dividing into three groups, the girls went to the homes of Mrs. Fred Riser, Mrs. W. B. Lindsay, and Mrs. Earl Hicks, where each girl could have a full share of stirring, tasting and watching. It was a lot of fun the girls said, and when fun and good deeds are combined, good Girl Scouting results, we say.

As a result of two mothers' meetings to plan for leadership and troop committee backing, a new Brownie troop met Thursday at the College Place Baptist Church. Leaders of the troop will be Mrs. Vann Pratt, Mrs. G. M. Heidenreich, Mrs. J. Petty. Mrs. W. G. Miller will be chairman of the troop committee with the following also serving: Mrs. H. E. Griffith, Mrs. Charles Cason, Mrs. C. S. McIntosh, Mrs. Frank Frances, Mrs. R. P. Ponselle, Mrs. J. H. Belot. With such careful preparation it sounds as if this troop is off to a good start.

Last we heard, Troop 2 and Troop 41, both 5th grade West Monroe troops were planning to mar[illegible] in the Armistice Day parade yesterday. Wonder if any other troops did?

Most fifth grade, or "fly-up" troops are working on second class rank requirements. Troop 11 fulfilled the music requirement in a unique way. They asked Mrs. F. J. Willey to help them and she responded by bringing with her some of the members of the Neville band who demonstrated various types of instruments. Mrs. Paul Blackman and Mrs. Frank Smith are leaders of this live-wire troop, which is sponsored by the Georgia Tucker P.-T. A.

Remember last year we had playdays for both Brownie and Intermediate Scouts during Thanksgiving week when teachers were gone to convention? Well, if you girls want them again, tell your leaders so they can plan together for it.

Board President Frances Albright and husband, Clay are having a wonderful trip to Havana, Cuba. Isn't it nice that they can miss a little of our cold weather?

It isn't for vacation, but executive director Annis Klie will be out of town until Thursday afternoon attending a professional staff meeting in Little Rock.

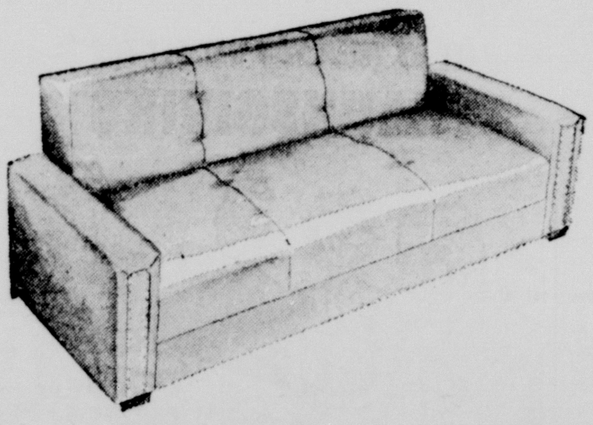

If any of you like to wield a paint brush and didn't get in on yesterday's painting party at the Girl Scout camp, put on your old clothes and drive out this afternoon. Even an hour or so helps. Cross the bridge at Sterlington and after about a half mile, turn right at the Girl Scout sign and follow signs all the way. Come and join the fun!

You Can Play This Hand Several Ways

By Oswald Jacoby

By Oswald Jacoby

How would you play the South hand at six spades if you couldn't see the East and West hands? You win the king of clubs with the ace, of course, and you take the ace of trumps. What next?

If you like the way you guess, you can try to guess which defender has the queen or hearts. Even if you guess wrong, you will still make your contract if the diamond finesse succeeds.

Opening lead—♣ K

You might improve your chances somewhat by ruffing out the jack of clubs and then taking the king of hearts followed by a finesse of the heart jack. If that finesse happened to lose to a doubleton queen of hearts, West would be end-played. He would have to return a club or a diamond, giving you the slam.

The best play, in my opinion, is to lead the jack of clubs at the third trick and let West win the trick. Just discard a low heart from dummy as West takes his queen of clubs.

What can West return? A diamond gives you a free finesse, after which you can ruff two hearts in the dummy. A club lets dummy ruff while you discard the queen of diamonds.

West can give you trouble only if he returns a heart. But then, also, you are home if the queen of hearts appears on the first, second, or third round of that suit. If it does, you will have four heart tricks and discard both losing diamonds from the dummy.

Even if West returns a heart and you are held to three heart tricks, you are still in position to take a diamond finesse as your final shot.

One play is about as good as another if West happens to return a heart. The reason I like this way of playing the hand is that there is a very fine chance that West will have a brainstorm and return a club or a diamond. When in doubt always give the opponents a chance to make a mistake.

Q—The bidding has been: East, 1 N. T.; South, Pass; West, 3 N. T.; North, Pass.

East, Pass; South, Pass.

You, South, hold: Spades A-J-10-7-5, Hearts K-J-4, Diamonds Q-7-5, Clubs 6-2. What do you lead?

A—Lead the jack of spades. Naturally you lead your long suit. The card to lead from this combination is the jack, the top of the interior sequence.

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-K-J-7-3, Hearts 8-6-2, Diamonds 9-7-5, Clubs 10-4. What do you lead?

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By Oswald Jacoby

Time Limit Denies Penalty

I've been saving a batch of questions on "time limits" for a rainy day, and this seems like a good time to answer them. All of the questions have to do with irregularities and with how long the non-offending side can wait before claiming a penalty for the error.

The general answer is that you must call attention to an error at once if you intend to exact a penalty. You can't let the play continue and decide later on that you want to start waving the rule book around.

For example, one of my letters came from a rather desperate-sounding man. In a two-handed game of Canasta with his wife, he made an insufficient meld. She said nothing at the time, but wanted to enforce a penalty four plays later. Apparently the argument got a bit warm on both sides, and the upshot was a letter to me.

The rule is that you must call attention at once to your opponent's insufficient meld if you intend to apply the penalty. The moment the next player acts — by drawing a card or by putting cards down on the table to take the discard pile — that insufficient meld is condoned. That is, it is considered a perfectly legal meld.

Another question had to do with a deal out of turn. Somebody dealt when it wasn't his turn to deal; and the player at the left of this mistaken dealer took the first card from the top of the stock. Then the player who should have dealt spoke up. Does the deal stand, or should there be a new deal?

The deal stands. As soon as the first play begins, the deal becomes condoned. You just forget all about the player who should have dealt. If John Doe is the culprit who grabbed the cards out of turn, his deal stands; and the next dealer is the player at Doe's left.

Several questions have been asked on mistakes in the discarding. Sometimes a player discards without drawing; and sometimes a player discards more than one card. These are errors, of course, but they are condoned as soon as the next player draws (or as soon as he puts cards down on the table to take the discard pile).

The time limit for replacing a red three follows the same principle. For example, you put a red three on the table and forget to draw a card to replace it. You're allowed to correct that error until the next player begins his play. After that, you have to get along without the replacement.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

HEALTH NURSES CONDUCT MEET

Monthly In-Service Session Held In Local Headquarters Here

The public health nurses for the northeastern section held their monthly in-service meeting at the Ouachita parish health unit on Thursday. The following program was enjoyed by all present:

1. Case Findings of early syphilis by the public health nurse, by Mrs. A. Jones, PHN, Ouachita parish.

2. Blindness due to syphilis, by Ethel Trapp, PHN, Ouachita parish.

3. Dental findings in relation to congenital syphilis, by A. Tatman, public health nurse, East Carroll parish.

4. Joint action against congenital syphilis, by Katherine Taylor, public health nurse, Richland parish.

5. Treatment progress in V. D. control, and the nurse in a changing V. D. program, by Nell King, public health nurse, Catahoula parish.

6. V. D. programs in European countries, by Pauline Tarver, public health nurse, Ouachita parish.

Two very good films "Birthright" and "Health Is a Victory" were shown.

In the afternoon session Dr. Summer, director of the Ouachita parish health unit, very capably covered the medical aspects of venereal disease.

The following persons attended: A. Tatman, East Carroll; F. B. Cottingham, Caldwell; L. May, West Carroll; V. Harlow, Jackson; M. Steen, Winn; P. Tarver, A. Jones, E. Trapp, A. Rogers, Ouachita; T. MONEY FORMING BIGGEST WORRY

Nearly Half Population Distressed As To Their Finances

By Dr. Leland Gordon

A dilemma suggests a choice between unsatisfactory alternatives—and that is just about what most American consumers face today.

In a recent national poll the question was asked: "What would you say is your biggest worry these days?"

Forty-six per cent of the men and forty-five per cent of the women replied that their biggest worries were about money.

Their second greatest worry, though only 21 per cent cited it, was the threat of another war. Actually there is a close relationship between these two worries, because wars and preparation for war have always led to deficit spending by the federal government, and this is the basic cause of higher prices.

And what, exactly, is deficit spending?

It means that that the government is spending more than it is taking in, in tax revenues. The difference is made up by borrowing. When this borrowing is accomplished by the government selling bonds to commercial banks, new money is put into circulation in the form of bank loans to individuals. When this new money exceeds the rate of production, then more dollars are competing for the same volume of goods, and prices rise.

On the surface, we seem more prosperous as a nation than ever before. Compared to 1939, we have three times as much money in circulation, consumer income is up a little over three times, and prices are not quite twice as high.

About 61 per cent of the people actually are in better circumstances financially today: those whose incomes are flexible, such as common stock holders, farmers, small business owners, organized workers. But 7 per cent are worse off. And 49 per cent of all American families have less than $3,000 annual incomes, which isn't enough to live on in these days when the dollar is worth 53½ cents compared to 1939.

Those who are pretty well off now have the problem of what to do with their money. Should they spend it now, expecting prices to be higher later, or should they save? Will goods be available later?

There is no sure-fire answer to the consumer's problem, of course. But there are three ways in which we can halt the steady rise in prices: increase taxes, reduce non-essential expenditures by the government, increase individual purchase of government bonds.

A raise in taxes is an unpopular yolution, to the individual, but look at it this way: the government is now spending at the rate of sixty billion dollars per year, and that amount will increase. What the government does not get in tax income it will get by borrowing — which brings us back to deficit financing and subsequent higher prices.

Government economy measures would help. Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois has said that federal expenditures can be cut by five billion dollars, and has pointed out how it can be done — but so far the majority of his colleagues have failed to support his proposals when they came to the vote.

The third way to stop price rises is for individuals to buy government bonds. Not only is this a safe investment for the consumer, but since it is a transfer of purchasing power there will not be any consequent increase in prices.

Twenty-eight million American families are investing in government bonds now. For all those whose incomes permit some savings, expert opinion agrees that U. S. bonds are their best buy.

My advice to consumers with incomes less than $3,000 is to shop carefully — price variations on identical merchandise range up to as much as 80 per cent; and to plan expenditures and keep a record of them, with a budget.

All consumers can help, by being more active as citizens. Study and argue about economic and political issues. Support inflationary control measures, and let your state and national representatives hear from you. Tell them if you approve, and tell them if you disapprove — but tell them!

DRINKING PAYS OFF

Columbus, O., —(AP)— State Liquor Director William C. Bryant predicts the department's net profit will hit an all-time high of $ 20 million this year.

Ohioans buy liquor through a system of state liquor stores. Bryant says 1951 sales should run between $170 million and $175 million. The previous record profit was $16,943,364 in 1947 on total sales of $137,528,157.

PEACE AND U. S. REARMING FIGHT

War Preparations Called Out Of Line With Efforts For World Peace

St. Louis, Mo. Nov. 10.—(Special)—"Peace will come not because we prepare for war—that only tends to arouse the violent and easy emotions: fear, greed, vengeance, and hatred; but because we teach men to love one another in Christ. It's as easy as all that. It's as hard as all that."

In a special Armistice Day message, prepared for delivery over the Mutual Network and affiliated stations tomorrow, the Rev. Prof. Armin C. Oldsen, Lutheran Hour speaker, will emphasize the need for Chrisitan love in preventing a third world war.

Tomorrow will mark the thirtieth anniversary of the burial of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National cemetery, and Prof. Oldsen will, in spirit, have the Unknown Soldier ask the question "Has there been peace since I died?" The Lutheran Hour speaker will answer that question and the reasons for the lack of peace.

Admitting the need for arming in defense of such a ruthless enemy as communism, Prof. Oldsen will tell his international audience that "there is no enduring security in a competing arms race."

Noting that the Bible clearly indicates there will be war till the end of the world, Prof. Oldsen will say that because war is a horrible evil "it is the business of the Christian church to seek to make war impossible, though it knows it can never be completely successful." Drawing a comparison with the Biblical indication that there would be pain and suffering, Prof. Oldsen will note that every true Christian seeks to alleviate pain and suffering even though he knows he can never be completely successful.

Concluding his address "Doing Your Part for Peace" Prof. Oldsen will urge his listeners to make peace with God through Christ, and then share that peace with their fellowmen.

Music on the program, which will originate from the campus studios of Concordia Seminary here, will be furnished by the Concordia Theological Seminary chorus of Springfield, Ill.

GOOD START

Pincher Creek, Alta., —(AP)— If it keeps up, this Southern Alberta district should have plenty of snow this winter. A total of 14 inches fell in three days recently.

Low-Down on a high-powered Performer

Let us tell you this:

The Buick pictured here packs more power than you find in any other car of its size and room and price.

That's the power of Buick's newest high-compression valve-in-head eight—the F-263 Fireball Engine, that really gets miles from a gallon of gas.

Add to this the fact that it tips the scales at 3817 pounds curbside—and you begin to see why this big-powered beauty is such a nimble-footed number out on the road.

But that's only Chapter I of the performance story.

There's a big-car feel to the way this trim traveler covers the ground—hugs the curves—holds its course on the straightaway—smothers the bumps with its big soft coil springs on all four wheels.

There's big-car room inside—six-passenger room—headroom, hiproom, shoulderroom, kneeroom, front and back.

Come in, look it over, and we think you'll agree—it's big in everything but price.

And that's where it really shines. If you've shopped around you'll know what we mean when you read the price tags, and what they include in the way of standard equipment that shows up as "extras" on so many others. Such things as an oil filter, air cleaner, vacuum booster, built-in summer ventilation are all yours at no extra charge.

It's hard to believe but it's true. If you can afford a new car, you can afford this Buick at the prices we're quoting today.

Better come in and look this smart buy over.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Yes, in some circumstances. No all-inclusive answer is possible. More widowers than widows suffer mental breakdown. Women are disgusted and frightened at more things than men. Whether this is due to heredity or training is not known. More women develop hysterical symptoms. Some evidence indicates women undergo surgical operations better than men. Nobody pays much attention to Mom's headache, but everybody must tip-toe when Dad's head aches. Our booklet, "How to Manage Your Feelings and Emotions," sent at cost, 15 cents (coin only) plus self-addressed stamped evelope.

Answer To Question No. 2

2. Yes, according to Scientific American, relating the work of Columbia University Psychologist Carl J. Warden. Ranking them in order he finds man at the top; next come monkeys and great apes; meat eaters: dog, fox, cat, lion and tiger; grazing animals: elephant, horse, pig, cow, deer and zebra. He finds animals that suckle their young rank highest in intelligence.

Answer To Question No. 3

3. The statement is mostly false. The male brute always discovers that any work he doesn't like to do is "woman's work" — sewing, knitting, making beds, washing dishes and the like. During World War II women proved that they can do about 90 per cent of all jobs as well as men. It looks bad for the male's claim of "superiority."

Want To Learn Self-Control?

How To Manage Your Feelings and Emotions is Dr. Wiggam's new illustrated booklet.

It describes clearly what happens to both your mind and body when your feelings and emotions conquer you and it also fully explains what you can do about it — how you can master your feelings and gain self-confidence.

This remarkable booklet is yours for 15 cents (in coin only). Address Dr. A. E. Wiggam care of this newspaper. Include a stamped (3 cents) self-addressed return envelope.

A hearty welcome awaits you at all hours of worship. God expects the members to be loyal to the worship of the Sanctuary, and all people are invited, if they are without a church home.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
224 Auburn Ave.

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the lesson - sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, November 11, 1951.

The golden text is: "Ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light. . .proving what is acceptable unto the Lord" (Eph. 5:8, 10).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson - sermon is the following from the Bible: "And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man becam a living soul" (Gen. 2:7).

The lesson - sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spiritually followed, the book of Genesis is the history of the untrue image of God, named a sinful mortal" (p. 502).

K. P. SISTER CHIEF

CLEONE HOGAN

CLEONE HOGAN TO BE HONORED

Head Of Pythian Sisters To Be Guest In Monroe Two Days

Mrs. Cleone Hogan, supreme chief, Pythian Sisters, of Albuquerque, N. M., will be in Monroe November 17th and 18th to obligate a class of candidates. Mrs. Hogan will have with her the original Bible that was used to obligate the first class of candidates at the institution of the first temple at Warsaw, Ind., October 23, 1888.

Since her installation as supreme chief in August 1950, Mrs. Hogan has travelled over 50,000 miles and has obligated over 1,500 new members in 50 classes. This class will be composed of candidates from the tri-states of Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Mrs. Hogan first joined the order in Flagstaff, Ariz. in 1920, moving to New Mexico, in 1924 immediately becoming affiliated with the local group, and from there working her way through the various grand temple chairs, becoming grand chief of the jurisdiction of New temple, by being elected as supreme representative in 1936, continuing her work in the supreme temple, by being elected as supreme guard in 1940, cuiminating her Pythian activity in being chosen as supreme chief in 1950.

Her major objectives has been the furtherance of the work of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis for which her organization raised over 31,000.00 dollars during the last drive. Also many thousands of dollars were raised for the Heart and Cancer Drives. Many citations and awards have been presented to her for her meritorious work. Her recent appointment being a colonel-aide-de-camp on the governor's staff of the state of New Mexico.

Bible Comment

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Social justice, purity, and honor, a competent Biblical scholar (in Hasting's Bible Dictionary) has set down as the ideal elements of the Jewish law.

He credits Moses with propounding the laws and regards later developments as having come in succeeding times of prophetic fervor and national zeal.

The Ten Commandments are, of course, the most familiar of the laws. One cannot read far in the dictionaries and commentaries on the Bible without realizing the nature and extent of the Commandments and the whole elaborate law and ritual, of which they are a part.

The Commandments, with reference to their wider Mosaic and Jewish environment of law and ritual, have widely commended themselves to the world as a moral code, basically related to the social justice, purity, and honor which it was the noblest achievement of Judaism to seek and uphold as the true life for man and society.

The Ten Commandments, even when not obeyed by the wayward, or even where their religious recognition of the one God has not been acknowledged, have been widely accepted as a moral code and variously established in the legal codes of many lands.

Despite all the moral laxity of much of modern life, the broken homes, the sexual looseness and adulteries, the cheapening of human life, the stealing in practice and in spirit, either illegally or within the exact letter of the law, it is still true that the strength and welfare of a people depends upon the reality with which the essence of the Ten Commandments is ingrained in the life and practice of the community.

Integrity of family life, honor of parents, devotion to children, regard for the liberties and rights of others — these are the elements upon which social strength and welfare depend; and the extent to which they are denied and disregarded indicates the depths of weakness to which many communities have fallen, and the acuteness of the problems confronting society as a whole.

Yet there is something more, and higher, than the Commandments.

John 1:17 states, "The law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ."

This does not mean that Jesus originated grace and truth, but that He, as He Himself said, fulfilled what was inherent in the law. For the New Testament everywhere represents the fulfillment of the law in the commandment of love—"Thou shalt," instead of only "Thou shalt not."

The Ten Commandments would establish correctness of life. The law of love is a dynamic, quickening fulness of life in the growth of grace and knowledge.

TAXATION MINUS REPRESENTATION

This Called Case Of Hawaii By Mrs. Corbett; Urges For Statehood

"Taxation without representation is the basic reason for Hawaii's desire to become the forty-ninth state," stated Mrs. Nancy Corbett in a lecture in the Cameo Room of the Virginia Hotel, as she addressed a group of business women. "We want a voice in the government, just as you have. We are a very American community, just as American as any community on the mainland. The matter of statehood for Hawaii is one of great urgency. It no longer is a local problem, but one of international significance."

Mrs. Corbett is making a tour of the United States speaking in behalf of legislation to give Hawaii her right to statehood.

Mrs. Corbett stated further, "We want our right to statehood. We think we have earned it. There are bewildered millions in Asia looking to us for guidance. We are fighting in Korea in order to give them the right to self-government. We have just signed a peace treaty with Japan, our defeated enemy, to give them the right to self-government. Yet, we, the people of Hawaii, are denied this privilege."

The educational system in Hawaii is centralized. Country and urban schools are operated under the same principles. Teachers are required to have five years of college to teach in the schools. All teachers are paid the same salaries, according to their qualifications, regardless of what they teach.

Culturally, Hawaii has advanced to a very high degree. In Honolulu, the citizens sponsor a symphony orchestra which is over fifty years old. The communities sponsor Little Theatre productions, just as communities on the mainland do. Mrs. Corbett said "As a matter of fact if you and your families should come to Hawaii to live, you would live much the same as you do here. You and your husbands would belong to the same civic clubs as you do here on the mainland. Your entertainment would be similar. In our business districts, you will find the same big chain stores just as you have here." The Academy of Arts and Sciences, in Honolulu, is internationally known and recognized. Mrs. Corbett was director of the academy for fifteen years.

"Hawaii is also politically mature," states Mrs. Corbett. "For the election of delegates to the constitutional convention recently, ninety per cent of the registered voters turned out. We are interested in our government even though we have no voice in it. The citizens of Hawaii are loyal people. It has been said that we are Communistic. What better propaganda could the Communists have than the situation in Hawaii. The United States advocates and fights for self - government for other countries, yet denies that privilege to its own citizens."

The purpose of Mrs. Corbett's lecture tour is to inform the people and alert them to the urgency of granting Hawaii her right to statehood. She urged everyone to write local representatives in Washington, requesting their support when the legislation is brought up in January.

Mrs. Corbett's visit to Monroe was sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club. She brought with her beautiful Hawaiian leis, made from orchid blooms and flown here from Hawaii. These were presented to members of the club in the traditional Hawaiian manner.

Her traveling companions on the tour are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fox. Mr. Fox is associated with the public relations department of the Hawaiian government.

WANT EMBARGO LIFTED

Singapore, —(AP)— Hong Kong manufacturers who attended a recent economic conference here with American officials hope to see the U. S. embargo on raw materials to Hong Kong lifted.

They escorted E. E. Schnellbacher and Eugene Braderman of the Department of Commerce around their exhibits at the Happy World Exposition here. The idea was to let the Americans see for themselves that goods manufactured from American raw materials were mainly intended for export to Southeast Asia.

THE STORY OF THANKSGIVING

Baptist Student Union BUILDING DAY

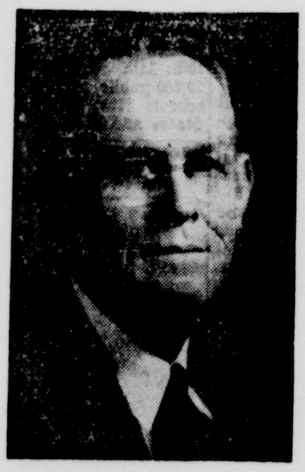

Nov. 18 in all Baptist Churches

Nov. 18 is the day The Ouachita Parish Baptist Association voted unanimously to recommend to the 36 Churches of the association to take an offering for a Religious Baptist Student Union Building. This building to be adjacent to the campus of Northeast State College, corner of College Avenue and DeSiard Street.

Mr. T. H. Scott, Mr. W. C. Salley and Mr. P. A. Colvin have agreed to donate their valuable time away from their business to make contacts with the business people of the Twin Cities in this campaign. Your co-operation is needed and appreciated.

Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., chairman steering committee for Baptist Student Union Building and Pastor of College Place Baptist Church.

Mr. H. K. Litton, Treasurer of Baptist Student Union Building fund campaign. Mr. Litton is a Monroe business man and an active, consecrated Baptist, a member of the First Baptist Church of Monroe. Please mail all contributions to Mr. Litton, P. O. Box 905, Monroe, La.

The Need Is Presented

We have 254 Baptist Students enrolled at Northeast State College. This college is now a four year college. New dormitories will be added and boarding students will come from all parts of North Louisiana. The need will grow greater for such a building. Other state colleges in Louisiana have Baptist Student Centers and secretaries.

Surely we need such a building at Northeast State College for our students.

After the lots purchased are paid for (balance due $2200.00), the Baptist State Executive Board of Louisiana will give $3.00 to every $1.00 on the building and will maintain a Baptist Student Secretary.

THIS NEED WILL BECOME GREATER! GIVE AND GIVE LIBERALLY FOR THIS WORTHY CAUSE.

The Ouachita Parish Baptist Association elected the following committee to conduct the campaign for the Baptist Student Union Building.

Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., Chairman
Miss Mae Read, Recording Secretary.

MADISON PARISH CORN KING

Bobby Neumann, "King Corn of Madison Parish for 1951" and his prize corn. Bobby made 161.66 bushels of corn on an acre, using Dixie 18 hybrid corn. He is a 12-year-old 4-H Club member of the Tallulah Grammar School.

ADULT CORN CHAMPION

H. S. Arender, adult winner of the Madison Parish Chamber of Commerce Corn Contest and his prize winning corn. Mr. Arender produced 154 bushels of Dixie 11 corn on one acre.

MADISON CORN CHAMPS NAMED

Bobby Neumann 4-H Club Winner In Madison Parish

Tallulah, La., Nov. 10.—(Special)—Bobby Neumann, 12-year old 4-H Club member, was crowned "king corn of Madison for 1951" at the annual corn contest banquet held on Thursday night, November 8 at the Tallulah Book Club.

J. W Love, president of the Madison Parish Chamber of Commerce made the presentation and awarded Bobby $30.00 for producing 161.66 bushels per acre, the highest yield of corn made in the contest and in the junior division. The Louisiana Hybrid Seed Growers Assocation presented him a check for $25.00 for being the highest producer of Louisiana or Dixie Hybrid corn seed in the contest.

H. S. Arender won first place in the adult division with a yield of 154 bushels per acre. Mr. Arender was second highest corn producer in the parish. He was presented a check for $30.00 as first place winner in the adult division by Mr. Love.

The Madison parish high yield corn contest is sponsored by the Madision Parish Chamber of Commerce and agriculture extension service. The purpose is to see how much corn can be produced on an acre of corn. Any variety may be used and any amount of fertilizer may be used. The sole purpose of the contest being to see who can raise the most corn per acre. There are two divisions this year, one for adult farmers and one for 4-H-FFA members. The Chamber of Commerce donates $75.00 in prize money for one division and Mr. R. N. Ware, Jr., manager, Chicago Mill and Lumber Company donates $75.00 for prize money for the other division.

Other winners in the junior divisions were:

Carneal Woodyear, second, $20.00 124 bushels per acre.

William Fulford, third, $10.00, 113 bushels per acre.

Alfred Welch, fourth, $5.00, 112 bushels per acre.

David Shivers, fifth, $5.00, 107 bushels per acre.

Rex Minter, sixth, $5.00, 106 bushels per acre.

Other winners in the adult division:

Leonard Neumann, second, $20.00 131 bushels per acre.

E. E. Holloway, third, $10.00, 124, bushels per acre.

B. G. Hammond, fourth, $5.00, 119 bushels per acre.

Howard Sevier, fifth, $5.00, 119 bushels per acre.

E. C. Woodyear, sixth, $5.00, 118 bushels per acre.

Seven F. F. A. and 4-H Club boys and twelve adults made over 100 bushels of corn per acre. They were presented with a certifivate admitting them to the "100 Bushel Corn Club." The only way a farmer can get in this club is to enter the contest and produce 100 bushels or more corn per acre. Those receiving "100 Bushels Corn Club" certificates were: H. S. Arender, Leonard Neumann, E. E. Holloway, B. G. Hammond, Howard Sevier, E. C. Woodyear, Geor. Montgomery, A. B. Bible, T. A. Smith, John W. Carpenter, J. R. Newell, Ashly Plantation, Robert Neumann, Carneal Woodyear, William Fuflford, Alfred Welch, David Shivers, Rex Minter and James Fulford.

Twenty-three adult farmers entered the contest and 18 finished. Twenty - four 4-H and F. F. A. boys entered the contest and eleven finished. The average yield of the 29 contestants finishing was 103 bushels per acre.

J. B. Holley, corn breeder on E. C. Woodyear plantation, discussed "What Is Hybrid Corn." A panel discussion on "Practical High Yields of Corn" was led by C. B. Haddon, superintendent northeast Louisiana experiment station, St. Joseph. Farmers on the panel were E. C. Woodyear, B. G. Hammond, Derwood Wilhite, and Howard Brown.

T. P. MEAD GETS AWARD IN ART

'Sawmill' Painter Gets Honorable Mention In La. Art Exhibition

Ruston, Nov. 10.—(Special)—An honorable mention award for his painting, "Sawmill," was won this week by T. P. Mead, Louisiana Tech art instructor, in competition at the first Louisiana art exhibition conducted by the Louisiana Art commission and sponsored by the Louisiana Forestry commission.

Mr. Mead's entry depicted a Ruston sawmill scene.

For this first event, 248 entries were received from artists throughout the state and plans are to conduct the exhibition every two years.

The exhibition will remain installed in the old state capitol in Baton Rouge through Sunday, Dec. 2. After its showing there, plans are to select two sets of pictures which will be circulated about the state on a loan basis similar to the traveling exhibitions circulated by the art commission.

Winning paintings, which become the property of the forestry commission, will be displayed in the form of a documented panel exhibition at the national foresters' convention Dec. 21-22 at Biloxi, Miss.

ROOM TEACHERS HOLD SESSION

Workshop For 1952 Is Discussed And Plans Are Formulated

The Ouachita Parish Classroom Teachers' Association held its regular meeting in the Ouachita Parish Grammar School on Monday evening, with Mrs. Joe Coleman, president, presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Lorraine Cook, secretary.

A letter was read from Mrs. Ione Hill, president of the City Classroom Teachers' Association, inviting our group to their meeting on Tuesday night. Their speaker will be Mrs. C. W. Flowers, state classroom teachers' president, who will have valuable information regarding the LEA meeting in Shreveport.

Mrs. Malcolm LeFevre reported on the general planning committee of the teachers' workshop. A motion was made that the classroom teachers take under consideration and be willing to share the expense of the entertainment for the 1952-53 workshop. Mrs. LeFevre, program chairman, then led the group in an informal get - acquainted game. Prizes were won by Mrs. Conn, Mrs. Lera Hennessey, Mrs. McKinney, and Mrs. Gerald Manning.

Our Children

INCURABLE?

There are children who come into the world without the essential power for living among wholly equipped people of high intelligence and potentialities . Sadly the doctor says, "the condition is incurable," and the parents, overwhelmed by the catastrophe, take their afflicted child home, not knowing where to turn or what to do to help him.

First, accept the incurable condition but don't stop there. No child ever was born into this world with the use of his hands and feet, or even slight use of them, who could not be helped in some way that would make his life endurable and even happy. I say that because I saw helpless children for whom there seemed no possible help taught to stand, walk, even skate on rollers, all because a man named Johnstone decided they could and devoted his days to seeing that they did.

It may seem useless to teach a child who can scarcely talk clearly to say a few words understandably, to teach a child whose hands are stiff and tense to make a crude basket, to teach a child whose feeble steps land him flat on the floor to stand up and walk a short distance. That is because you, in the fullness of your powers, can have no knowledge of the thrill of success, the warmth of joy that floods the being of a helpless child when he learns he can do something he could not do before.

Yes, it is worth while. It is worth all the time and patience and money such teaching demands. There is a soul within the stunted body and it struggles toward the light of understanding, toward love. How a child whose spirit is darkened by affliction yearns for the love, for the approbation that he sees showered upon other children, how in his loneliness he gropes for a frindly hand, listens for a word of appreciation, only those who have worked for and with such children can ever know.

These children should not be hidden as shameful creatures, who cast a blight on the family's record. They must be protected from the cruelty of unknowing people but they should go to school, associate with healthy wholesome children as much as possible, as much as their condition allows. And they should be taught. They should be exposed to education for nobody knows what possibilities lie within their stunted bodies.

We accept the bard fact that certain conditions are permanent, that physical and mental limitations are set upon these children, but there is always something left that we can build on, and even a little light, a little more strength, a little more understanding will mean all the difference between misery and joy for the afflicted child. Keep trying.

FOUNDER OF GIRLSTOWN

Miss Amelia Anthony the founder and director of Girlstown, U. S. A., will make her first appearance in Monroe at the Woman of the Year banquet Tuesday evening at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club. Girlstown is located at Whiteface, Tex., and now has 64 girls living in its home. The home anticipates expanding to take care of 800 girls. It is operated on the same basis as Boystown.

Founder Of Girlstown, U.S.A. Will Speak At Banquet Here

Miss Amelia Anthony Will Discuss Juvenile Delinquency And Girlstown At The Woman Of The Year Banquet Tuesday At Bayou DeSiard Country Club

Women of the Twin Cities will get their first glimpse of Girlstown, U. S. A., at Whiteface, Tex., Tuesday night when its founder and director, Miss Amelia Anthony speaks at the Woman of the Year banquet at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Founded March 13, 1949, Girlstown, is presently taking care of 64 girls and anticipates facilities for 500 girls for its tenth birthday in 1959.

Brought to Monroe by the Inter-Club council who annually sponsors the Women of the Year banquet, Miss Anthony will discuss juvenile delinquency.

The Girlstown founder explains that Girlstown is not a limited project. Already in this home, she pointed out are girls from California, Colorado, Oklahoma, Louisiana, New Mexico and Alabama, as well as Texas.

Daily Girls Town receives applications from the forth-eight states and there are now more than 800 applications on file.

"We must have additional funds for more buildings so that we can meet this ever increasing need of Girlstown, U. S. A.," she declared.

"The only reason we do not have more girls in our home is strictly finances," asserted Miss Anthony.

In 1949, Girlstown, U. S. A. was incorporated and granted a charter by the attorney general of Texas, then the commissioner of internal revenue at Washington, D. C., granted the home exempt status, making all contributions to the home deductible from income tax.

The purposes as stated in the Girlstown charter are as follows:

1. It will be the aim and object of the home to teach the girls in its charge the art of home-making so as to qualify them to make good wives and mothers in later life, and to this end all activities of the girls in this home will be planned and supervised at all times.

2. It will be the aim and object of this home to teach girls the basic principles of life, instilling the fundamentals of christianity, so as to make them honorable and up right citizens and to aid in reducing juvenile delinquency in the coming generation; at all times teaching and training the girls to be self supporting and self respecting, and in this fulfill the functions and principles of a normal home and forever relieving our girls from any stigma that might be placed on them had they been a member of an institution, since Girlstown, U. S. A. is not an institution, but is created for an will function as a home for its girl members.

The charter safeguards this home from ever being controlled by any state of federal agency, political, religious or insitiutional control, Miss Anthony asserted. "It is a home of democracy."

In discussing Girlstown, Miss Anthony states, it is not an orphanage.

Miss Anthony says that in every state in the United States a home for all types of children, both boys and girls have already been established. For instance there are 350 boys ranches, Boys Towns and boys homes in the United States. We have homes, institutions for handicapped children, girls and boys, mental or physical, declared Miss Anthony.

Then we have orphanages, we have institutions established for delinquent girls as well as delinquent boys, the director said and thus we opened our home for neglected girls, girls who had parents, girls who through no fault of their own are left without a proper home where they can receive the training which will make them useful and constructive citizens.

Girlstown is a prevention of juvenile delinquency. "We operate on the old fashioned theory that a child knows only that you teach him," stated Miss Anthony.

"We know that if a child is left in a home where the home is operated and maintained by delinquent parents, that the children themselves will follow in the footsteps of the parents thus becoming delinquents," asserted the director.

Girlstown accepts girls from infancy to the age of fifteen. Miss Anthony asserted that girls past the age of fifteen are not taken. "If a girl is in our home prior to the age of 15, she remains with us until she has finished high school and if she is college material she will commute to and from our home to Lubbock, Tex., Tech college," the director pointed out.

"If she is not college material, she will attend a business college in Lubbock, Tex., commuting to and from our home and when she has finished her higher education, then she leaves the home being mentally, physically and spiritually equipped to take her place in society as a useful constructive citizen."

"Our girls attend the public schools, the public churches, the churhc of their choice and become a part of the community of Whiteface. They lead the life of a normal child, learning to live, play and become useful citizens in a democratic form of life," declares Miss Anthony.

"Each of us knows that only through the youth of today can our ideals, principles and democracy of this nation be preserved. We are endeavoring to restore the old fashion democracy in which this nation was founded and daily do we have a simple philosophy here in this home, 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.' "

"Each of us knows that men control the economics of the nation, but that women make the living of a nation, setting the standards, principles and ideals in which generation after generation travel."

"Women of today must assume a greater responsibility than we have ever before assumed in making this a reality and providing an equal opportunity for every young girl to have her inherent rights of love, an education religious freedom, of being a normal child and in a normal home so far as is humanly possible."

There is a vital need at the present for additional buildings to take care of the applications received daily by Girlstown and plans are being made to obtain more facilities, but it takes contributions, the director stated.

"Contributions coming in the home, after we achieve the goal of paying the expenses here in the home by our own efforts, will go for increasing our family, adding more girls and adding more buildings. Thus in every way do we teach a girl self reliance," declared Miss Anthony.

"Our girls are taught every phase in the art of home making and they are taught by experience. In other words our girls cook, sew, plan menus, budget the kitchen for a week, they are responsible for their own rooms. Each girl becomes a member of a 4-H Club and as they grow older then they become members of the future homemakers of America.

"Our girls plant a garden, they work the garden, they can the produce. They raise chickens and turn out about 200 fryers every six weeks. We have secured the dead rights to a 1,425 acre ranch and girls are learning to take care of cattle, and we are trying to stock the ranch with 100 head of cattle. We are trying in every way possible to secure cattle through donations from various ranches.

"We feel that by late fall, with all of us working, that we will have 100 head and the income from the sale of these commercial cattle that graze on the ranch will certainly go a long way to paying the actual operating expenses of this home. Then too, we are trying to build a dairy herd so that we can sell milk, butter, eggs and add to the sale of the cattle, and in this way become self sustaining so far as is humanly possible," states Miss Anthony.

Miss Anthony worked for ten years on the plans of Girlstown before she opened the home and during that period of time she saved money in order to start Girlstown. She says, "I have been called foolish for opening the home without financial backing, but the foundation of this home is faith, faith in the supreme being and in every way is this home operated in an acceptable manner unto him, to the best of my ability."

Marine Corps Celebrates 176 Birthday

Marines throughout the world celebrating the 176th anniversary of the U. S. Marine Corps are receiving congratulations form Gen. C. B. Cates, commandant of the Marine Corps.

The local Marine recruiting office received the following letter from General Cates, in recognition of the anniversry.

"During the past year another brilliant chapter has been written into the history of our corps by those Marines who have fought so valiantly and died so honorably in Korea. To those men, all ranks join me in a well deserved salute.

"The Marine Corps is not unmindful of the significant contrirution made by our reserve components to the Marine Corp's efforts during the present emergency. We have full appreciation of the great sacrifice made by these men and women. As they return to their civilian pursuits, they take with them the sincere best wishes of their fellow Marines for much success and happiness in all future endeavors. Such a demonstration of comradship is father to the proud motto, 'Once a Marine, always a Marine.'

"On the happy occasion of the 176th anniversary of the founding of our corps, I am genuinely pleased to extend my hearty congratulations and felicitations to all Marines wherever you may be."

Notebook

New York, —(AP)— The thing a woman wants least from any man is his advice on how she should treat her husband.

Discovering this odd trait of feminine psychology has put me in dutch with a lot of lady readers.

A woman will go to a man today to design her a dress or a new hair-do. She will ask his advice about the best stocks and bonds to invest her cash in. She will welcome—or at least listen to—male views on any subject in the world from how pretty she is to what a graceful carriage she has.

But let a poor hapless outside man tell her how to treat the guy in her life—and she bares her fangs in a storm of vowels and consonants. On the subject of how to handle her own chunk of manly real estate she wants to remain sole authority.

This dismal conviction arises from a mistake I made recently. The mistake lay in writing an article on "How To Spoil A Husband." My thesis was that a lot of American wives wanted to spoil their husbands, but had forgotten how. I understood to tell them—but never again.

In the course of my little essay I made the remark that a wife might greet her husband with his houseslippers in her teeth when he came home after a hard day over his hot desk at the office.

That waggish observation has landed me in the doghouse. For one thing, my own Ozark bride, Frances, happened to read the article.

"What you don't know about women, Rover, would fill an emptier head than yours," she began—and went on from there. It turned out to be a one-way conversation. Her way.

Then the letters begin to come in. The ladies across the land wanted to know whether I thought they ought to wear dog collars, too.

(Editors note: They're cheaper than mink scarfs.)

A wife wrote:

"We will gladly greet our husband with his slippers dangling from our mouths, if we are allowed to carry our dog manners a trifle further when he becomes slightly unreasonable.

"But what makes you think that Momma has been sipping tea out of a golden cup ever since he left?"

She said that what threatened to drive most young mothers to drink was this: To spend a Herculean day mopping, dusting, washing, ironing, and cooking — and then to have friend husband greet her at eventide thusly:

"Hello, dear wife, why do YOU look so tired?"

"And you say that we ought to get our own coats out of the closet and put them on all by ourselves, for a change, on the nights we go out! Well, Mr. Husband won't get a stiff arm from helping his wife scramble into her coat once every two months."

All right, ladies, I was wrong. It isn't the husbands who need to be spoiled. Someone ought to tell them how to spoil wives — their own, naturally.

PLAN HOMECOMING

Jonesville, Nov. 10.—(Special)—Block High School in Jonesville is making ready for its homecoming observance on November 16. A parade will be held on the streets of Jonesville Friday afternoon, with floats entered by various school and civic groups to compete for prizes. One float will carry the homecoming queen and her court. On Friday night, the Block Bears will play Columbia.

DEMOCRACY TO BE THEME TALK

Outstanding High School Students To Speak On Radio Program

An outstanding student from Neville High School, Ouachita Parish High School and St. Matthews High School will each present a five minute script entitled "I Speak For Democracy" before the Monroe - West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce at its luncheon meeting Monday. The program is also scheduled for broadcast over radio station KNOE.

The Voice of Democracy contest, sponsored by the nation's broadcasters, radio and television manufacturers and dealers and the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, selects from the three runners-up a city winner. The contest is now in its 5th year, and the city winner's transcription will be sent to Baton Rouge for consideration in the state contest finals. The state winner is entered in the National Voice of Democracy contest, from which four equal winners will be chosen.

Three prominent Twin City citizens have been chosen by the Jaycees to judge this year's contest.

The success of the contest last year has brought fine public school response this year. More than one million high school students in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades of the 29,000 public, private and parochial schools throughout the United States and its territories were attracted to the project last year.

The four national winners will receive $500 college scholarship checks and a week - long all - expense trip to Washington, D. C.

PUBLIC FORUM

Editor, News-Star—World,
Monroe, La.
Dear Sir:

Will you allow me a little space in your column to say a few words in regard to Mrs. Elma Stuart's letter of October 20 concerning politics in the schools. I thoroughly agree with her that it is time for the good people of ward 6 to come together and get politics out of the school and give jobs to persons who need them.

I have known Mrs. Stuart for a number of years and I do know that she needs the job. Her husband has been unable to work for five years, and I know she is as well qualified as anyone to hold a job in the cafeteria. I can't see the idea of employing women who have able-bodied husbands and depriving Mrs. Stuart of a right to earn a living. Other employes in the cafeteria are women whose husbands are employed and they are not in such need of work as is Mrs. Stuart.

Mrs. Stuart is a woman who is ever willing and ready to help out in her community. As a citizen and voter in ward 6 I would like to see places filled by persons who are capable and who are in need of employment regardless of how they may line up politically.

Another Story Of—

The Men Behind The Desks

Ernest C. Richard, 50, is president and manager of Nesbitt Bottling Co., Inc., located at 108 Jackson street.

Born in Elberton, Ga., Mr. Richard settled in Monroe approximately four years ago when he acquired a Nesbitt Bottling Co. franchise from the Nesbitt Fruit Product Co. Inc., of Los Angeles, Calif., and established Nesbitt Bottling here in January, 1948.

After receiving his bachelor of science degree from Georgia Tech University and his L. L. B. (law) degree from Cumberland University, Tenn., Mr. Richard maintained a law practice for a number of years before his reserve commission made it expedient that he should enter active service.

Mr. Richard served in the armed forces three years during World War II in the African and European theatres of war.

He and his wife, the former Elizabeth Garner reside at 910 St. John street. They have one daughter, Caroline, who is Mrs. Ralph Smith.

Mr. Richard attends the First Methodist Church, is a past member of the Hermitage Club in Nashville, Tenn., an alumnus of the Sigma Chi fraternity, and a past member of the American and Tennessee Institute of Electrical Engineers and Bar Association.

He is principally interested in golf and baseball, in the line of sports.

There are approximately 10 persons employed by Mr. Richard at Nesbitt Bottling Co. Inc.

Skater's Weekly Story from GUS KALLIO ROLLER RINK — This Week's Feature Is STELLA LILLO

I began skating when I was eight years old. Gus' is the first skating rink that I went to. Skating is one of my favorite sports. I like to go to Gus' because it is a nice place to skate and it's a place where you enjoy meeting and making new friends. The rink is run by strict rules and a place where you feel safe and welcome. Old Gus sure makes a good teacher to every skater.

COMING TO PARAMOUNT

Humphrey Bogart and torrid Marta Toren star with Lee J. Cobb in "Sirocco", a story laid in the land beyond Casablanca in Damascus . . . where day begins when the sun goes down. "Sirocco" starts a four-day engagement at the Paramount Wednesday.

Bogart Goes Past Casablanca For Adventure In New Film 'Sirocco'

Marta Toren And Lee J. Cobb Also Starred In Picture Coming Soon

Humphrey Bogart stars in Columbia Pictures' "Sirocco," coming Wednesday to the Paramount. Marta Toren and Lee J. Cobb are also starred in the drama which features Everett Sloane, Gerald Mohr and Zero Mostel. Bogart, who excels in portraying sardonic adventurers addicted to violence in the far corners of the world, has what has been hailed as his best role since the memorable "Casablanca."

In "Sirocco," Bogart plays a gun runner and black marketeer who profitably fishes in the troubled waters of the bloody French and Syrian struggle that took place in Damascus during 1925. Miss Toren is cast as a girl who can take care of herself in the land beyond Casablanca where danger haunts the streets. Cobb portrays a French intelligence officer seeking to bring peace to the bullet-torn city.

The war-inspired conflict that develops between Bogart and Cobb is intensified by their rivalry for Miss Toren, a torrid temptress, destiny in a low-cut gown. Against the background of love and hate which is "Sirocco," Bogart operates as a man who gets what he wants in a world where day begins after dark. When Cobb is imprisoned during a hopeless peace mission to the Syrians' underground hideout, Bogart becomes involved in the French officer's rescue, despite his deeprooted opposition to all authority.

As in practically all of Bogart's films, the locale is one of the main "actors," heightening the suspense and drama of "Siricco." The teeming Damascus streets, flaring with violence and sudden death, are said to intensify the emotional impact of the love affair between Bogart and Miss Toren, with the bitter antagonism existing between Bogart and Cobb. Sloane plays a ruthless French general; Mohr is cast as Cobb's brother officer, and Mostel, erstwhile comedian, is seen in the colorful role of a treacherous black marketeer.

"Sirocco" was written for the screen by A. I. Bezzerides and Hans Jacoby from the novel, "Coup de Grace," by Joseph Kessel. Curtis Bernhardt directed this Santana Production for producer Robert Lord.

DOBBIN DISAPPEARING

Washington —(AP)— Dobbin's popularity definitely appears to be waning—even in Minnesota's Otter Tail County.

Otter Tail's horse population was the heaviest of any county in the United States in the 1945 census of agriculture. The census bureau reported here that between 1945 and 1950, the county's horse inventory dropped from 19,399 to 10,709. Meanwhile, tractors increased from 3,939 to 6,184.

'FORCE OF ARMS' OPENING TODAY

William Holden And Nancy Olden Star In Film At Paramount

"Force of Arms," the love story of a young lieutenant and a Wac set against the activities of the daring 36th Texas infantry division and its campaign through war-torn Italy during World War II, opens at the Paramount Theatre today. William Holden, Nancy Olson and Frank Lovejoy play the key roles in the Warner Bros. drama directed by Michael Curtiz.

In the film, Holden and Lovejoy portray members of the fighting infantry outfit which slugged its way through the Italian boot in a series of bloody encounters. It is during one of their infrequent, precious leaves that Holden, as the lieutenant, meets and falls in love with the Wac, as played by Miss Olson. Movie fans will remember Bill and Nancy as the screen loveteam that scored heavily in both "Sunset Boulevard" and "Union Station."

Not without its comedy aspects, "Force of Arms" has Dick Wesson and Paul Picerni supplying the laughs and gripes of a couple of G. I.'s in the field.

Michael Curtiz, celebrating 25 years as a Warner Bros. director, handled the megaphone on "Force of Arms." Curtiz, who is regarded as an expert in this type of film, had some authoritative advice in achieving realism for the numerous battle scenes. Serving as technical advisors were Sgt. William J Crawford, Congressional Medal of Honor winner, and Capt. James J. Altieri who fought with the commando unit, Darby's Rangers. In addition, the troupe travelled to the Santa Susanna mountains in California where the terrain resembles that in which the story is set.

Gene Evans, who scored in "The Steel Helmet," heads the featured cast with Dick Wesson, Paul Picerni and Ron Hagerthy.

13,000 BALES GINNED

Ferriday, La., Nov. 10. —(Special) — C. P. Seab, county agent estimated that more than 13,000 bales of cotton have been ginned this season in Concordia parish and ginners expect to process about 2,000 more. About 1,000 bales still remain in the fields of the parish. Some 15,000 bales from out of the parish were ginned. Seab estimated that Concordia parish had produced about 13,500 bales. Freezing weather of the past week has defoliated the cotton which will enable the planters to use mechanical pickers to advantage as soon as the ground dries.

DOROTHY DIX

Self-Consciousness

Group Activities Help Overcome Drawback

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 17 and just beginning college. I have a definite lack of self-confidence, easily seen in the way I act toward people. Sometimes I feel that it may be due to the fact that I am not pretty but just average in looks. My self-consciousness plagued me all through high school, and I would love to go through college with a little more confidence.

CAROL

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: Self-consciousness can be overcome, and while a special course is most helpful in overcoming the difficulty, you can do it alone! First of all, don't stay on the sidelines! Get into every school activity you can and get in to work—not act as a spectator. Most helpful in your case would be group athletics, dramatic or singing clubs, dancing classes. Don't be apologetic if your work in these activities is not the best; begin by acting confident and the attitude will soon be second nature.

ACCEPT RESPONSIBILITY

Be willing to accept responsibility! If a call for workers goes out from one of the groups you belong to, raise your hand high. You'll be scared stiff at the first job or two, but the ease with which you gain confidence will be astounding.

Don't hold back because of this "I'm not pretty" nonsense. Neither are most girls. That's why the pretty ones stand out. Good looks are, most certainly, a wonderful asset, but lack of them is not an insurmountable difficulty. Study the faces of many women in the news—even those of women to whom the word "glamorous" is often applied. They are not pretty, but perfect grooming, poise and self-confidence give them an air that mere prettiness could never emulate.

Lastly, stop thinking of yourself and consider the other person, no matter who he or she may be. Self-consciousness, after all, is only thinking too much of ourselves and not enough of others. When talking to someone, don't worry about the impression you're making. Give all your attention to what your vis-a-vis is saying; be interested, be impressed. Self-consciousness? Why, the very idea! Who said you had it?

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 47 and my wife is 21. We have been married eleven months and she has left me. She claims she is lonesome for her mother and home. She has gone out with me several times since she left.

H. S.

ANSWER: It is very doubtful if your wife could be completely happy with a husband old enough to be her father. Whether she is conscious of the cause for her dissatisfaction or not, it is there, and to her it took the obvious form of homesickness. I cannot prophesy the outcome of your problem, but for the time being, let your wife remain with her mother and see if her affection for you is strong enough to bring about a resumption of your married life. Don't force her to come home; be patient. Give her a chance to resolve the future.

Dave Garroway asking—

"Do you know what really causes perspiration odor?"

It's not perspiration itself . . . the normal, healthy kind has no odor. The odor is caused by little skin bacteria. Everybody has 'em.

And Dial Soap removes them. So odor just never gets started, anyplace on your body. A pretty remarkable thing . . . something no ordinary soap can do for you, even if you wash and wash with it. But Dial Soap can because it contains the remarkable ingredient AT-7 (hexachlorophene).

And it's a wonderful feeling, using Dial in your daily bath . . . covering yourself with that creamy, good clean-smelling lather. Plus knowing that by removing the basic cause, Dial stops odor before it starts . . . stops it not just underarm, but all over your body, all through the busiest day. Nice feeling, that. And one that's yours the day you start using Dial Soap regularly.

P. S. Like to invite you to "DIAL DAVE GARROWAY", our radio show weekday mornings over your local NBC station. Look up our time in your newspaper. And . . . Peace . . .

"MINGUS ALEXANDER IN CITY. GIVES VIEWS ON ECONOMIC SITUATION." MUH-I COULD GIVE HIM A FEW

THE BIRTH OF A BRIGHT IDEA

WHO WAS THAT CALLIN' AT THIS HOUR, WILLIE?

MR ALEXANDER, THE MULTI-MILLIONAIRE ECONOMIST, HE WISHES TO CONSULT WITH ME IN HIS SUITE AT THE RITZ.

WELL, MOON, IT WORKED BOY, YOU REALLY GOT BRAINS!

YEH- I GOT BRAINS I AIN'T EVER USED

SET DOWN

WILLIE KNOWS NOTHING ABOUT BIG BUSINESS. WHAT MR. ALEXANDER NEEDS IS A WOMAN'S INTUITION AND ADVICE.

WELL?

I AM MRS. WM. P MULLINS. YOU PHONED MY HUSBAND YOU WANTED TO SEE HIM, DIDN'T YOU?

NO! AND I DON'T WANT TO SEE YOU EITHER!

WELL, YOU NEEDN'T GET SO CRABBY ABOUT IT

HUMPH! I'M BEGINNING TO SEE THROUGH IT ALL NOW.

NAW, UNCLE WILLIE AIN'T HOME YET

WELL, I'LL GO LOOK FOR HIM.

JEST A MINUTE! DON'T KNOCK TH' DOOR DOWN.

BAM! BAM! BAM!

MAMIE, DIDN'T I JEST TELL YOU UNCLE WILLIE WASN'T HOME?

DON'T BE SILLY. THIS HERE'S YER UNCLE WILLIE.

SMILIN' JACK

WHEN JACK SAW THE RED JET APPROACHING HIM··· HE WAS FORTUNATELY NEARING A HIGH CLOUD STRATUM···

···HE SHOVED THE THROTTLE TO THE FIREWALL AND PUT THE OLD PLANE IN A FAST, STEEP CLIMB···

JACK KEPT FLYING BLIND AND HELD A COURSE IN THE GENERAL DIRECTION OF THE NORTH POLE!

LOOK, JOK- WE WON'T FREEZE··· JUS' BEFORE WE TOOK OFF···

--I HAD ONE OF MY ANTI-RED FRIENDS SMUGGLE PARKAS, MUKLUKS AND PROVISIONS ABOARD FOR US!

KAMEELEON, YOU ARE AMAZING! YOU THINK OF EVERYTHING!

A FEW HOURS LATER

LOOK, KAMEELEON, WE FINALLY BUSTED OUT OF THE CLOUD STRATUM··· WE MUST BE OVER TH' ARCTIC OCEAN!

HOW CAN YOU TELL, JOK? I DON'T SEE ANY WATER!

WELL, USUALLY BY NOVEMBER MOST OF THE ARCTIC OCEAN IS FROZEN!

EVEN IN SUMMER, TH' ARCTIC ICE PACK ONLY BREAKS UP PARTIALLY!

HOW CAN YOU TELL EEF ZAT EES SNOW-COVERED LAND OR ARCTIC OCEAN?

WELL, IT'S VERY FLAT··· EXCEPT FOR OCCASIONAL PRESSURE RIDGES···

···TH' MOVING CURRENTS BELOW CAUSE TH' ICE-PACK TO CRACK AND···

···THEN, PRESSURE RIDGES BUILD UP WHEN TH' SHIFTING ICE GRINDS ITSELF TOGETHER AGAIN!

···UNCASE OUR SEXTANT AND OPEN TH' TOP HATCH! WE'LL SHOOT TH' SUN WHILE WE CAN!

THE SUN DOESN'T STAY UP LONG IN THIS NORTHERN LATITUDE AT THIS TIME OF THE YEAR!

···WE CAN USE TH' PRESSURE RIDGES AS CHECK POINTS BELOW, WHILE WE'RE USING OUR SEXTANT!

···WE CAN WORK OUT OUR NAVIGATIONAL PROBLEM AND ESTABLISH A HEADING FOR ALASKA···

ZACK MOSLEY

···IT'S GOOD THAT WE HAVE A SEXTANT!

···IF WE HAD TO RELY ENTIRELY ON THIS TRICKY MAGNETIC COMPASS, WE MIGHT EVEN END UP BEHIND TH' IRON CURTAIN AGAIN!

JOK, I HAVE SAD NEWS··· ONE OF ZE BULLETS ZAT PIERCED OUR PLANE AS WE ESCAPED HAS RUINED OUR SEXTANT!

STEVE CANYON

by MILTON CANIFF

THERE IT IS, MAJOR CANYON — THE MIRACLE DRUG OF ALL TIME MUST HAVE BEEN USED ON GRENALDI — HE'S COMING BACK AS OPERATIONS OFFICER!

AFTER YOUR TROUBLE-SHOOTING HITCH ON EEL ISLAND, YOU'LL BE ELIGIBLE FOR RETIREMENT ON FULL PAY!

THE COLONEL INDEX IS ILL, MAJOR CANYON, SOR... BUT MADAME MRS. INDEX WILL SEE YOU...

HELLO, DELTA

HI, STEVE, COME IN!

SAM IS SO GRATEFUL TO YOU FOR SAVING MY NECK, AND SO EMBARRASSED THAT YOU WON'T PRESS CHARGES FOR HIS SOCKING YOU, THAT IT MIGHT BE BETTER IF YOU DON'T SEE HIM UNTIL HE IS MORE COMPOSED...

MAYBE SO — BUT I HAVE MY ORDERS — MY JOB HERE IS FINISHED!

OH!... WELL, MAYBE IT'S BETTER THAT WAY...

WHAT DO YOU MEAN?

LET'S FACE IT, STEVENSON... I AM GRATEFUL TO YOU, ALSO...

— AND IT WOULDN'T DO FOR THE COLONEL'S LADY TO BE TOO OBLIGED TO ONE OF THE STAFF OFFICERS, WOULD IT?

THAT, I TAKE IT, IS MY CLUE TO SLOWLY DRIFT AWAY INTO THE SUNSET...

I THINK SAM WOULD CONSIDER IT ONLY FITTING IF YOU KISSED ME GOODBYE!

...STEVE WON'T FORGET THIS ARMISTICE DAY... BUT THE TROUBLE WITH ARMISTICES IS THAT SO OFTEN THE PARTIES OPEN UP AT EACH OTHER AGAIN THE NEXT TIME THEY MEET...

MEANWHILE = AT MAUMEE UNIVERSITY BACK IN THE UNITED STATES...

MRS. OLSON, WE'RE AFRAID TO HAVE THE PROFESSOR ALONE WHILE HE'S WORKING ON HIS ASSIGNMENT FOR THE AIR FORCE... IF WE PLACED AN OFFICER ON THE CAMPUS, COULD YOU PRETEND TO HAVE DATES WITH HIM SO HE COULD GO TO YOUR OFFICE REGULARLY BECAUSE YOU ARE THE PROFESSOR'S SECRETARY?

HEY, WAIT! I'M NO NATHAN HALE!

The PHANTOM

By LEE FALK and WILSON McCOY

I'M BUSY, DEVIL. YOU NEED EXERCISE. TAKE A RUN. BE BACK BY DARK.

BEGINNING: TALE OF DEVIL

DEVIL, THE PHANTOM'S MIGHTY WOLF-DOG, KEEN IN THE WAYS OF MEN AND THE JUNGLE, WITH ALMOST HUMAN INTELLIGENCE~

AFRAID OF NOTHING, OBEDIENT ONLY TO THE PHANTOM, DEVIL IS KNOWN AND LOVED BY ALL JUNGLE FOLK~~

THE BEATERS HAVE SIGHTED NO TIGER, HIGHNESS, BUT THEY REPORT WILD BOAR NEARBY.

I DON'T WANT WILD BOAR. I WANT TIGER!

LOOK, DADDY!

NEARBY, A HIGHLANDS PRINCE IS ON A TIGER SHOOT~~

WILSON McCOY 11-11

ATTRACTED BY THE SOUND OF THE ELEPHANTS, DEVIL INVESTIGATES.

IS THAT A BIG DOGGIE, DADDY?

IT'S A GIANT WOLF! A RARITY IN THESE JUNGLES! WHAT A TROPHY!

BLONDIE by CHIC YOUNG

BLONDIE, I'M IN JUST THE MOOD FOR ONE OF YOUR WONDERFUL UPSIDE-DOWN PINEAPPLE CAKES

I'D BAKE THE CAKE, BUT THERE'S NOT AN EGG IN THE HOUSE

DON'T WORRY, I'LL GO NEXT DOOR AND BORROW ONE FROM THE WOODLEYS

HERB, MAY I BORROW AN ···

DAGWOOD -- YOU'RE JUST THE MAN I WANT TO SEE -- COME IN

MY WIFE IS HAVING A FURNITURE-MOVING SPREE AND I NEED HELP

THIS WAY, BOYS

AFTER YOU BRING THE SOFA DOWNSTAIRS, YOU CAN MOVE THE PIANO

THANKS, DAGWOOD -- YOU'RE A PAL··· HERE'S YOUR EGG -- NOW, DON'T FORGET TO RETURN IT

THE EGG MAN CAME WHILE YOU WERE NEXT DOOR AND I HAVE ALL THE EGGS I NEED

I'LL RETURN HIS EGG -- I DON'T WANT TO BE OBLIGATED TO THAT GUY

HERE'S YOUR EGG···

THANKS, DAGWOOD -- COME IN -- I NEED YOU AGAIN

TOOTSIE DECIDED SHE LIKED THE FURNITURE THE WAY IT WAS AND NOW WE HAVE TO MOVE IT ALL BACK

UGH UGH

I NEVER WAS SO MAD IN ALL MY LIFE!

SLAM

CLUNK

LOOK! YOU RUINED THE CAKE BY SLAMMING THE DOOR!

HOW CAN YOU BE SO TIRED TODAY? ALL YOU DID WAS BORROW ONE LITTLE EGG!

TIM TYLER'S LUCK

BY LYMAN YOUNG

I-I DON'T LIKE THE WAY THAT GUY IS SWINGING THAT TORCH AT US, TIM!

I-I AM GLAD HE DIDN'T BURN US, SPUD!

HE'S HEADING FOR A CAVE UNDER THAT LEDGE!

COME! WE GO!

I GUESS THE LEADER WANTS US TO FOLLOW THE WITCH DOCTOR!

IT'S LIGHT IN THIS PASSAGE-WAY!

WE'RE ON THE RIGHT TRACK! THE LIGHT IS COMING FROM SMALL MOUNDS OF THE LUMINOUS ORE WE ARE LOOKING FOR!

WE'VE STOPPED AND OUR FEATHERED CAPTORS ARE LEAVING US!...

AND DIFFERENT GUARDS ARE TAKING THEIR PLACE!

WHAT AN EERIE ROOM THIS IS! LOOK AT THAT BIG EAGLE CARVED OVER THE DOORWAY!

AND THE WITCH DOCTOR IS DOING A CRAZY DANCE ON THAT STONE STAGE IN THE CENTER OF THE ROOM!

THE WITCH DOCTOR HAS STOPPED DANCING AND IS BOWING TOWARD SOMEBODY COMING THROUGH THE DOORWAY!

IT-IT MUST BE THE CHIEF-- AND A GIRL IS WITH HIM!

FLASH GORDON ..... by Mac Raboy and Don Moore

IN THE QUEEN'S PALACE ON MARS, FLASH FOILS AN INTRUDER'S ATTEMPT TO FASTEN ON HIS HEAD A SLAVE-HELMET WHICH WOULD RENDER HIM UNABLE TO REFUSE QUEEN MENTA'S EVERY ORDER. BUT SUDDENLY FLASH IS ATTACKED FROM BEHIND BY HIS OWN CO-PILOT, LINC!

AFTER A MOMENT OF STUNNED SURPRISE, FLASH NOTICES THAT LINC IS WEARING A SLAVE-HELMET AND REALIZES THAT HIS YOUNG AIDE IS POWERLESS TO RESIST THE ORDERS OF HIS MARTIAN MASTERS. AGAINST HIS WILL, FLASH IS FORCED TO KNOCK LINC OUT.

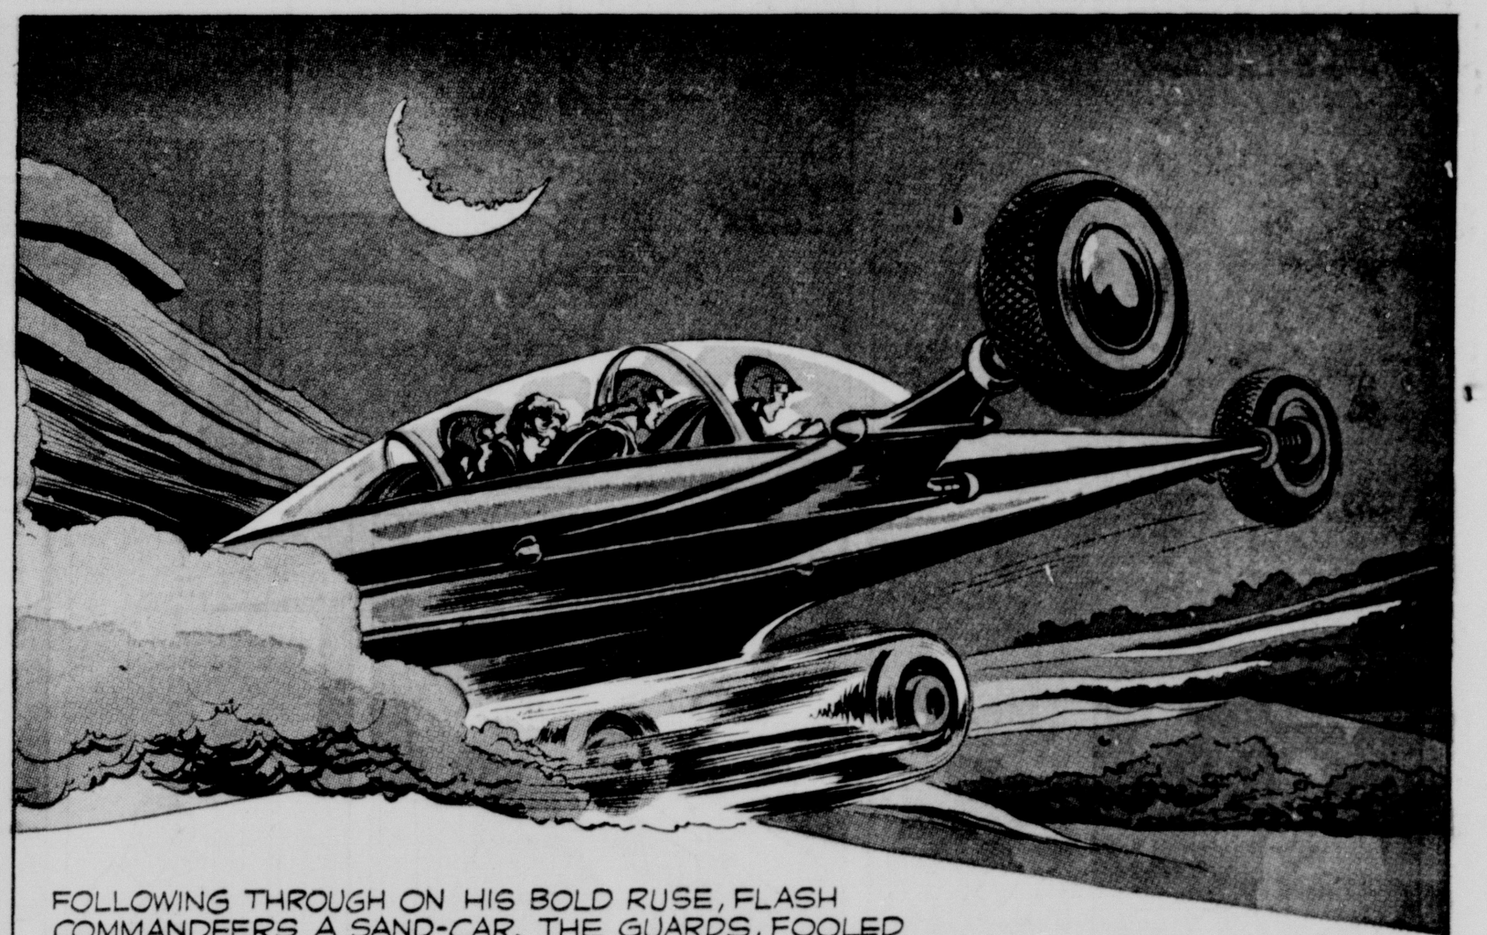

FLASH SNATCHES THE SLAVE-HELMET FROM THE PROSTRATE LINC'S HEAD AND RIPS OUT THE MECHANISM. "WHAT HAPPENED?" LINC ASKS IN A DAZE. "I DREAMED I WAS A SLAVE OF QUEEN MENTA!" FLASH ANSWERS TENSELY: "YOU WERE! BUT THAT'S OVER NOW... COME ON, WE'VE GOT WORK TO DO!"

WEARING SLAVE-HELMETS FROM WHICH THE MECHANISM HAS BEEN REMOVED, THE EARTH PEOPLE SECURE WEAPONS BY PRETENDING TO BE ACTING UNDER ORDERS FROM QUEEN MENTA AND GAIN ENTRANCE TO THE QUEEN'S QUARTERS. "YOU SEE," FLASH TELLS MENTA, "YOUR SLAVE HELMETS HAVE NO EFFECT ON EARTHMEN... YOU'RE OUR PRISONER!"

Copr. 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

FOLLOWING THROUGH ON HIS BOLD RUSE, FLASH COMMANDEERS A SAND-CAR. THE GUARDS, FOOLED BY THE SLAVE-HELMETS, ARE COMPLETELY UNAWARE THAT THEIR QUEEN IS A CAPTIVE OF THE EARTH PEOPLE. THE SAND-CAR ROARS ACROSS THE MARTIAN DESERT HEADED FOR THE ROCKET-PORT... AND ESCAPE!

NEXT WEEK – SAND-BLIZZARD

SCIENTIFIC TESTS PROVE THAT IN 7 OUT OF 10 CASES, COLGATE'S INSTANTLY STOPS BAD BREATH THAT ORIGINATES IN THE MOUTH. AND NO OTHER TOOTHPASTE DOES A BETTER JOB OF CLEANING TEETH. COLGATE'S CLEANS TEETH THOROUGHLY AND SAFELY – BRINGS OUT THEIR NATURAL SPARKLE AND BEAUTY. COLGATE'S IS FAMOUS FOR ITS WONDERFUL WAKE-UP FLAVOR, TOO!

READER'S DIGEST Reported The Same Research Which Proves That Brushing Teeth Right After Eating with

STOPS TOOTH DECAY BEST

Most Thoroughly Proved and Accepted Home Method Of Oral Hygiene Known Today!

Reader's Digest recently reported the very same research which proves that the Colgate way of brushing teeth right after eating stops tooth decay best! The most thoroughly proved and accepted home method of oral hygiene known today!

Yes, and two years' research showed the Colgate way stopped more decay for more people than ever before reported in all dentifrice history! No other dentifrice—ammoniated or not—offers such proof—the most conclusive proof ever reported for a dentifrice of any type!

YOU SHOULD KNOW! Colgate's, while not mentioned by name, was the one and only toothpaste used in the scientific research on tooth decay recently reported in Reader's Digest.
